Research In The History Of Economic Thought And Methodology Volume 18 American Economics:

Research in the History of Economic Thought and Methodology Warren J. Samuels, Donald F. Koch, Jeff Biddle, 1989 Volume 25 C commences a series of class notes taken at Northwestern and Chicago during the period 1964-1967. The notes from courses at Northwestern are Robert Clower's course on economic theory and Frank Fetter's course on monetary institutions and policies. The notes from Chicago include George Stigler's course on industrial organization, Merton Miller's course on corporate finance and Daniel Orr's course on the theory of the firm. Also included are Warren Samuels' notes from James Earley's courses on economic theory and on money, income and price given at Wisconsin during 1954-1955 and Samuels's notes from a faculty seminar on myth, theology and society given by Robert T. Anderson at Michigan State University in 1974. The series presents review essays, multiple reviews and mini symposia on new works in this field. Volumes are broad in scope. The series fills a substantial gap in this field.

Documents on and from the History of Economic Thought and Methodology Warren J. Samuels, Jeff E. Biddle, Ross B. Emmett, 2008-06-16. Contains five sets of lectures taken by Glenn Johnson as a doctoral student in economics at the University of Chicago during 1946-7. This volume also includes notes by Mark Ladenson at Northwestern and from a faculty seminar at MSU on comparative method.

The Elgar Companion to the Chicago School of Economics Ross B. Emmett, 2010-01-01. Many know the Chicago School of Economics and its association with Milton Friedman, George Stigler, Ronald Coase and Gary Becker. But few know the School's history and the full scope of its scholarship. In this Companion, leading scholars examine its history and key figures as well as provide surveys of the School's contributions to central aspects of economics including price theory, monetary theory, labor and economic history. The volume examines the School's traditions of applied welfare theory and law and economics while providing a glimpse into emerging research on Chicago's role in the development of neoliberalism. A companion in the true sense of the word, this volume surveys a wide body of Chicago economic studies and guides readers carefully through each. The Companion offers biographies of leading Chicago economists and evaluations of the School's connection to approaches to economics that draw from and complement the School, including the Virginia School and the work of Armen Alchian and Edward Lazear. Moreover, this book is a first in many respects as it analyzes the interconnections of the Chicago School's theory, methodology and policy and considers by what means and ideas the School's policy framework is driven. The breadth and depth of the insights presented here will appeal especially to students and scholars of economics and historians interested in economics, social science and applied public policy.

The Historiography of Economics A.W. Bob Coats, 2013-10-08. This is the third and final volume of collected papers of A.W. Bob Coats. Coats began to collect material for this volume in the years following the publication of the second volume in 1993 but sadly died in 2007 before the work was completed. The volume has now been completed under the editorship of Roger Backhouse and Bruce Caldwell. Along with his articles, the compilation of the volume also reflects Coats' interest in and commitment to book reviews, a selection of which have been chosen for inclusion The book also includes a comprehensive bibliography In addition to a preface by Backhouse and Caldwell the volume also reproduces the obituary that was published in History of Political Economy a memoir published in 1996 and an interview with Grant Fleming published the previous year Together the introductory materials articles and reviews serve as a fitting tribute to the body of work of Bob Coats
