Shackelford, Viviana A. Weekes-Shackelford, 2012-08-23 This volume synthesizes the theoretical and empirical work of leading scholars in the evolutionary sciences to produce an extensive and authoritative review of this literature The Trashing of Margaret Mead Paul Shankman, 2009-12-03 In 1928 Margaret Mead published Coming of Age in Samoa a fascinating study of the lives of adolescent girls that transformed Mead herself into an academic celebrity In 1983 anthropologist Derek Freeman published a scathing critique of Mead's Samoan research badly damaging her reputation Resonating beyond academic circles his case against Mead tapped into important public concerns of the 1980s including sexual permissiveness cultural relativism and the nature nurture debate In venues from the New York Times to the TV show Donahue Freeman argued that Mead had been hoaxed by Samoans whose innocent lies she took at face value In The Trashing of Margaret Mead Paul Shankman explores the many dimensions of the Mead Freeman controversy as it developed publicly and as it played out privately including the personal relationships professional rivalries and larger than life personalities that drove it Providing a critical perspective on Freeman's arguments Shankman reviews key questions about Samoan sexuality the alleged hoaxing of Mead and the meaning of the controversy Why were Freeman's arguments so readily accepted by pundits outside the field of anthropology What did Samoans themselves think Can Mead's reputation be salvaged from the quicksand of controversy Written in an engaging clear style and based on a careful review of the evidence The Trashing of Margaret Mead illuminates questions of enduring significance to the academy and beyond 2010

Distinguished Lecturer in Anthropology at the American Museum of Natural History The Trashing of Margaret Mead reminds readers of the pitfalls of academia It urges scholars to avoid personal attacks and to engage in healthy debate The book redeems Mead while also redeeming the field of anthropology By showing the uniqueness of the Mead Freeman case

Shankman places his continued confidence in academia scholars and the field of anthropology H Net Reviews Crisis in Sociology Joseph Lopreato, Timothy Crippen, 2018-02-06 Crisis in Sociology presents a compelling portrait of sociology's current troubles and proposes a controversial remedy In the authors' view sociology's crisis has deep roots traceable to the over ambitious sweep of the discipline's founders Generations of sociologists have failed to focus effectively on the tasks necessary to build a social science The authors see sociology's most disabling flaw in the failure to discover even a single general law or principle This makes it impossible to systematically organize empirical observations guide inquiry by suggesting falsifiable hypotheses or form the core of a genuinely cumulative body of knowledge Absent such a theoretical tool sociology can aspire to little more than an amorphous mass of hunches and disconnected facts The condition engenders confusion and unproductive debate It invites fragmentation and predation by applied social disciplines such as business administration criminal justice social work and urban studies Even more dangerous are incursions by prestigious social sciences and by branches of evolutionary biology that constitute the frontier of the current revolution in behavioral science Lopreato and Crippen argue that unless sociology takes into account central developments in evolutionary science it will not survive as an academic discipline Crisis in Sociology argues that participation in the new social science exemplified by thriving new fields such as evolutionary psychology will help to build a vigorous scientific sociology The authors analyze research on such subjects as sex roles social stratification and ethnic conflict showing how otherwise disconnected features of the sociological landscape can in fact contribute to a theoretically coherent and cumulative body of knowledge

A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa Roy Richard Grinker, Stephen C. Lubkemann, Christopher B. Steiner, Euclides Gonçalves, 2019-02-06

An essential collection of scholarly essays on the anthropology of Africa offering a thorough introduction to the most important topics in this evolving and diverse field of study. The study of the cultures of Africa has been central to the methodological and theoretical development of anthropology as a discipline since the late 19th century. As the anthropology of Africa has emerged as a distinct field of study, anthropologists working in this tradition have strived to build a disciplinary conversation that recognizes the diversity and complexity of modern and ancient African cultures while acknowledging the effects of historical anthropology on the present and future of the field of study. A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa is a collection of insightful essays covering the key questions and subjects in the contemporary anthropology of Africa with a key focus on addressing the topics that define the contemporary discipline. Written and edited by a team of leading cultural anthropologists, it is an ideal introduction to the most important topics in the field, both those that have consistently been a part of the critical dialogue and those that have emerged as the central questions of the discipline's future. Beginning with essays on the enduring topics in the study of African cultures, A Companion to the Anthropology of Africa provides a foundation in the contemporary critical approach to subjects of longstanding interest. With these subjects as a groundwork, later essays address decolonization, the postcolonial experience, and questions of modern identity and definition, providing representation of the diverse thinking and scholarship in the modern anthropology of Africa.
