Magic Land A Guide To South American Bea Volume 1:

Magic Lands John M. Findlay, 1993-09-22 The American West conjures up images of pastoral tranquility and wide open spaces but by 1970 the Far West was the most urbanized section of the country Exploring four intriguing cityscapes Disneyland Stanford Industrial Park Sun City and the 1962 Seattle World's Fair John Findlay shows how each created a sense of cohesion and sustained people's belief in their superior urban environment This first book length study of the urban West after 1940 argues that Westerners deliberately tried to build cities that differed radically from their eastern counterparts In 1954 Walt Disney began building the world's first theme park using Hollywood's movie making techniques The creators of Stanford Industrial Park were more hesitant in their approach to a conceptually organized environment but by the mid 1960s the Park was the nation's prototypical research park and the intellectual downtown for the high technology region that became Silicon Valley In 1960 on the outskirts of Phoenix Del E Webb built Sun City the largest most influential retirement community in the United States Another innovative cityscape arose from the 1962 Seattle World's Fair and provided a futuristic somewhat fanciful vision of modern life These four became magic lands that provided an antidote to the apparent chaos of their respective urban milieus Exemplars of a new lifestyle they are landmarks on the changing cultural landscape of postwar America

Spanish America, Its Romance, Reality and Future, Volume 1 (Illustrations) Charles Reginald Enock, 2015-01-08 The purpose of this work is twofold to afford a broad survey of the Latin American countries with the colour and interest which so strongly characterizes this half of the New World and to offer in some degree a detailed study of the region as concerns what elsewhere I have ventured to term a science of humanity or science of corporate life whose main factors are topographical occupational or industrial and ethical or ethical economic New responsibilities are arising in our dealings and contact with foreign lands especially those whose social affairs are still backward We must beware how we regard the folk of such lands mainly as hewers of wood and drawers of water or absorbents of exported goods or producers of dividends or their lands as mainly reservoirs of raw material Elemental forces are at work in the world to day which only justice and constructive intelligence can control The English speaking peoples have wide interests and consequent responsibilities in these lands matters which are discussed in the final chapter As will be seen I have embodied many descriptive passages in this book from the various authors of the South American Series to which the present work is in a measure auxiliary
