Magnificent Derelicts A Celebration Of Older Buildings:

Magnificent Derelicts Ronald Woodall,1975 Trails to Gold Branwen Christine Patenaude,1995 The pioneer roadhouses between Clinton and Barkerville provide a living heritage of the colourful era of the Cariboo gold rush While thousands plodded toward Barkerville dreaming of pay dirt on Williams Creek always seeking a faster route to the motherlode a separate breed of settlers created the shelters that would ease their journey The trail was everchanging and when the rush was over the Cariboo Chilcotin was left with a mosaic of roadhouses and a legacy to build on These structures had their own stories tales of wild nights and human heartbreak sagas of sin and sincerity In the first volume of Trails to Gold the author described the early inns primarily south of Clinton which preceded the construction of the Cariboo Road between 1862 and 1865 This volume completes the story of the peak years of a gold rush that British Columbia will never forget

Vance,1979 Canadiana ,1976 The Beaver ,1976 Vanishing British Columbia Michael Kluckner,2011-11-01 The old buildings and historic places of British Columbia form a kind of roadside memory a tangible link with stories of settlement change and abandonment that reflect the great themes of our history With small towns declining and old rural properties changing so little of the history of these places has been recorded in museums or archives and so much of it may disappear as families disperse and memories dim More than a decade ago Michael Kluckner began painting these dots on his personal map of the province in a watercolour sketchbook In 1999 after he put a few of the sketches on his website a network of correspondents emerged that eventually led him to the family letters photo albums and memories all from a disappearing era of the province Vanishing British Columbia is a record of these places and the stories they tell It combines engaging and insightful historical commentary with over 160 of the author s original paintings It has an exceptional assortment of historic imagery including old postcards architectural plans and photographs The study of roadside memory demonstrates the visceral connection that people especially those who are part of the rural to urban diaspora of modern times have for the sites of their family memories On a grander scale this approach leads to a broader understanding of more abstract historical themes and of the province s history and culture It also presents a compelling argument for stewardship of regional history in the face of urbanization and globalization Building Research
