Mahadev Govind Ranade Socioeconomic Theory:

Ragnar Nurkse (1907-2007) Rainer Kattel, J. A. Kregel, Erik S. Reinert, 2011 Ragnar Nurkse 1907-2007 Classical Development Economics and its Relevance for Today presents a selection of papers that casts new insight on Nurkse's thought and discusses his relevance for today in light of the renewed interest in Nurkse amongst development economists. The volume also celebrates the 100th anniversary of this profoundly important thinker's birth. Encyclopaedia Eminent Thinkers (Vol. 22 : The Political Thought of Mahadev Govind Ranade) K. S. Bharathi, 1998 In Indian context

Development of Economic Ideas in India (1880-1950) Panikkanparambil Kesavan Gopalakrishnan, 1959 The Impact of Socio-economic Dualism on the Development Process T. K. Lakshman, Uma Bhosekar, 1982 History of Intellectual Culture 1/2022 Charlotte A. Lerg, Johan Östling, Jana Weiß, 2022-10-24 With concepts of participation discussed in multiple disciplines from media studies to anthropology from political sciences to sociology the first issue of the new yearbook History of Intellectual Culture HIC dedicates a thematic section to the way knowledge can and arguably must be conceptualized as participatory. Introducing and exploring participatory knowledge the volume aims to draw attention to the potential of looking at knowledge formation and circulation through a new lens and to open a dialogue about how and what concepts and theories of participation can contribute to the history of knowledge. By asking who gets to participate in defining what counts as knowledge and in deciding whose knowledge is circulated modes of participation enter into the examination of knowledge on various levels and within multiple cultural contexts. The articles in this volume attest to the great variety of approaches contexts and interpretations of participatory knowledge from the sociological projects of the Frankfurt School to the Uppsala based Institute for Race Biology from the Argentinian National Folklore Survey to current hashtag activism and Covid 19 archive projects. HIC sees knowledge as rooted in social and political structures determined by modes of transfer and produced in collaborative processes. The notion of participatory knowledge highlights in a compelling way how knowledge is rooted in cultural practices and social configurations. Knowledge Actors Johan Östling, David Larsson Heidenblad, Anna Nilsson Hammar, 2023-10-31 Historical actors are as central to the history of knowledge as to all historical scholarship Every country every era has its biographies of eminent scientists intellectuals and educational reformers Yet the theoretical currents that have left their mark on the historical and sociological studies of knowledge since the 1960s have emphasized structures over actors collectives over individuals By contrast Knowledge Actors stresses the importance of historical actors and re engages with their actions from fresh perspectives The objective of this volume is thus to foster a larger discussion among historians of knowledge about the role of knowledge actors Do we want individuals and networks to take centre stage in our research narratives And if so which ones do we want to highlight and how are we to conduct our research What are the potential pitfalls of pursuing that actor centric trajectory This the third volume in a trilogy about the history of knowledge from the Lund Centre for the History of Knowledge LUCK
