Agathokles of Syracuse Christopher de Lisle,2021-02-04 Agathokles of Syracuse ruled large areas of Sicily and southern Italy between 317 and 289 BC In this book Christopher de Lisle argues that Agathokles was an important player in the Mediterranean world at a key moment in its history Agathokles career has important implications for our definition of the Hellenistic world and its relationship to both the western Mediterranean and earlier Greek history However he has tended not to feature in studies of the Hellenistic world or of ancient Sicily In ancient discourse about him in the coins he issued in his interactions with the world around him and in the way he ruled Agathokles is simultaneously heir to a long tradition and actively engaged in his contemporary world. The failure to place Agathokles in both of these contexts up till now has contributed to the development of an excessively deep separation between the western and eastern Mediterranean and between the Classical and Hellenistic periods. This work the first book length study of Agathokles in English in over a century places him in the context of both the earlier history of Sicily and the developments in the eastern Mediterranean that mark the start of the Hellenistic era. The volume includes a narrative of his career studies of his coinage and his representation in literary sources and a series of explorations of important themes and regions.

Communities in Transition Søren Dietz, Fanis Mavridis, Žarko Tankosić, Turan Takaoglu, 2017-11-30. Communities in Transition brings together scholars from different countries and backgrounds united by a common interest in the transition between the Neolithic and the Early Bronze Age in the lands around the Aegean. Neolithic community was transformed in some places incrementally and in others rapidly during the 5th and 4th millennia BC into one that we would commonly associate with the Bronze Age. Many different names have been assigned to this period: Final Neolithic, Chalcolithic, Eneolithic, Late Neolithic I II, Copper Age, which to some extent reflects the diversity of archaeological evidence from varied geographical regions. During this long heterogeneous period developments occurred that led to significant changes in material culture: the use of space, the adoption of metallurgical practices, establishment of far reaching interaction and exchange networks and increased social complexity. The 5th to 4th millennium BC transition is one of inclusions, entanglements, connectivity and exchange of ideas, raw materials, finished products and quite possibly worldviews and belief systems. Most of the papers presented here are multifaceted and complex in that they do not deal with only one topic or narrowly focus on a single line of reasoning or dataset. Arranged geographically they explore a series of key themes: Chronology, cultural affinities and synchronization in material culture, changing social structure and economy, inter and intra site space use and settlement patterns, caves and include both site reports and regional studies. This volume presents a tour de force examination of many multifaceted aspects of the social, cultural, technological, economic and ideological transformations that mark the transition from Neolithic to Early Bronze Age societies in the lands around the Aegean during the 5th and 4th millennium BC.

Rome & Parthia: Empires at War Gareth C. Sampson, 2020-08-05. A Roman historian examines the motivation and strategy behind Marc Anthony's invasion of Parthia and the reasons for its ultimate defeat. In the mid first century BC the Roman Empire was rivaled only by the Parthian Empire to the east. The first war between these two ancient superpowers resulted in the total defeat of Rome and the death of Marcus Crassus. When Rome collapsed into Civil War in the 1st century BC the Parthians took the opportunity to conquer the Middle East and drive Rome back into Europe. What followed was two decades of war which saw victories and defeats on both sides. The Romans were finally able to gain a victory over the Parthians thanks to the great general Publius Ventidius. These victories acted as a springboard for Marc Antony's plans to conquer the Parthian Empire which ended in ignominious defeat In this authoritative history Gareth Sampson analyses the military campaigns and the various battles between Rome and Parthia He provides fascinating insight into the war that in many ways defined the Middle East for the next 650 years
