No Sweetness Here:

No Sweetness Here Ama Ata Aidoo,1979 No Sweetness Here Ama Ata Aidoo, 2015-04-25 From the author of Changes these stories of post independence Ghana in the late 1960s are written beautifully and wisely and with great subtlety Chimamanda Ngozi Adichi In this short story collection the award winning poet and author of Changes and Our Sister Killjoy explores postcolonial life in Ghana with her characteristic honesty humor and insight A house servant wonders what independence means in a country where indoor plumbing is still reserved for bosses A brother tracks down his runaway sister only to find she has become a prostitute In the title story a bitter divorce turns tragic when the couple s only child dies of a snake bite In these and other stories tradition wrestles with new urban influences as Africans try to sort out their identity in a changing culture and even at her gravest Miss Aidoo writes with a sunny charm The New York Times Study Guide for Ama Ata Aidoo's "No Sweetness Here" Gale, Cengage Learning, 2016 Criticism and Ideology Kirsten Holst Petersen.1988 Postnational Feminisms Hena Ahmad, 2010 Postnational Feminisms Postcolonial Identities and Cosmopolitanism in the Works of Kamala Markandaya Tsitsi Dangarembga Ama Ata Aidoo and Anita Desai offers a significant contribution to the field of postcolonial and Third World feminist studies It reevaluates the ways in which Third World women writers interrogate the relationship between woman and nation in the postcolonial context Hena Ahmad brings forth the concept of postnational feminism which she deploys to show how these major writers challenge the role of women as signifiers of national cultures in their works This innovative concept illuminates the ambivalence of these uniquely positioned writers as Ahmad explores the connection between postnationalism and Third World feminism BOOK JACKET World/Negro Digest, 1974-03 Founded in 1943 Negro Digest later Black World was the publication that launched Johnson Publishing During the most turbulent years of the civil rights movement Negro Digest Black World served as a critical vehicle for political thought for supporters of the movement Writing African Women Stephanie Newell, 2017-06-15 How does our understanding of Africa shift when we begin from the perspective of women What can the African perspective offer theories of culture and of gender difference This work as unique and insightful today as when it was first published brings together a wide variety of African academics and other researchers to explore the links between literature popular culture and theories of gender Beginning with a ground breaking overview of African gender theory the book goes on to analyse women s writing uncovering the ways different writers have approached issues of female creativity and colonial history as well as the ways in which they have subverted popular stereotypes around African women The contributors also explore the related gender dynamics of mask performance and oral story telling This major analysis of gender in popular and postcolonial cultural production remains essential reading for students and academics in women s studies cultural studies and literature

Fertile Crossings Pietro Deandrea,2021-11-01 In retracing some of the routes followed by West African literature in English over the course of the last three decades this book employs an original multidimensional approach whereby the three main genres narrative poetry and drama are considered in the light of their intricate web of fecund rapport and mutual influence Authors such as Tutuola Armah Aidoo and Awoonor translated the fluid structures of orality into written prose and consequently infused their works with poetic and dramatic resonance thereby challenging the canonical dominance of social realism and paving the way for the birth of West African magical realism in Laing Okri and Cheney Coker Starting in the 1970s poetry on stage has become a mainstream genre in Ghana thanks to performances by Okai Anyidoho and Acquah Boundaries between literary theatre and other genres have undergone a similar dissolution in the affirmation of the concept of total art from Efua Sutherland to ben Abdallah Osofisan and others Fertile Crossings offers a study of these topics from various viewpoints blending in depth textual analysis with reflections on the political import of the works in question within the context of the present state of African societies all supported by interviews with most of the authors Voices - Second Edition Victor J. Ramraj, 2009-08-17 Concert of Voices combines poetry fiction drama and essays in an anthology of world literature in English This second edition preserves the first edition s breadth and its balance of established and less widely known authors while including a large selection of exciting new material Biographical information and explanatory notes have been updated and expanded and new pieces by Cyril Dabydeen Vikram Seth Wole Soyinka Pauline Johnson Rudy Wiebe and many other authors have been added The Politics of the Female Body Ketu Katrak, 2006-02-15 Is it possible to simultaneously belong to and be exiled from a community In Politics of the Female Body Ketu H Katrak argues that it is not only possible but common especially for women who have been subjects of colonial empires Through her careful analysis of postcolonial literary texts Katrak uncovers the ways that the female body becomes a site of both oppression and resistance She examines writers working in the English language including Anita Desai from India Ama Ata Aidoo from Ghana and Merle Hodge from Trinidad among others The writers share colonial histories a sense of solidarity and resistance strategies in the on going struggles of decolonization that center on the body Bringing together a rich selection of primary texts Katrak examines published novels poems stories and essays as well as activist materials oral histories and pamphlets forms that push against the boundaries of what is considered strictly literary In these varied materials she reveals common political and feminist alliances across geographic boundaries A unique comparative look at women's literary work and its relationship to the body in third world societies this text will be of interest to literary scholars and to those working in the fields of postcolonial studies and women s studies A Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin Fallon, R.C. Feddersen, James Kurtzleben, Maurice A. Lee, Susan Rochette-Crawley, 2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader s Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography a review of existing criticism a lengthier analysis of specific works and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on Writing Africa in the Short Story Ernest Emenyonu, 2013 The success of the Caine Prize for African short story theory Writing and the growth of online publishing have played key roles in putting the short story in its rightful place within the study and criticism of African literature African writers have much more than the critics recognized the beauty and potency of the short story Always the least studied in African literature classrooms and the most critically overlooked genre in African literature today the African short story is now given the attention it deserves Contributors here take a close look at the African short story to re define its own peculiar pedigree chart its trajectory critique its present state and examineits creative possibilities They examine how the short story and the novel complement each other or exist in contradistinction within the context of culture and politics history and public memory legends myths and folklore Ernest Emenyonu is Professor of Africana Studies at the University of Michigan Flint USA the editorial board is composed of scholars from US UK and African universities Nigeria HEBN Bitter Chocolate Carol Off, 2017-01-03 This shocking expos of the corruption and exploitation at the heart of the multibillion dollar cocoa industry is an astounding eye opener that takes no prisoners Quill Quire starred review Bitter Chocolate is both an absorbing social history and a passionate investigation into an industry that has institutionalized abuse as it indulges our whims Award winning journalist Carol Off traces the fascinating evolution of chocolate from the sixteenth century banquet table of Montezuma's Aztec court to the bustling factories of Hershey Cadbury and Mars In what will be a shocking revelation to many Off exposes how slavery and injustice remain a key aspect of its production even today In the Ivory Coast the world's leading producer of cocoa beans profits from the multibillion dollar chocolate industry fuel bloody civil war and widespread corruption Faced with pressure from a crushing cocoa cartel demanding more beans for less money poor farmers have turned to the cheapest labor pool possible thousands of indentured children who pick the beans but have never themselves known the taste of chocolate Bitter Chocolate is less a book about chocolate than it is a study of racism imperialism and oppression as told through the lens of a single commodity The Globe Middle Passages and the Healing Place of History Elizabeth Brown-Guillory, 2006 Middle Passages and and Mail Toronto the Healing Place of History Migration and Identity in Black Women's Literature brings together a series of essays addressing black women's fragmented identities and quests for wholeness The individual essays concern culturally specific experiences of blacks in select African countries England the Caribbean the United States and Canada They examine identity struggles by establishing the Middle Passage as the first site of identity rupture and the subsequent break from cultural and historical moorings In most cases the authors themselves have migrated from their places of origin to new spaces that present challenges Their narratives replicate the displacement engendered by their own experiences of living with the complexities of diasporic existence Their female characters many of whom participate in multiple border crossings work to define themselves within a hostile environment In nearly every essay the female characters struggle against multiple yokes of oppression giving voice to what it means to be black female poor old and alone The subjects migrations and journeys are analyzed as attempts to heal the displacement both physical and psychological that results from dislocation and relocation from the homeland imagined variously as Africa This volume reveals that black women across the globe share a common ground fraught with struggles but the narratives bear out that these women are not easily divided and that they stand upon each other's shoulders dispensing healing balms Black women's history and herstory commingle the trauma that ensued when Africans were loaded onto ships in chains continues to haunt black women and men too wherever they find themselves in this present moment of the Diaspora Into Our Labours Neil Lazarus, 2022-04-15 Into our Labours explores the literary representation of work across the globe since 1850 setting out to show that the literature of modernity is best understood in the light of the worlding of capitalism The book proposes that a determinative relation exists between changing modes of work and changes in the forms genres and aesthetic strategies of the writing that bears witness to them Two aspects of the worlding of modernity especially are emphasised First an inaugural experience of capitalist social relations whose literary registration sometimes makes itself known through a crisis of representation as the forms of space and time consciousness demanded by life in contexts in which market oriented commodity production has become the dominant form of social labour are counterposed with inherited ways of seeing and knowing now under acute pressure if not already obsolete Second a moment corresponding to the consolidation regularisation and global dispersal of capitalist development Into Our Labours focuses on the naturalisation of capitalist social relations forms of sociality and solidarity ideologies of familialism individualism and work relations between the sexes and the generations Arguing that the only plausible term for the vast body of literary work engendered by the worlding of capitalist social relations is modernist the book proposes that it is then important to challenge the still entrenched Eurocentric understandings of modernism Modernism is neither originally nor paradigmatically Western in provenance and its temporal parameters are much broader than are usually assumed in modernist studies extending both backward and forward in time Research Review .1989 Third World Women's Literatures Barbara Fister, 1995-09-14 This reference volume serves as a companion to Third World women s literatures in English and in English translation by presenting entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes What plays have been written by women in the developing world What books have been written by Sri Lankan or Brazilian women Which works address themes of feminism or exile or politics in the Third World These are the types of questions that can now be answered through Fister's companion to Third World women's literatures in English and English translation Organized alphabetically this reference volume presents entries on works writers and themes Entries are chosen to present a balance of well known writers and emerging ones contemporary as well as historical writers and representative selections of genres literary styles and themes By providing information about and leads to works by and about Third World women an important and largely marginalized literature Fister has created a unique reference tool that will help teachers scholars and librarians both public and academic expand their definitions of the literary making the voices of Third World women available in the same format in which many companions to Western literature do An important book for all public and college level libraries
