A Typology of Numeral Systems in South Asian Languages Kumari Mamta, 2024-04-10 This book takes a journey into the fascinating world of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering a unique exploration of the intricate patterns cultural nuances and historical significance embedded within the numerical frameworks of the given languages It blends the discovery of new facts with the reinterpretation of existing ones while developing a methodology for investigating number systems that can be applied to languages around the world It is a groundbreaking study that unveils the complex linguistic patterns and socio cultural significance of numerical systems in South Asian languages offering valuable insights for researchers linguists anthropologists and language enthusiasts alike By bridging the gap between linguistics anthropology cultural studies and mathematics this book encourages interdisciplinary dialogue and collaboration by examining numeral systems from multiple angles

Cardinal Numerals Ferdinand von Mengden, 2010-02-23 The book embeds a description and an analysis of the Old English numeral system into a broader cross linguistic discussion It provides a theoretical framework for the study of numerals and numeral systems of natural languages bridging the gap between recent findings in the cognitive sciences on numeracy and the known typological generalisations on cardinal numerals The Old English numeral system shows a number of peculiarities not found in the present day languages of Europe Its detailed description is therefore an ideal locus for studying the features of linguistic number expressions in terms of their morpho syntactic properties and of the structure of numeral systems The approach is innovative in that it combines a detailed analysis of the numeral system with the analysis of the grammatical properties of cardinal numerals For the description of Old English the study focuses on aspects of information structure and of referent identification in quantificational constructions This leads to a novel perspective on the language internal variation in the agreement patterns between numerals and quantified nouns allowing the author to test and refine some long standing tenets in the study of numerals and to offer alternative explanations Rather than seeing numerals as a hybrid word class the author argues that this variation in the morpho syntactic behaviour follows identifiable patterns specific to the word class numeral He accounts for these patterns by positing different cross linguistically uniform stages in the emergence of numeral systems as well as varying degrees of discreteness of the quantified noun Moreover the author demonstrates that the constraints determining this variation in Old English have obvious parallels across languages

Numeral Classifiers and Classifier Languages Chungmin Lee, Young-Wha Kim, Byeong-Uk Yi, 2021-02-17 Focusing mainly on classifiers Numeral Classifiers and Classifier Languages offers a deep investigation of three major classifier languages Chinese Japanese and Korean This book provides detailed discussions well supported by empirical evidence and corpus analyses Theoretical hypotheses regarding differences and commonalities between numeral classifier languages and other mainly article languages are tested to seek universals or typological characteristics The essays collected here from leading scholars in different fields promise to be greatly significant in the field of linguistics for several reasons First it targets three representative classifier languages in Asia It also provides critical clues and suggests solutions to syntactic semantic psychological and philosophical issues about classifier constructions Finally it addresses ensuing debates that may arise in the field of linguistics in general and neighboring interdisciplinary areas This book should be of great interest to advanced students and scholars of East Asian languages

Plurality and Classifiers across Languages in China Dan Xu, 2012-12-19 Plural marking numeral classifiers and reduplication constitute the main means of quantification marking in the domain of grammar The contributions in this book focus on the typological correlation between the three different strategies for quantification as well as on some general issues A better understanding of the quantification strategies in the languages of China will enrich our comprehension of human language and thought The book is expected to have an impact on the study of linguistic typology language contact and patterns of the evolution

The Languages and Linguistics of Mainland Southeast Asia Paul Sidwell, Mathias Jenny, 2021-08-23 The handbook will offer a survey of the field of linguistics in the early 21st century for the Southeast Asian Linguistic Area The last half century has seen a great increase in work on language contact work in genetic theoretical and descriptive linguistics and since the 1990s especially documentation of endangered languages The book will provide an account of work in these areas focusing on the achievements of SEAsian linguistics as well as the challenges and unresolved issues and provide a survey of the relevant major publications and other available resources We will address Survey of the languages of the area organized along genetic lines with discussion of relevant political and cultural background issues Theoretical descriptive and typological issues Genetic classification and historical linguistics Areal and contact linguistics Other areas of interest such as sociolinguistics semantics writing systems etc Resources major monographs and monograph series dictionaries journals electronic data bases etc Grammar sketches of languages representative of the genetic and structural diversity of the region

Numbers as Cognitive Tools César Frederico dos Santos, 2025-08-19 This book offers a novel account of the nature of numbers firmly grounded in results from numerical cognition and the philosophy of mathematics Drawing on empirical data on the human experience of what we call numbers the author shows that numbers do not exist as abstract objects but that the idea that they do is a useful cognitive tool Contrary to the platonist view according to which arithmetic is true of a realm of abstract entities the nominalistic account presented in this book shows arithmetic to be true of descriptions of structural properties of techniques such as counting and calculating procedures This book is of interest to both philosophers and cognitive scientists who want to have a deeper understanding of what numbers are

Language in Time and Space Brigitte L.M. Bauer, Georges-Jean Pinault, 2011-03-01 The honoree of this Festschrift has for many years now marked modern trends in diachronic and synchronic linguistics by his own publications and by stimulating those of numerous others This collection of articles presents data oriented studies that integrate modern and traditional approaches in the field thus reflecting the honoree's contribution to contemporary linguistics The articles relate to comparative data from early Indo European languages and a variety of other languages and discuss the theoretical implications of phenomena such as linguistic universals reconstruction and language classification

Classifier Structures in Mandarin Chinese Niina Ning Zhang, 2013-05-28 This monograph addresses fundamental syntactic issues of classifier constructions based on a thorough study of a typical classifier language Mandarin Chinese It shows that the contrast between count and mass is not binary Instead there are two independently attested features Numerability the ability of a noun to combine with a numeral directly and Delimitability the ability of a noun to be modified by a delimitive modifier such as size shape or boundary modifier Although all nouns in Chinese are non count nouns there is still a mass non mass contrast with mass nouns selected by individuating classifiers and non mass nouns selected by individual classifiers Some languages have the counterparts of Chinese individuating classifiers only some languages have the counterparts of Chinese individual classifiers only and some other languages have no counterpart of either individual or individuating classifiers of Chinese The book also reports that unit plurality can be expressed by reduplicative classifiers in the language Moreover for the constituency of a numeral expression an individual individuating or kind classifier combines with the noun first and then the numeral is integrated but a partitive or collective classifier like a measure word combines with the numeral first before the noun is integrated into the whole nominal structure Furthermore the book identifies the syntactic positions of various uses of classifiers in the language A classifier is at a functional head position that has a dependency with a numeral or a position that has a dependency with a generic or existential quantifier or a position that represents the singular plural contrast or a position that licenses a delimitive modifier when the classifier occurs in a compound A Grammar of Nuosu Matthias Gerner,2013-10-14 This is the first modern grammar of Nuosu written in English Nuosu belongs to a little known section of Tibeto Burman The 2 5 Million ethnic Nuosu are part of the Yi nationality and live in Sichuan China This grammar informs Tibeto Burman linguists typologists scholars of language contact and foreign learners of Nuosu The Oxford Handbook of Word Classes Eva van Lier,2023 This handbook explores multiple facets of the study of word classes also known as parts of speech or lexical categories The contributions showcase the importance of word classes for the whole discipline of linguistics while also highlighting the many ongoing debates in the areas and outlining fruitful avenues for future research A Typological Approach to Grammaticalization and Lexicalization Janet Zhiqun Xing,2020-01-20 Based on comparative analyses of diachronic data the articles in this volume address both theoretical and methodological issues in the study of grammaticalization and lexicalization in both Eastern and Western languages The central question raised and discussed in this volume is how if any typological properties of the two genetically unrelated language families interact with the processes of grammaticalization and lexicalization The History of English in a Social Context Dieter Kastovsky,Arthur Mettinger,2011-07-20 TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing Empirische Dimension Altorientalischer Forschungen Gebhard J. Selz,Klaus Wagensohn,2011 This volume s 23 contributions from senior and younger researchers working with the Ancient Near Eastern heritage are based on the hypothesis of a general empiric attitude of Ancient Mesopotamian scholarship The articles try to elucidate these underlying principles making use of various sorts of modern theories and methods The book covers a broader range of topics astronomy politics agriculture and irrigation linguistics architecture medicine and others The Diachrony of Classification Systems William B. McGregor, Søren Wichmann, 2018-05-14 Classification is a popular topic in typological descriptive and theoretical linguistics This volume is the first to deal specifically with the diachrony of linguistic systems of classification It comprises original papers that examine the ways in which linguistic classification systems arise change and dissipate in both natural circumstances and in circumstances of attrition The role of diffusion in such processes is explored as well as the question of what can be diffused The volume is not restricted to nominal systems of classification but also includes papers dealing with the less well known phenomenon of verbal classification Languages from a wide spread of world regions are examined including Africa Amazonia Australia Eurasia Oceania and Mesoamerica The volume will be of interest to linguistic typologists descriptive linguists historical linguists and grammaticalization theorists Historical Linguistics 2011 Ritsuko Kikusawa, Lawrence A. Reid, 2013-11-14 This volume of selected papers from the 20th International Conference on Historical Linguistics Osaka Japan July 2011 presents a set of stimulating and ground breaking studies on a wide range of languages and language families As the scope of studies that can be characterized as Historical Linguistics has expanded ICHL conferences have likewise seen a broadening of topics presented and this conference was no exception reflected by the inclusion in this volume of a plenary presentation on the grammaticalization of expressions of negation and gendered kinship in American Sign Language Three other papers propose new views of the role of grammaticalization in English Chinese and Niger Congo languages Four of the papers discuss specific problems that arise in the comparison and reconstruction of linguistic features in a range of languages from Asia Europe and South America The last six studies deal with innovative approaches to the historical development of suppletion in Romance languages possessive classifiers in Austronesian universal quantifiers in Germanic adjectival sequences in English exaptation in Celtic and Early English and drift in Ancient Egyptian Nominal Classification in Asia and Oceania Marc Allasonnière-Tang, Marcin Kilarski, 2023-12-01 Linguists have long been interested in systems of nominal classification due to their diverse functions as well as cognitive and cultural correlates Among others ongoing research has focused on semantic functional and morphosyntactic properties of complex systems such as co occurring gender and numeral classifiers Such approaches have typically focused on the languages of north western South America and Papua New Guinea This volume proposes to fill in a gap in existing research by focusing on Asia based on case studies from languages belonging to a wide range of families i e Austroasiatic Austronesian Dravidian Hmong Mien Indo European Mongolic Sino Tibetan and Tai Kadai as well as the language isolate Nivkh Gender and classifiers in these languages are approached within several different perspectives i e functional typological and diachronic thus revealing complex patterns in their lexical and pragmatic functions as well as origin development and loss Describing and analysing such properties is a unique and innovative contribution of the volume The Cambridge Handbook of Linguistic Typology Alexandra Y. Aikhenvald, R. M. W. Dixon, 2017-03-30 Linguistic typology identifies both how languages vary and what they all have in common. This Handbook provides a state-of-the-art survey of the aims and methods of linguistic typology and the conclusions we can draw from them. Part I covers phonological typology, morphological typology, sociolinguistic typology, and the relationships between typology, historical linguistics, and grammaticalization. It also addresses typological features of mixed languages, creole languages, sign languages, and secret languages. Part II features contributions on the typology of morphological processes, noun categorization devices, negation, frustrative modality, logophoricity, switch-reference, and motion events. Finally, Part III focuses on typological profiles of the mainland South Asia area, Australia, Quechuan and Aymaran, Eskimo-Aleut, Iroquoian, the Kampa subgroup of Arawak, Omotic, Semitic, Dravidian, the Oceanic subgroup of Austronesian, and the Awyu-Ndumut family in West Papua. Uniting the expertise of a stellar selection of scholars, this Handbook highlights linguistic typology as a major discipline within the field of linguistics.
