Early Instructed Second Language Acquisition Joanna Rokita-Jaśkow, Melanie Ellis, 2019-01-18 This book provides a holistic overview of what leads to success in foreign language learning at an early age and deepens our understanding of early foreign language learning The studies use an array of methodological approaches to research learners aged between three and ten as well as their parents and teachers in instructional minimal input settings They describe various ways of organising and promoting very early foreign language learning both through language policy and innovative pedagogy and focus on ways of providing input for second language acquisition which include oral classroom discourse strategies as well as learner development of literacy skills Special attention is given to the necessity to develop critical reading skills the ability to handle multimodal texts and attitudes motivations and behaviours and how these may impact on the teaching and learning process Chapters emphasise that ultimate outcomes depend on extra linguistic environmental factors such as parental involvement and teacher competences These include establishing control in the classroom as well as using appropriate strategies for Negotiation of

Meaning and helping learners build positive self concept This book will be of interest to all professionals involved in the teaching of foreign languages to young learners as well as to researchers teacher educators and students working in this area

A Pragmatic Approach to Agency in Group Activity Herman Witzel,2019-11-18 A Pragmatic Approach to Agency in Group Activity builds towards an action theory that explains how new forms agency develop in group activity The approach starts from practical insights about group activity and develops a new understanding of agency from there This study shows how practical interactions and structures in group activity disrupt individual agency It is concluded that important features of agency can be realized on a group level Different types of group activities are analyzed in order to better understand these mechanisms and consequently revisit our understanding of agency It is argued that intentionality the key concept in individual action theory merely serves as a pseudo explanatory connection between specific features of agency and their realization in humans This is contrasted with empirical research showing that how humans act is far from the idealized concept of intentionality Consequently intentionality as a key explanatory concept is rejected and replaced by a diverse set of features of agency for a similarly diverse set of kinds of agency In this view groups display new forms agency beyond individual agency without making the groups agents themselves Such is the nature of group agency
