Gender at Work Rosemary Pringle, 2020-07-29 Three themes are drawn together in this book: gender and sexuality, the organisation of work and the impact of technological change. Their inter-relationship is explored in six area studies: manufacturing, banking, retailing, computing, nursing and housework. Gender at Work presents an account of how each area has changed since the Second World War, sets out ways in which the notion of what constitutes proper work for men and women changes with new work processes and analyses the prospects for and limits of sexual equality in the workplace. Based on the first-hand observations of workers reflecting on their work experience, this book allows workers to speak for themselves; they reveal the centrality of gender to the way capitalism is organised. A notable contribution both to feminist and labour studies in Australia and further afield. Every woman, whether at home or in the paid workforce, should read this book. It will help her assess exactly what she is and should be worth to the community and how she can help to ensure her true evaluation. Newcastle Herald. A very readable book which makes a major theoretical and descriptive contribution to the analysis of gender in Australian Society. Journal of Industrial Relations. A convincing demonstration of the central place of gender in the work relationships between men and women. The insights it provides into the underlying causes of the sex division of tasks and the way in which new jobs in any individual setting quickly become sex-typed are important for any manager of a mixed workplace. Practising Manager

The Care of Health in Communities Nancy Milio, 1975 Abstract Various aspects of the prospects, activities and limitations of health care programs nationally and internationally are addressed for students and practitioners of health care as they relate various disadvantaged elements of the world population including nations, minorities, the elderly, women, the poor, or those geographically isolated from health care opportunities. Ten principal themes are discussed in detail under 4 general sections of the text: 1. health and health care vs. environmental factors; the growing disparity and similarities between rich and poor nations; 2. access to and quality and cost of health care services in the US; 3. access to health occupations in the US; and 4. access to health care decision-making mechanisms for making, implementing and evaluating health care decisions; how alternatives for health care can be modified; legislative provisions; removal of barriers and constraints. The last 3 sections include discussions of international comparisons.
