Federation Proceedings Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology,1984 Vols for 1942 include proceedings of the American Physiological Society Poultry Feed from Waste A.R.Y. El Boushy,A.F.B. Van Der Poel,2012-12-06 In developed market economies with intensive animal production systems such as The Netherlands many new feedstuffs have been introduced as part of the diets of ruminant and monogastric animals These new feedstuffs are often by products of human food processing It is important that these by products and also the by products from wastes are properly evaluated with regard to the possibilities of incorporating them into livestock diets Research on the subject of feed from waste its processing and its use in the nutrition of poultry has increased considerably during the last decade The Department of Animal Nutrition of Wageningen Agricultural University WAU Wageningen The Netherlands in close co operation with the Poultry Feeding and the Processing Industry has been active in this field In order to update research and to expedite further work in this field a comprehensive review of the literature on the subject of feed from waste was made Such a study would not only bring the industry up to date on the subject but could also indicate specific topics which may be of great value for developing market economies Poultry scientists and technologists suggested that a review would fill a need as a reference and textbook not only for the industry but also for undergraduates and graduates of agricultural colleges and extension services all over the world Vitamin History, the Early Years Lee McDowell,2013-02-11 The term vitamine was first used 101 years ago in 1912 What were later to be known as vitamin deficiency diseases such as scurvy beriberi night blindness xerophthalmia pellagra pernicious anemia and rickets had plagued the world since the existence of written records The book contains 10 chapters and traces each vitamin from an unidentified factor to its discovery and synthesis

Introducing Novel Trends in the Nutrition of Monogastric Farm Animals for the Production of High-Quality Livestock Products Vassilios Dotas, George Symeon, Karoly Dublec, Kadir Erensoy, 2025-01-17 The rearing of monogastric farm animals especially pigs and poultry is one of the most significant animal husbandry activities worldwide since it contributes approximately 75% to global meat production and fully covers the needs for eggs providing animal protein sources of high nutritional and biological value Pig and poultry production has demonstrated admirable adaptability to changing international conditions and to modern consumer concerns and attitudes through its wide variety of products increased productivity and alternative production systems and feeding schemes However considerable work remains to be done in terms of research and development notably regarding to climate change welfare concerns and overall sustainability of production particularly considering the protracted energy and economic crises and the threats to food security
