Reinventing the C-Suite Terry White, 2020-01-28 There is a fundamental mismatch between the way we organise our senior management teams and the way modern commerce has evolved. Wrapping finesse technology rules, bureaucracy and science around our C Suite conventions designed for nineteenth century businesses is not nearly enough to meet the challenges of modern business environments and practices. This book is for executives who want to enable their C Suite and by extension their organizations to survive and thrive into the future. It will help them to foresee future challenges and provide suggestions for new working practices at executive level to successfully adapt to those changes. How should executive teams organize themselves, reinvent their roles and work with stakeholders to evolve and innovate? What is the role of the new C grade executive managers, leaders or something else? Executives and aspiring executives will find new challenges for organizations and ways to deal with them. Forward thinking business students will find startling ideas and practical tools for viewing business and its activities. What is the next evolution of the executive function in organizations? This book explores how we can predict it, shape it and succeed in it.

Schoolveteran Diana Stroeven, 2024-10-29 The education book Schoolveteran tells the true story 2017-2020 of a Dutch family and their struggle with Suitable Education where parents along with their sick son get completely stuck in bureaucracy. Consequence: Injustice due to incompetence. A child who despite his illness manages to pass the third grade of his accelerated education based on his own will, discipline and self study. Being sick, succeeding and then being forced to choose a different educational path. Yes, it is the direct and qualitative result of Suitable Education. Resulting in the end of a school career and a profound breach of trust in school or education at all. Schoolveteran also tells the story of how a school team leader driven by distrust accuses the parents of child abuse and exploitation without any demonstrable or factual basis. Simply because the team leader wants control. Due to the arrogance of the school staff and its network partners, the personal choices and clearly indicated boundaries of the family are not respected. The child escapes from State Abduction by Dutch Youth Care but is still forced to go to school, sick or not. The sick child experiences this as School Slavery. The family finds this unacceptable. With the Ebook Schoolveteran the family wants to convey a message of self reflection to the people in the education field and at Youth Care and show the consequences that their choices can have for families It also urges parents and their children to maintain control so that they are not treated as criminals like this family And above all it encourages them to say no more often until a win win situation for the well being of their child is achieved This starts with mutual respect acceptance and communication the expertise of the author Diana Stroeven Also the mother of the Schoolveteran A book mixed with insights for win win joie de vivre positivity and communication Simply because it s possible Love being Survivor of Suitable Education      Self-Motivation Cheryl-Anne M. People Power in an Era of Global Crisis Barry K. Gills, Kevin Gray, 2013-10-31 A quarter of a century has now passed since the historic popular uprising that led to the overthrow of the Ferdinand Marcos dictatorship in the Philippines The mass movement known as the People Power Revolution was not only pivotal to the democratic transition within the Philippines but it also became an inspiration for subsequent mass movements leading to further democratic transitions throughout the Third World and in the former Communist bloc in Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union However the neoliberal economic policies subsequently pursued by newly democratic governments throughout the Third World led all but the most celebratory observers to note the constrained and limited nature of these formal political transitions This volume poses the question of the extent to which people power has been able to play an active role resisting neoliberalism and deepen substantive democracy and social justice Through a series of case studies of the regions and individual countries of Asia Africa Latin America and Eastern Europe the contributions in the volume provide a new set of original and in depth critical assessments of the nature of the longer term impact of the democratic transitions commencing in the 1980s and continuing until the present and questioning their impact and potential influence on human dignity freedom justice and self determination and thus opening new avenues of enquiry into the future of democracy This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
