Lu, Sheldon H. Lu, 2001 By focusing on Chinese cultural formations and critical discourses of the last decade of the century the author dissects the intellectual economic and political contradictions of a turbulent era This wide ranging deeply interdisciplinary work demarcates the cultural terrain by examining diverse media film television avant garde art and literature as well as critical theory and intellectual history Postmodern Welfare Peter Leonard, 1997-05-28 Peter Leonard provides an accessible analysis of debates about the crisis of the welfare state under the contemporary conditions of postmodern scepticism and the triumphs of global market capitalism In the last two decades Western governments have sought to replace the post war welfare compact with neo conservative individualism The prospects for the Left look bleak At the same time postmodern critique raises profound questions about the validity of a mass politics of emancipation based on the universal values of justice reason and progress From a critical perspective founded in Marxism and feminism Leonard uses elements of postmodern deconstruction to consider how we might now re think the present and future of well

Illness and Culture in the Postmodern Age David B. Morris, 2023-11-15 We become ill in ways our parents and grandparents did not with diseases unheard of and treatments undreamed of by them Illness has changed in the postmodern era roughly the period since World War II as dramatically as technology transportation and the texture of everyday life Exploring these changes David B Morris tells the fascinating story or stories of what goes into making the postmodern experience of illness different perhaps unique Even as he decries the overuse and misuse of the term postmodern Morris shows how brightly ideas of illness health and postmodernism illuminate one another in late twentieth century culture Modern medicine traditionally separates disease an objectively verified disorder from illness a patient's subjective experience Postmodern medicine Morris says can make no such clean distinction instead it demands a biocultural model situating illness at the crossroads of biology and culture Maladies such as chronic fatigue syndrome and post traumatic stress disorder signal our awareness that there are biocultural ways of being sick The biocultural vision of illness not only blurs old boundaries but also offers a new and infinitely promising arena for investigating both biology and culture In many ways Illness and Culture in the Postmodern Age leads us to understand our experience of the world differently We become ill in ways our parents and grandparents did not with diseases unheard of and treatments undreamed of by them Illness has changed in the postmodern era roughly the period since World War II as dramatically as technology transportation and the Aesthetic Alternative

Shannon McCabe, 2011 Resisting Postmodern Architecture Stylianos Giamarellos, 2022-01-10 Since its first appearance in 1981 critical regionalism has enjoyed a celebrated worldwide reception The 1990s increased its pertinence as an architectural theory that defends the cultural identity of a place resisting the homogenising onslaught of globalisation Today its main principles such as acknowledging the climate history materials culture and topography of a specific place are integrated in architects education across the globe But at the same time the richer cross cultural history of critical regionalism has been reduced to schematic juxtapositions of the global with the local Retrieving both the globalising branches and the overlooked cross cultural roots of critical regionalism Resisting Postmodern Architecture resituates critical regionalism within the wider framework of debates around postmodern architecture the diverse contexts from which it emerged and the cultural media complex that conditioned its reception In so doing it explores the intersection of three areas of growing historical and theoretical interest postmodernism critical regionalism and globalisation Based on more than 50 interviews and previously unpublished archival material from six countries the book transgresses existing barriers to integrate sources in other languages into anglophone architectural scholarship In so doing it shows how the periphery was not just a passive recipient but also an active generator of architectural theory and practice Stylianos Giamarellos challenges long held central notions of supposedly international discourses of the recent past and outlines critical regionalism as an unfinished project apposite for the 21st century on the fronts of architectural theory history and historiography Christian Apologetics as Cross-Cultural Dialogue Benno van den Toren, 2011-10-27 A call for a new understanding of apologetics

Cross-Cultural Reckonings Blanche H. Gelfant, 1995-01-27 Blanche H Gelfant's book Cross Cultural Reckonings both demonstrates and questions the applicability of postmodern cultural and literary theories to realistic texts to fiction and autobiographies valued for their truth Drawing together an unusual combination of Russian American and Canadian writers the various essays of this book provide new and original perspectives upon the puzzling issues of national identity of historical change and continuity of gender and the integrity of literary genres the boundaries between text and context and the underlying if overlooked conflicts between the postmodern critic's skepticism and a writer's belief in the transcendence of art and truth To avoid the contingencies inherent in binary comparisons the essays in this book seek a triadic form analogous to the triptych or polyptych of the visual arts Multifaceted non linear and open ended such a form might allow the academic essay to recover a waywardness that traces back to Montaigne cited in prefatory notes and to the etymological meaning of the essay as an exagium or weighing as an act of reckoning A study at once elegant erudite and personal Cross Cultural Reckonings reckons with writers of different backgrounds and reputation in whom Gelfant discovers surprising affinities among them the Russian writers Lydia Chukovskaya Natalya Baranskaya and Alexander Solzhenitsyn Ethel Wilson a highly reputed Canadian writer the famous cross cultural figure Emma Goldman and established as well as new or rediscovered American writers such as Willa Cather Saul Bellow Arlene Heyman and Meridel Le Sueur These writers are discussed singly and in comparative essays each of which is discrete and self contained while all interconnect and reflect upon each other as exemplary demonstrations of cross cultural literary criticism and the deferred final judgment that results from a weighing and reweighing of books

Who's Afraid of Postmodernism? (The Church and Postmodern Culture) James K. A. Smith, 2006-04-01 The philosophies of French thinkers Derrida Lyotard and Foucault form the basis for postmodern thought and are seemingly at odds with the Christian faith However James K A Smith claims that their ideas have been misinterpreted and actually have a deep affinity with central Christian claims Each chapter opens with an illustration from a recent movie and concludes with a case study considering recent developments in the church that have attempted to respond to the postmodern condition such as the emerging church movement These case studies provide a concrete picture of how postmodern ideas can influence the way Christians think and worship This significant book winner of a Christianity Today 2007 Book Award avoids philosophical jargon and offers fuller explanation where needed It is the first book in the Church and Postmodern Culture series which provides practical applications for Christians engaged in ministry in a postmodern world

The Ethos of Medicine in Postmodern America Arnold R. Eiser, 2013-12-24 Has postmodern American culture so altered the terrain of medical care that moral confusion and deflated morale multiply faster than both technological advancements and ethical resolutions The Ethos of Medicine in Postmodern America is an attempt to examine this question with reference to the cultural touchstones of our postmodern era consumerism computerization corporatization and destruction of meta narratives The cultural insights of postmodern thinkers such as Foucault Deleuze and Guattari Lyotard Baudrillard Bauman and Levinas help elucidate the changes in healthcare delivery that are occurring early in the twenty first century Although only Foucault among this group actually focused his critique on medical care itself their combined analysis provides a valuable perspective for gaining understanding of contemporary changes in healthcare delivery It is often difficult to envision what is happening in the psychosocial cultural dynamic of an epoch as you experience it Therefore it is useful to have a technique for refracting those observations through the lens of another system of thought The prism of postmodern thought offers such a device with which to view the eclipse of changing medical practice Any professional practice is always thoroughly embedded in the social and cultural matrix of its society and the medical profession in America is no exception In drawing upon the insights of key Continental thinkers such as American scholars this book does not necessarily endorse the views of postmodernism but trusts that much can be learned from their insight Furthermore its analysis is informed by empirical information from health services research and the sociology of medicine Arnold R Eiser develops a new understanding of healthcare delivery in the twenty first century and suggests positive developments that might be nurtured to avoid the barren Silicon Cage of corporate bureaucratized medical practice Central to this analysis are current healthcare issues such as the patient centered medical home clinical practice guidelines and electronic health records This interdisciplinary examination reveals insights valuable to anyone working in postmodern thought medical sociology bioethics or health services research

New Media, Cultural Studies, and Critical Theory after Postmodernism R. Samuels, 2009-12-07 This book argues that we have moved into a new cultural period automodernity which represents a social psychological and technological reaction to postmodernity In fact by showing how individual autonomy is now being generated through technological and cultural automation Samuels posits that we must rethink modernity and postmodernity

On Apologising in Negative and Positive Politeness Cultures Eva Ogiermann, 2009-10-28 This book investigates how speakers of English Polish and Russian deal with offensive situations It reveals culture specific perceptions of what counts as an apology and what constitutes politeness It offers a critical discussion of Brown and Levinson's theory and provides counterevidence to the correlation between indirectness and politeness underlying their theory Their theory is applied to two languages that rely less heavily on indirectness in conveying politeness than does English and to a speech act that does not become more polite through indirectness An analysis of the face considerations involved in apologising shows that in contrast to disarming apologies remedial apologies are mainly directed towards positive face needs which are crucial for the restoration of social equilibrium and maintenance of relationships. The data show that while English apologies are characterised by a relatively strong focus on both interlocutors negative face Polish apologies display a particular concern for positive face. For Russian speakers in contrast apologies seem to involve a lower degree of face threat than they do in the other two languages.

The Bloomsbury Introduction to Postmodern Realist Fiction T.V. Reed, 2021-03-25 Postmodern realist fiction uses realism disrupting literary techniques to make interventions into the real social conditions of our time. It seeks to capture the complex fragmented nature of contemporary experience while addressing crucial issues like income inequality immigration the climate crisis terrorism ever changing technologies shifting racial sex and gender roles and the rise of new forms of authoritarianism. A lucid comprehensive introduction to the genre as well as to a wide variety of voices this book discusses more than forty writers from a diverse range of backgrounds and over several decades with special attention to 21st century novels. International Postmodernism Johannes Willem Bertens, Hans Bertens, Douwe Fokkema, 1997 Containing more than fifty essays by major literary scholars International Postmodernism divides into four main sections. The volume starts off with a section of eight introductory studies dealing with the subject from different points of view followed by a section that deals with postmodernism in other arts than literature while a third section discusses renovations of narrative genres and other strategies and devices in postmodernist writing. The final and fourth section deals with the reception and processing of postmodernism in different parts of the world. Three important aspects add to the special character of International Postmodernism. The consistent distinction between postmodernity and postmodernism equal attention to the making and diffusion of postmodernism and the workings of literature in general and the focus on the text and the reader i.e. the reader's knowledge experience interests and competence as crucial factors in text interpretation. This comprehensive study does not expressly focus on American postmodernism although American interpretations of postmodernism are a major point of reference. The recognition that varying literary and cultural conditions in this world are bound to produce endless varieties of postmodernism made the editors Hans Bertens and Douwe Fokkema opt for the title
