A Method for Linguistic Metaphor Identification Gerard J. Steen, Aletta G. Dorst, J. Berenike Herrmann, Anna Kaal, Tina Krennmayr, Trijntje Pasma, 2010-06-23 This book presents a complete method for the identification of metaphor in language at the level of word use It is based on extensive methodological and empirical corpus linguistic research in two languages English and Dutch The method is formulated as an explicit manual of instructions covering one

chapter the method being a development and refinement of the popular MIP procedure presented by the Pragglejaz Group in 2007 The extended version is called MIPVU as it was developed at VU University Amsterdam Its application is demonstrated in five case studies addressing metaphor in English news texts conversations fiction and academic texts and Dutch news texts and conversations Two methodological chapters follow reporting a series of successful reliability tests and a series of post hoc troubleshooting exercises The final chapter presents a first empirical analysis of the findings and shows what this type of methodological attention can mean for research and theory

Linguistic Structure in Language Processing G.N. Carlson, M.K. Tanenhaus, 2012-12-06 The papers in this volume are intended to exemplify the state of experimental psycholinguistics in the middle to later 1980s Our overriding impression is that the field has come a long way since the earlier work of the 1950s and 1960s and that the field has emerged with a renewed strength from a difficult period in the 1970s Not only are the theoretical issues more sharply defined and integrated with existing issues from other domains modularity being one such example but the experimental techniques employed are much more sophisticated thanks to the work of numerous psychologists not necessarily interested in psycholinguistics and thanks to improving technologies unavailable a few years ago for instance eye trackers We selected papers that provide a coherent overall picture of existing techniques and issues The volume is organized much as one might organize an introductory linguistics course beginning with sound and working up to meaning Indeed the first paper Rebecca Treiman's begins with consideration of syllable structure a phonological consideration and the last Alan Garnham's exemplifies some work on the interpretation of pronouns a semantic matter In between are found works concentrating on morphemes lexical structures and syntax The cross section represented in this volume is by necessity incomplete since we focus only on experimental work directed at understanding how adults comprehend and produce language We do not include any works on language acquisition first or second
