Rent A Pet And Other Animal Stories:

Rent-a-pet ,1995 Dog, Inc. John Woestendiek,2010-12-30 What Stiff did for the dead and Fast Food Nation did for the burger Dog Inc does for the stranger than fiction world of commercial dog cloning It all began with a pit bull named Booger Former Miss Wyoming Bernann McKinney was so distraught over the death of her dog whom she regarded as her guardian and savior that she paid 50 000 to RNL Bio for the chance to bring her beloved companion back to life The result were five new Boogers the first successful commercial cloning of a canine delivered in 2008 along with a slew of compelling questions about the boundaries of science commerce and ethics Blending shocking investigative reporting with colorful anecdotes Pulitzer Prize winning John Woestendiek takes readers behind the scenes of this emerging industry But Dog Inc isn t just a book about pets Nor is it just a book about science Rather it s a fascinating look at how our emotional needs are bending the reaches of science and technology as well as a study of this uncharted territory With our pet obsession climbing to new heights and our scientific abilities even more so this combination raises a serious concern Are we crossing the boundary of controlling science in the name of science in the name of love in the name of merchandising or a blend of all three academy and reverberates within the public sphere Animal Subjects 2.0 builds on the previous book and takes stock of this explosive turn. It focuses on both critical animal studies and posthumanism, two intertwining conversations that ask us to reconsider common sense understandings of other animals and what it means to be human. This collection demonstrates that many pressing contemporary social problems, how and why the oppression and exploitation of our species persist, are entangled with our treatment of other animals and the environment. Decades into the interrogation of our ethical and political responsibilities toward other animals, fissures within the academy deepen as the interest in animal ethics and politics proliferates. Although ideological fault lines have inspired important debates about how to address the very material concerns informing these theoretical discussions, Animal Subjects 2.0 brings together divergent voices to suggest how to foster richer human-animal relations and to cultivate new ways of thinking and being with the rest of animalkind. This collection demonstrates that appreciation of difference, not just similarity, is necessary for a more inclusive and compassionate world. Linking issues of gender, disability, culture, race, and sexuality into species, Animal Subjects 2.0 maps vibrant developments in the emergent fields of critical animal studies and posthumanist thought.
