Segel, 2003 The Iron Curtain concealed from western eyes a vital group of national and regional writers Marked by not only geographical proximity but also by the shared experience of communism and its collapse the countries of Eastern Europe Poland Hungary Albania Romania Bulgaria and the former states of Yugoslavia Czechoslovakia and East Germany share literatures that reveal many common themes when examined together Compiled by a leading scholar the guide includes an overview of literary trends in historical context a listing of some 700 authors by country and an A to Z section of articles on the most influential writers Cold War Literature Andrew Hammond, 2006-11-22 This collection of essays analyzes the literary response to the coups insurgencies and invasions that took place around the globe during the Cold War and explores the thematic and stylistic trends in world writing prompted by Cold War hostilities Giving Offense J.M. Coetzee, 2018-07-16 Winner of the 2003 Nobel Prize in Literature J M Coetzee presents a coherent unorthodox analysis of censorship from the perspective of one who has lived and worked under its shadow The essays collected here attempt to understand the passion that plays itself out in acts of silencing and censoring He argues that a destructive dynamic of belligerence and escalation tends to overtake the rivals in any field ruled by censorship From Osip Mandelstam commanded to compose an ode in praise of Stalin to Breyten Breytenbach writing poems under and for the eyes of his prison guards to Aleksander Solzhenitsyn engaging in a trial of wits with the organs of the Soviet state Giving Offense focuses on the ways authors have historically responded to censorship It also analyzes the arguments of Catharine MacKinnon for the suppression of pornography and traces the operations of the old South African censorship system The most impressive feature of Coetzee s essays besides his ear for language is his coolheadedness He can dissect repugnant notions and analyze volatile emotions with enviable poise Kenneth Baker San Francisco Chronicle Book Review Those looking for simple ringing denunciations of censorship s evils will be disappointed Coetzee explicitly rejects such noble tritenesses Instead he pursues censorship s deeper more fickle meanings and unmeanings Kirkus Reviews These erudite essays form a powerful bracing criticism of censorship in its many guises Publishers Weekly Giving Offense gets its incisive message across clearly even when Coetzee is dealing with such murky theorists as Bakhtin Lacan Foucault and Ren Girard Coetzee has a light wry sense of humor Bill Marx Hungry Mind Review An extraordinary collection of essays Martha Bayles New York Times Book Review A disturbing and illuminating moral expedition Richard Eder Los Angeles Times Book Review

Cities, Citizens, and Technologies Paula Geyh, 2009-05-21 This book is about the contemporary city and those who live in it It is thus also about the urban world of the era extending roughly from the 1960s to the present that we see as postmodern and specifically about how the postmodern city is changing under the impact of globalization and new information and communication technologies In particular Geyh explores how the urban spaces of postmodernity parks plazas streets sidewalks and postmodern urban subjectivities and communities respond to and create each other how they become mutually constructing While there is much in this book about what makes a city postmodern its primary focus is on how the postmodern city is experienced by its inhabitants and in this respect the book is also a study of everyday life in the postmodern era As such it deals not only with the ways in which the postmodern city has developed out of economic technological political and cultural structures that are different from those of the modern city but also with how the postmodern city changes our ways of knowing and experiencing the world and ourselves as postmodern urban subjects as citizens of postmodernity
