Repossessing Ernestine:

Repossessing Ernestine Marsha Hunt, 1997 Repossessing Ernestine Marsha Hunt, 1996 This book tells the story of Marsha Hunt's search for her grandmother Ernestine locked for 60 years in a Memphis mental institution Marsha thought that Ernestine was dead until a phone call from a relative in 1992 The Souls of Mixed Folk Michele Elam, 2011-02-21 The Souls of Mixed Folk examines representations of mixed race in literature and the arts that redefine new millennial aesthetics and politics Focusing on black white mixes Elam analyzes expressive works novels drama graphic narrative late night television art installations as artistic rejoinders to the perception that post Civil Rights politics are bereft and post Black art is apolitical Reorienting attention to the cultural invention of mixed race from the social sciences to the humanities Elam considers the creative work of Lezley Saar Aaron McGruder Nate Creekmore Danzy Senna Colson Whitehead Emily Raboteau Carl Hancock Rux and Dave Chappelle All these writers and artists address mixed race as both an aesthetic challenge and a social concern and together they gesture toward a poetics of social justice for the mulatto millennium The Souls of Mixed Folk seeks a middle way between competing hagiographic and apocalyptic impulses in mixed race scholarship between those who proselytize mixed race as the great hallelujah to the race problem and those who can only hear the alarmist bells of civil rights destruction Both approaches can obscure some of the more critically astute engagements with new millennial iterations of mixed race by the multi generic cohort of contemporary writers artists and performers discussed in this book The Souls of Mixed Folk offers case studies of their creative work in an effort to expand the contemporary idiom about mixed race in the so called post race moment asking how might new millennial expressive forms suggest an aesthetics of mixed race And how might such an aesthetics productively reimagine the relations between race art and social equity in the twenty first century Notable Black Memphians Miriam DeCosta-Willis, 2008 River of Hope Elizabeth Gritter, 2014-02-17 One of the largest southern cities and a hub for the cotton industry Memphis Tennessee was at the forefront of black political empowerment during the Jim Crow era Compared to other cities in the South Memphis had an unusually large number of African American voters Black Memphians sought reform at the ballot box formed clubs ran for office and engaged in voter registration and education activities from the end of the Civil War through the Brown v Board of Education decision of 1954 In this groundbreaking book Elizabeth Gritter examines how and why black Memphians mobilized politically in the period between Reconstruction and the beginning of the civil rights movement Gritter illuminates in particular the efforts and influence of Robert R Church Jr an affluent Republican and founder of the Lincoln League and the notorious Memphis political boss Edward H Crump Using these two men as lenses through which to view African American political engagement this volume explores how black voters and their leaders both worked with and opposed the white political machine at the ballot box River of Hope challenges persisting notions of a Solid South of white Democratic control by arguing that the small but significant number of black southerners who retained the right to vote had more influence than scholars have heretofore assumed Gritter's nuanced study presents a fascinating view of the complex nature of political power during the Jim Crow era and provides fresh insight into the efforts of the individuals who laid the foundation for civil rights victories in the 1950s and 60s

A History of African American Autobiography Joycelyn Moody, 2021-07-22 This History explores innovations in African American autobiography since its inception examining the literary and cultural history of Black self representation amid life writing studies By analyzing the different forms of autobiography including pictorial and personal essays editorials oral histories testimonials diaries personal and open letters and even poetry performance media of autobiographies this book extends the definition of African American autobiography revealing how people of African descent have created and defined the Black self in diverse print cultures and literary genres since their arrival in the Americas It illustrates ways African Americans use life writing and autobiography to address personal and collective Black experiences of identity family memory fulfillment racism and white supremacy Individual chapters examine scrapbooks as a source of self documentation African American autobiography for children readings of African American persona poems mixed race life writing after the Civil Rights Movement and autobiographies by African American LGBTQ writers
