Psychosocial Interventions in End-of-Life Care Peggy Sturman Gordon,2015-11-19 The concept of a good death has been hotly debated in medical circles for decades This volume delves into the possibility and desirability of a good death by presenting the psychosocial measures of care as a crucial component such as religion existentialism hope and meaning making The volume also focuses on oncologic psychiatry and the influence of technology as a means to alleviate pain and suffering and potentially provide relief to those at the end of life Such initiatives are aimed at diminishing pain and are socially bolstering and emotionally comforting to ensure a peaceful closure with life as opposed to a battle waged Utilizing the most recent information from medical journals and books to present the latest on healthcare and dying today this volume crosses the boundaries of thanatology psychology religion spirituality medical ethics and public health Researching Death, Dying and Bereavement Erica Borgstrom,Julie Ellis,Kate Woodthorpe,2018-10-22 This book examines research on death dying and bereavement and how our approaches perceptions and expectations shapes what we can know about the end of life The contributions include personal and professional reflections and practical suggestions for conducting research in this field The volume stems from the resurgence of the international and interdisciplinary study of death in the last 20 years Within this empirical research is often viewed as sensitive but little has been written about the experience of conducting research in this area There has thus been little reflection on the opportunities and challenges faced in undertaking research as the field of death studies grows including the accommodation and recognition of cultural differences This volume seeks to in part address this gap The chapters in this book were originally published in the Mortality journal and the Death Studies journal Natural Burial Douglas Davies,Hannah Rumble,2012-07-26 From the 1990s the British developed an interest in natural burial also known as woodland green or ecological burial Natural burial constitutes part of a long historical legacy for British funeral innovation from Victorian cemetery monuments and garden cemeteries through the birth and rise of cremation to the many things done with cremated remains The book sets natural burial in the context of such creative dealing with death grief mourning and the celebration of life Themes from sociology and anthropology combine with psychological issues and theological ideas to show how human emotions take shape and help people consider their own death whilst also dealing with the death of those they love The authors explore the variety of motivations for people to engage with natural burial and its popular appeal using interviews with people having a relationship with one natural burial site created by the Church of England but open to all They illustrate people s understandings of life and death in the sacred secular and mixed worlds of modern Britain Death and Dying in the Working Class, 1865-1920 Michael K. Rosenow,2015-04-15

Michael K Rosenow investigates working people s beliefs rituals of dying and the politics of death by honing in on three overarching questions How did workers their families and their communities experience death Did various identities of class race gender and religion coalesce to form distinct cultures of death for working people And how did people s attitudes toward death reflect notions of who mattered in U S society Drawing from an eclectic array of sources ranging from Andrew Carnegie to grave markers in Chicago s potter s field Rosenow portrays the complex political social and cultural relationships that fueled the United States industrial ascent The result is an undertaking that adds emotional depth to existing history while challenging our understanding of modes of cultural transmission The Routledge International Handbook of Goffman Studies Michael Hviid Jacobsen,Greg Smith,2022-06-29 This book explores the fertility and enigma of Erving Goffman s sociological reasoning and its capacity to shed fresh light on the fundamental features of human sociality Thematically arranged it brings together the work of leading scholars of Goffman s work to explore the concepts and themes that define Goffman s analytical preoccupations examining the ways these ideas have shaped significant fields of study and situating Goffman s sociology in comparison to some eminent thinkers often linked with his name Through a series of chapters informed by the same inventive and imaginative spirit characteristic of Goffman s sociology the book presents fresh perspectives on his contribution to the field and reveals the value of his thought for a variety of disciplines now increasingly aware of the importance of Goffman s sociology to a range of social phenomena A fresh perspective on the legacy of one of sociology s most important figures The Routledge International Handbook of Goffman Studies will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in interactionist and micro sociological perspectives Consumer Vulnerability Kathy

Hamilton,Susan Dunnett,Maria Piacentini,2015-08-11 Consumer vulnerability is of growing importance as a research topic for those exploring wellbeing This book provides space to critically engage with the conditions contexts and characteristics of consumer vulnerability which affect how people experience and respond to the marketplace and vice versa Focussing on substantive ethical social and methodological issues this book brings together key researchers in the field and practitioners who work with vulnerability on a daily basis Organised into 4 sections it considers consumer vulnerability and key life stages health and wellbeing poverty and exclusion Methodologically the chapters draw on qualitative research employing a variety of methods from interview to the use of poetry film and other cultural artefacts This book will be of interest to marketing and consumer research scholars and students and also to researchers in other disciplines including sociology public policy and anthropology and practitioners policy makers and charitable organisations working with vulnerable groups Envisaging Death Michele Aaron, 2014-07-18 Envisaging Death Visual Culture and Dying enters the expanding field of Death Studies and connects some of its key interpretive frameworks such as issues of internment practice trauma or end of life care to visual culture and more than that to visual culture's socio political geographic and aesthetic specificities Where the prevailing picture of death within this field is as a Western experience framed by its denial on one side and its sensationalism on the other this collection confronts the specifics of death's marginalisation its experience as local rather than universal and the precise relationship between the context and the cultural mediation of death Who and where you are which part of the world you live in whether you are famous or wealthy subject to natural catastrophe civil unrest or high tech healthcare has enormous influence on how your death is marked imaged and imagined As such this book addresses the socio cultural factors permeating and styling the visual and inevitably material treatment of death and dying in a broad array of personal and national settings Advanced society has been characterised by an increased distancing of death from the everyday and its distortion or invisibility within the public sphere The essays collected here return some shape and context and geo politics to the treatment of death and dying within contemporary culture and specifically within contemporary visual culture which provides an ever more dominating forum for society's depiction of and dealings with death Charting important new interdisciplinary terrain scholars and practitioners from a wide range of fields address an assortment of cultural mediations of real fictional or fictionalised death They navigate in different ways the fraught policed but always relative distance between the living and the dead which characterises these mediations a distance which works inevitably to reassure and re secure those supposedly untouched by death and dying Envisaging Death whether through discussion of the cemetery landscape the still or moving image the therapeutic or educational art practice addresses how such a distance is reinforced It also crucially explores countless cases of and increasing possibilities for the disruption of this distance With the various crises of current times be they economic environmental or regional such possibilities for this disruption and the altered dynamics of human connection that they represent can only gain in significance
