Representations Of Hiv And Aids Visibility Blue S:

Representations of HIV and AIDS Gabriele Griffin, 2000 Gabriele Griffin argues that the explosion of HIV AIDS into highly visible cultural forms from movies theatre activist interventions and art from the late 1980s to the mid 1990s has been replaced by a retreat to artistic invisibility

AIDS and Representation Fiona Johnstone, 2023-05-18 AIDS Representation explores portraits and self portraits made in response to the AIDS epidemic in America in the 1980s and 1990s Addressing the work of artists including Mark Morrisroe Robert Blanchon and Felix Gonzalez Torres through the interrelated themes of sickness and mortality desire and sexual identity love and loss Fiona Johnstone shows how the self representational practices of artists with HIV and AIDS offered a richly imaginative response to the limitations of early AIDS imagery Johnstone argues that the AIDS epidemic changed the very nature of visual representation and artistic practice necessitating a radical new approach to conceptualising and visualising the human form An extended epilogue considers the ongoing art historicization of the epidemic re contextualising the book s themes in relation to contemporary photographic works More than just a historical discussion of the art of the AIDS crisis AIDS and Representation contributes to an emergent body of scholarship on the visual representation of illness Expanding the established genre of the autopathography or illness narrative beyond the predominantly textual this important contribution to art history and health humanities sensitively unpicks the entanglements between aesthetic form and the expression of lived experiences of critical and chronic ill health

HIV in World Cultures Gustavo Subero, 2016-04-22 This book analyses the way that HIV AIDS is often narrativised and represented in contemporary world cultures as well as the different strategies of remembrance deployed by different sub cultural groups affected by the illness Through a close study of a variety of cultural texts including cinema literature theatre art and photography amongst others it demonstrates the trajectory that such narratives and representations have undergone since the advent of the discovery of the disease in the 1980s Acknowledging the central yet often overlooked role that cultural products have played in the construction of public opinion towards the condition itself and those who suffer it this ground breaking volume focuses on a variety of narratives as well as strategies of coping with HIV AIDS that have emerged across the globe Bringing together research on the UK North and South America Africa and China it provides rich textual analyses of the ways in which the HIV positive body has been portrayed in contemporary culture with attention to the differences between specific national contexts whilst keeping in view a space of commonality amongst the different experiences reflected in such texts As such it will be of interest to social scientists and scholars of cultural and media studies concerned with cultural production and representations of the body and sickness

Representations of HIV/AIDS in Contemporary Hispano-American and Caribbean Culture Gustavo Subero, 2016-04-08 Exploring the mechanisms and strategies used in different cultures across Hispano America and the Caribbean to narrativise represent and understand HIV AIDS as a social and human phenomenon this book examines a wide range of cultural artistic and media texts as well as issues of human phenomenology to understand the ways in which HIV positive individuals make sense of their own lives and of the ways in which the rest of society sees them Drawing on a variety of cultural texts from cinema television photography and literature the author considers the manner in which contemporary cultural forms have shaped a body of public opinion in response to the social and cultural impact of HIV AIDS re interpreting the condition in the light of advances in treatment With attention to both the temporality and spatiality of production this book examines whether heterosexual and homosexual and masculine and feminine bodies are narrativised in the same manner considering the question of whether representations foster discrimination of any kind The book also asks whether representations across Latin America are homogenous or varied according to national social or cultural context and explores the commonalities between the representations of HIV AIDS in Hispano America and the Caribbean and other global narratives A detailed study of the various representations of HIV AIDS and the construction of public opinion this book will appeal to scholars of cultural media and film studies the sociology of health the body and illness and Latin American and Caribbean Studies

A Visual History of HIV/AIDS Elisabet Björklund, Mariah Larsson, 2018-07-04

The Face of AIDS film archive at Karolinska Institutet Sweden consists of more than 700 hours of unedited and edited footage shot over a period of more than thirty years and all over the world by filmmaker and journalist Staffan Hildebrand The material documents the HIV AIDS pandemic and includes scenes from conferences and rallies and interviews with activists physicians people with the infection and researchers It represents a global historical development from the early years of the AIDS crisis to a situation in which it is possible to live a normal life with the HIV virus This volume brings together a range of academic perspectives from media and film studies medical history gender studies history and cultural studies to bear on the archive shedding light on memories discourses trauma and activism Using a medical humanities framework the editors explore the influence of historical representations of HIV AIDS and stigma in a world where antiretroviral treatment has fundamentally altered the conditions under which many people diagnosed with HIV live Organized into four sections this book begins by introducing the archive and its role setting it in a global context The first part looks at methodological legal and ethical issues around archiving memories of the present which are then used to construct histories of the past something that can be particularly controversial when dealing with a socially stigmatized epidemic such as HIV AIDS The second section is devoted to analyses of particular films from the archive looking at the portrayal of people living with HIV AIDS the narrative of HIV as a chronic illness and the contemporary context of particular films The third section looks at how stigma and trauma are negotiated in the material in the Face of AIDS film archive discussing ideas about suffering and culpability The final section contributes perspectives on and by the filmmaker as activist and auteur This interdisciplinary collection is placed at the intersection of medical humanities sexuality studies and film and media studies continuing a tradition of studies on the cultural and social understandings of HIV AIDS

The Body in History, Culture, and the Arts Justyna Jajszczok, Aleksandra Musiał, 2019-03-27 The aim of this book is to explore the body in various historical contexts and to take it as a point of departure for broader historiographical projects The chapters in the volume present the ways in which the body constitutes a valuable and productive object of historical analysis especially as a lens through which to trace histories of social political and cultural phenomena and processes More specifically the authors use the body as a tool for critical re examination of particular histories of human experience and of societal and cultural practices thus contributing to the burgeoning area of body history in terms of both specific case studies as well as historiography in general

HIV/AIDS in Memory, Culture and Society Alicia Castillo Villanueva,Angelos

Bollas,2024-07-08 This volume examines the role of culture in developing social cultural and political discourses of HIV AIDS from a contemporary viewpoint In doing so the memory of HIV AIDS is a powerful tool to examine representations of the past and connect them with future debates This reassessment of HIV AIDS explores the most appropriate way to come to terms with a past that involved a negative stigmatised and marginalised representation Therefore remembering plays a key role in generating collective memory which allows for the exchange of mnemonic content between individual minds creates discourses on memory and commemoration and disseminates versions of the past that may affect the representation of HIV AIDS in the future Indeed rewriting about the past also means assessing our responsibility towards the present and the potential of transmission to future generations especially in times of pandemics

New Body Politics Therí A.

Pickens,2014-02-05 In the increasingly multi racial and multi ethnic American landscape of the present understanding and bridging dynamic cross cultural conversations about social and political concerns becomes a complicated humanistic project How do everyday embodied experiences transform from being anecdotal to having social and political significance What can the experience of corporeality offer social and political discourse And how does that discourse change when those bodies belong to Arab Americans and African Americans Ther A Pickens discusses a range of literary cultural and archival material where narratives emphasize embodied experience to examine how these experiences constitute Arab Americans and African Americans as social and political subjects Pickens argues that Arab American and African American narratives rely on the body s fragility rather than its exceptional strength or emotion to create urgent social and political critiques The creators of these narratives find potential in mundane experiences such as breathing touch illness pain and death Each chapter in this book focuses on one of these everyday embodied experiences and examines how authors mobilize that fragility to create social and political commentary Pickens discusses how the authors focus on quotidian experiences complicates their critiques of the nation state domestic and international politics exile cultural mores and the medical establishment New Body Politics participates in a vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about cross ethnic studies American literature and Arab American literature Using intercultural analysis Pickens explores issues of the body and representation that will be relevant to fields as varied as Political Science African American Studies Arab American Studies and Disability Studies

Asking the Audience

Adair Rounthwaite,2017-02-21 The 1980s was a critical decade in shaping today s art production While newly visible work concerned with power and identity hinted at a shift toward multiculturalism the 80s were also a time of social conservatism that resulted in substantial changes in arts funding In Asking the Audience Adair Rounthwaite uses this context to analyze the rising popularity of audience participation in American art during this important decade Rounthwaite explores two seminal and interrelated art projects sponsored by the Dia Art Foundation in New York Group Material's Democracy and Martha Rosler's If You Lived Here These projects married issues of social activism such as homelessness and the AIDS crisis with various forms of public participation setting the precedent for the high profile participatory practices currently dominating global contemporary art Rounthwaite draws on diverse archival images audio recordings and more than thirty new interviews to analyze the live affective dynamics to which the projects gave rise Seeking to foreground the audience experience in understanding the social context of participatory art she argues that affect is key to the audience's ability to exercise agency within the participatory artwork From artists and audiences to institutions funders and critics Asking the Audience traces the networks that participatory art creates between various agents demonstrating how since the 1980s leftist political engagement has become a cornerstone of the institutionalized consumption of contemporary art
