Reproduction And Social Context In Sub Saharan Africa A Collection Of Micro Demographic Studies:

Reproduction and Social Context in Sub-Saharan Africa Samuel Agyei-Mensah, John B. Casterline, 2003-06-30 Perhaps no region matches sub Saharan Africa in its social and cultural diversity In this collection of micro demographic studies the authors examine how the diversity of this region influences reproductive behavior The empirical studies distributed throughout the continent are localized in depth studies that give special attention to contextual effects of social structure and social organization A diverse range of topics is addressed including adolescent sexuality and the effects of early childbearing on later fertility the impact of development programs on fertility and the association between social organization social diffusion and reproductive regime Highly revealing of the determinants of reproduction in Africa these studies serve as a model for a new mode of demographic research The chapters are arranged by geographical regions of the continent with an introductory chapter outlining the editors vision of a micro demographic enterprise and a concluding chapter placing the African fertility transition in the context of the global fertility transition This volume inspires fresh thinking and theorizing about demographic change not only in sub Saharan Africa but also in all low income settings Reproduction and Social Context in Sub-Saharan Africa Samuel Agyei-Mensah, John B. Casterline, 2003

Population Studies: Key Issues and Contemporary Trends in Ghana Badasu, Delali Margaret, Kwankye, Stephen Owusu, 2014-09-01 The scope of Population Studies as a discipline has expanded beyond its traditional focus on the three components of population and their dynamics fertility mortality and migration It encompasses broader themes including reproductive health and rights gender and other social and cultural dimensions of population dynamics human development and health and climate change Population is central to development and its integration into the development planning of every country is critical This volume of the University of Ghana Readers by the Regional Institute for Population Studies RIPS provides multi disciplinary perspectives on the multi faceted nature of population studies today The volume is an essential resource on contemporary issues on population studies and offers a unique opportunity for students of population studies and others who are interested in the study of human populations to enhance their understanding of the ramifications of population dynamics on development It also has rich material on demographic research methods and provides tools for building the research capacity of academics and technocrats who are interested in population driven interventions advocacy and policy Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub-Saharan Africa Kathleen Sheldon, 2016-03-04 African women s history is a vast topic that embraces a wide variety of societies in over 50 countries with different geographies social customs religions and historical situations Africa is a predominantly agricultural continent and a major factor in African agriculture is the central role of women as farmers It is estimated that between 65 and 80 percent of African women are engaged in cultivating food for their families and in the past that percentage was likely even higher Thus one common thread across much of the continent is women s daily work in their family plot This second edition of Historical Dictionary of Women in Sub Saharan Africa contains a chronology an introduction appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on individual African women in history politics religion and the arts on important events organizations and publications and on topics important to women in general marriage fertility employment and to African women in particular market women child marriage queen mothers This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about the Women in Africa

Alternative Development Cathrine Brun,Piers Blaikie,2016-03-23 This book brings together a collection of essays that discuss alternative development and its relevance for local global processes of marginalization and change in the Global South Alternative development questions who the producers of development knowledges and practices are and aims at decentring development and geographical knowledge from the Anglo American centre and the Global North It involves resistance to dominant political economic processes in order to further the possibilities for non exploitative and just forms of development By discussing how to unravel marginalization and voice change through alternative methods actors and concepts the book provides useful guidance on understanding the relationship between theory and practice The main strength of the book is that it calls for a central role for alternative development in the current development discourse most notably related to justice rights globalization forced migration conflict and climate change The book provides new ways of engaging with alternative development thinking and making development alternatives relevant

Readings in Sexualities from Africa Rachel Spronk,Thomas Hendriks,2020-02-04 Images and stories about African sexuality abound in today s globalized media Frequently old stereotypes and popular opinion inform these stories and sex in the media is predominately approached as a problem in need of solutions and intervention The authors gathered here refuse an easy characterization of African sexuality and instead seek to understand the various erotic realities sexual practices and gendered changes taking place across the continent They present a nuanced and comprehensive overview of the field of sex and sexuality in Africa to serve as a guide though the quickly expanding literature This collection offers a set of texts that use sexuality as a prism for studying how communities coalesce against the canvas of larger political and economic contexts and how personal lives evolve therein Scholars working in Africa the U S and Europe reflect on issues of representation health and bio politics same sex relationships and identity transactional economies of sex religion and tradition and the importance of pleasure and agency This multidimensional reader provides a comprehensive view of sexuality from an African perspective
