Requirements Targeting Software And Systems Engineering International Workshop Rtse 97 Bernried Germany October 1214 1997 Proceedings:

Requirements Targeting Software and Systems Engineering Manfred Broy, Bernhard Rumpe, 2005-06-30 This book constitutes the strictly refereed post workshop proceedings of the International Workshop on Requirements Targeting Software and Systems Engineering RTSE 97 held in Bernried Germany in October 1997 The 15 revised full papers presented in the book were carefully revised and reviewed for inclusion in the book Among the authors are internationally leading researchers The book is divided in sections on foundations of software engineering methodology evaluation and case studies and tool support and prototyping

Requirements Targeting Software and Systems Engineering Manfred Broy, Bernhard Rumpe, 1998-11-04 Software engineering research has different profiles in Europe and North America While in North America there is a lot of know how in the practical technical and organizational aspects of software engineering in Europe the work concentrates more on foundations and formal modeling of software engineering issues Both approaches have their individual strengths and weaknesses Research driven solely by practice in software engineering runs in the danger of developing into a shallow field failing to find a solid scientific basis or to contribute substantially to the progress in software engineering Work concentrating on formal aspects alone is in the danger of becoming too theoretical and isolated from practice so that any transfer into practical application will fail Substantial progress in software engineering can be achieved however by bringing together pragmatic and foundational work in software engineering research This can provide a step towards a common scientific basis for software engineering that allows us to integrate the various research results leading to fruitful synergetic effects It will also help to identify critical research paths and to develop an adequate paradigm for the scientific discipline of software engineering In software and systems engineering it is necessary to distinguish the enormous difference between the dynamics in development we refer to and the limited scope assumed by many of today's software managers who still use outdated techniques Many of the unsolved problems associated with the old techniques are symptoms of a lack of formalization and a lack of automation support It was the goal of this workshop to bring together experts from science and practice in software and systems engineering from North America and Europe

Proceedings of the Third International Workshop on Requirements Engineering International Workshop on Requirements Engineering:

Foundations of Software Quality, 1997 Workshop on "Requirements Targeting Software and Systems Engineering." Manfred Broy, Technische Universität München (Germany) Institut für Informatik, 1998 The intended focus of the workshop was on unified sets of formal models and associated methods suitable for automation for many aspects of software development in particular those that address change and those that apply on a large scale Some of the intended aspects of software evolution are 1 modifiable software architectures 2 resource changes 3 context changes 4 requirements changes 5 changes to decomposition structures and 6 changes in plans These issues are related to formal representations of the version history and formal representations of the activities that produced existing versions or have been proposed to produce future versions

Requirements Engineering: Foundation for Software Quality Daniel M. Berry, Xavier Franch, 2011-03-18 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 17th International Working Conference on Requirements Engineering Foundation for Software Quality REFSQ 2011 held in Essen Germany in March 2011 The 10 revised full papers and the 9 short papers presented were carefully reviewed and selected from 59 submissions The papers are organized in seven topical sections on security and sustainability process improvement and requirements in context elicitation models services embedded and real time systems and prioritization and traceability

Requirements Engineering: Foundation for Software Quality Fabiano Dalpiaz, Paola Spoletini, 2021-04-01 This book constitutes the proceedings of the 27th International Working Conference on Requirements Engineering Foundation for Software Quality REFSQ 2021 which was due to be held in Essen Germany in April 2021 Due to the COVID 19 pandemic the conference was held virtually in April 2021 The special focus of this year s REFSQ 2021 conference are contributions emphasizing the importance of human values such as privacy and fairness when designing software intensive systems as well as the challenges that intelligent and autonomous systems pose due to the tight interplay with humans

User-Centred Requirements for Software Engineering Environments David J. Gilmore, Russel L. Winder, Francoise Detienne, 2013-06-29 The idea for this workshop originated when I came across and read Martin Zelkowitz s book on Requirements for Software Engineering Environments the proceedings of a small workshop held at the University of Maryland in 1986 Although stimulated by the book I was also disappointed in that it didn t adequately address two important questions Whose requirements are these and Will the environment which meets all these requirements be usable by software engineers And thus was the decision made to organise this workshop which would explicitly address these two questions As time went by setting things up it became clear that our workshop would happen more than five years after the Maryland workshop and thus at the same time as addressing the two questions above this workshop would attempt to update the Zelkowitz approach Hence the workshop acquired two halves one dominated by discussion of what we already know about usability problems in software engineering and the other by discussion of existing solutions technical and otherwise to these problems This scheme also provided a good format for bringing together those in the HeI community concerned with the human factors of software engineering and those building tools to solve acknowledged but rarely understood problems

2018 IEEE/ACM 5th International Workshop on Requirements Engineering and Testing (RET). Michael Unterkalmsteiner, 2018

Requirements Engineering: Foundation for Software Quality Roel Wieringa, Anne Persson, 2010-06-16 This volume compiles the papers accepted for presentation at the 16th Working Conference on Requirements Engineering Foundation for Software Quality REFSQ 2010 held in Essen during June 30 and July 1 2 2010 Since 1994 when the first REFSQ took place requirements engineering RE has never ceased to be a dominant factor influencing the quality of software systems and services Initially started as a workshop the REFSQ working conference series has now established itself as one of the leading international forums to discuss RE in its many relations to quality. It seeks reports of novel ideas and techniques that enhance the quality of RE products and processes as well as reflections on current research and industrial RE practices. One of the most appreciated characteristics of REFSQ is that of being a highly interactive and structured event. REFSQ 2010 was no exception to this tradition. In all we received a healthy 57 submissions. After all submissions had been fully assessed by three independent reviewers and went through electronic discussions the Program Committee met and finally selected 15 top quality full papers, 13 research papers and 2 experience reports and 7 short papers resulting in an acceptance rate of 38 %. The work presented at REFSQ 2009 continues to have a strong anchoring in practice with empirical investigations spanning over a wide range of application domains.
