The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions Wail S. Hassan, 2017 The Oxford Handbook of Arab Novelistic Traditions encompasses the genesis of the Arabic novel in the second half of the nineteenth century and its development to the present in every Arab country as well as Arab immigrant writing in many languages around the world Lebanese Migrants in Australia and New Zealand, 2004 The Cambridge History of the Australian Novel David Carter, 2023-07-27 The Cambridge History of the Australian Novel is an authoritative volume on the Australian novel by more than forty experts in the field of Australian literary studies drawn from within Australia and abroad Essays cover a wide range of types of novel writing and publishing from the earliest colonial period through to the present day The international dimensions of publishing Australian fiction are also considered as are the changing contours of criticism of the novel in Australia Chapters examine colonial fiction women s writing Indigenous novels popular genre fiction historical fiction political novels and challenging novels on identity and belonging from recent decades not least the major rise of Indigenous novel writing Essays focus on specific periods of major change in Australian history or range broadly across themes and issues that have influenced fiction across many years and in many parts of the country Postcolonial Lack Gautam Basu Thakur, 2020-03-16 Postcolonial Lack reconvenes dialogue between Lacanian psychoanalysis and postcolonial theory in order to expand the range of cultural analyses of the former and make the latter theoretically relevant to the demands of contemporary narratives of othering exclusion and cultural appropriation Seeking to resolve the mutual suspicion between the disciplines Gautam Basu Thakur draws out the connections existing between Lacan s teachings on subjectivity and otherness and writings of postcolonial and decolonial theorists such as Gayatri Spivak Frantz Fanon and Homi Bhabha By developing new readings of the marginalized other as radical impasse and pushing the envelope on neoliberal identity politics the book moves postcolonial studies away from the perennial topic of identity and difference and into examining the form and function of the other as excess surplus and or lack in colonial and postcolonial literature film and social discourse Looking at writings by Mahasweta Devi Amitav Ghosh Leila Aboulela Narayan Gangopadhyay Katherine Boo and films by Gillo Pontecorvo Clint Eastwood Ryan Coogler Black Panther and Tony Gatlif Basu Thakur highlights a new set of ethical and political considerations emerging as a direct result of this shift and stakes a fundamental rethinking of postcoloniality through what he calls the politics of ontological discordance A New Generation of African Writers Brenda Cooper, 2013 Brenda Cooper examines the work of the new generation of African writers who have placed migration as central to their writing. There is a growing interest in books by writers of African origin. These authors have often grown up or passed their early adult years out of Africa. The Orange Prize for Fiction was awarded in London 2007 to Chimamanda Ngozie Adichie's Half of a Yellow Sun and the Caine Prize for African Writing has introduced new writers such as Leila Aboulela, Biyi Bandele and Chimamanda Adichie herself to agents and publishers. This examination of the extraordinary work which has recently appeared is therefore very timely. Migration is a central theme of much African fiction written in English. Here Brenda Cooper tracks the journeys undertaken by a new generation of African writers, their protagonists and the solid objects that populate their fiction to depict the material realities of their multiple worlds and languages. She explores the uses to which the English language is put in order to understand these worlds and demonstrates how these writers have contested the dominance of colonising metaphors. The writers' challenge is to find an English that can effectively express their many lives, languages and identities.

BRENDA COOPER was for many years Director of the Centre for African Studies and Professor in the English department at the University of Cape Town where she is now an Emeritus Professor. In 2009 she moved to Salford where she is an Honorary Research Associate at the University of Manchester. She has published widely on African fiction and postcolonial literary theory. Southern Africa, South Africa, Botswana, Namibia, Lesotho and Swaziland. University of KwaZulu Natal Press. Australian Book Review, 1999. Straussophobia Peter Minowitz, 2009-08-15. Leo Strauss and his students have long been accused of mendacity, elitism and militarism, but the Iraq War has prompted unprecedented levels of caustic and inaccurate denunciations. Inappropriate criticisms have issued from artists, Tim Robbins, politicians, Ron Paul, journalists, Joe Klein and even highly lauded scholars such as Arthur Schlesinger Jr, Gordon Wood, Douglas Massey, Stephen Holmes, Anne Norton, Shadia Drury, Sheldon Wolin, John Pocock, John Yolton, Nicholas Xenos and Brian Leiter. In Straussophobia Peter Minowitz provides a methodical and detailed critique of the major offenders, especially of Drury who maintains that Strauss established a covert tyranny that would keep the Western world mired in perpetual war. In replying to such charges, and to various authors who belittle Strauss's contributions as a scholar, Minowitz highlights the imaginative yet meticulous manner in which Strauss interpreted Thucydides, Plato, Xenophon, Farabi, Machiavelli, Hobbes, Locke and Carl Schmitt. Straussophobia also provides both a comprehensive assessment of Strauss's 1933 letter that commended fascist, authoritarian and imperial principles and a compelling account of Strauss's influence or lack of influence on neoconservative promoters of the Iraq War, e.g. Paul Wolfowitz, Richard Perle and Lewis Libby. The book likewise breaks new ground in employing diversity discourse to explain and combat the bigotry and buffoonery that pervade attacks against Strauss and Straussians, and in drawing on Strauss to illuminate the distortions that mar some widely used arguments for affirmative action.

Australian National Bibliography, 1997-12. Aquinas and Modernity Shadia B. Drury, 2008-05-16. In this startling book Drury overturns the long standing reputation of Thomas Aquinas as the most rational exponent of the Christian faith. She reveals that Aquinas as one of the most zealous Dominicans, Domini Canes or Hounds of the Lord. The book contains incisive criticisms of Aquinas's reconciliation of faith and reason his defense of papal supremacy his justification of the Inquisition his insistence on the persecution of Jews and his veneration of celibacy Far from being an antiquarian exercise Drury shows why the study of Aquinas is relevant to the politics of the twenty first century where the primacy of faith over reason has experienced a revival The current pope Benedict XVI relies heavily on Aquinas when prescribing cures for the ills of modernity For Drury religion is as incompatible with political moderation and sobriety in our time as it was in the thirteenth century This is why she defends a secular version of Aquinas's theory of natural law_a theory that he betrayed in favor of what she calls the politics of salvation
