María Julia Morales

Resumen

Este artículo presenta un mapeo de las políticas educativas de inclusión de tecnologías de la información y la comunicación (TIC), de los marcos de competencias digitales y la pertinencia de conocer su alcance en un contexto de pandemia y pospandemia. Se revisa cómo los modelos 1 a 1 de inclusión digital han irrumpido en los sistemas educativos y cómo estos incorporan las TIC desde una perspectiva que toma en cuenta al estudiante y al desarrollo de su competencia digital, para ahondar luego en el desarrollo de la competencia digital docente. Se reflexiona acerca de las herramientas de la educación en Uruguay para afrontar una acelerada transición hacia una enseñanza remota de emergencia como única respuesta educativa en un contexto de pandemia y cómo podría pensarse pospandemia y para quiénes.

Palabras clave: TIC, educación, competencia digital docente.

Abstract

Digital competence in technology-mediated learning. A first post-pandemic reflection

This article provides a mapping of ICT inclusion education policies and digital competency frameworks and the relevance of understanding their scope in a pandemic and post-pandemic context. Firstly, we review how the 1-to-1 models of digital inclusion have burst into education systems and how they reflect a view of the incorporation of ICT from a perspective that takes into account the student and the development of digital competence (DC) in them, to then delve into the development of digital competence of teachers (TDC) as a relevant actor in teaching and learning processes mediated by digital technologies. Finally, it reflects on research results in relation to the tools that education in Uruguay has had to face an accelerated transition towards an emergency remote teaching, as the only educational response in a context of uncertainty in pandemic and how it could be thought post-pandemic and for whom in a continuum from face-to-face mediated by digital technologies to full virtuality.

Keywords: ICT, education, digital teaching competence.

Comparative Theories of Nonduality Milton Scarborough, 2011-10-20 It is a commonplace that while Asia is nondualistic the West because of its uncritical reliance on Greek derived intellectual standards is dualistic Dualism is a deep seated habit of thinking and acting in all spheres of life through the prism of binary opposites leads to paralyzing practical and theoretical difficulties Asia can provide no assistance for the foreseeable future because the West finds Asian nondualism especially that of Mahayana Buddhism too alien and nihilistic On the other hand postmodern thought which purports to deliver us from the dualisms embedded in modernity turns out to be merely a pseudo postmodernism This book's novel idea is that the West already contains within one of its more marginalized roots that of ancient Hebrew culture a pre philosophical form of nondualism which makes possible a new form of nondualism one to which the West can subscribe This new nondualism inspired by Buddhism but not identical to it is an epistemological ontological metaphysical and praxical middle way both for the West and also between East and West The Mystic Way in Postmodernity Sue Yore, 2009 This book challenges experiential esoteric and colloquial understandings of mysticism by bringing a fresh relevance to the term through an interdisciplinary dialogue between literature mysticism and theology in the context of postmodernity In order to achieve this the author takes selected writings of Iris Murdoch Denise Levertov and Annie Dillard and incorporates them into various stages of a redesigned mystic way The fourteenth century mystic Julian of Norwich is invoked throughout as a role model whom these three writers seek to emulate as popular writers contemplatives and theologians As theologians who are concerned with the pressing issues of our age Grace Jantzen Dorothee Soelle and Sallie McFague are drawn on as conversation partners to complete the three way discussion The author maintains that understanding the writing and reading of creative texts in the context of practical mysticism facilitates an integrated approach to the use of literature for theological expression God, Morality, and Beauty Randall B. Bush, 2019-07-01 Randall B Bush analyzes the ways unacknowledged axiological assumptions e g about what is important why human beings are valuing creatures and where the capacity to value comes from prejudice the perspectives and approaches of various academic disciplines especially in the social sciences and the humanities The disciplines of ethics and aesthetics provide the most useful tools for a philosophy of value but academic overspecialization has compartmentalized and segregated these disciplines from others threatening to unravel the unity of conceptions of the moral and the beautiful in human existence Bush argues that a dialectical approach to conflicts between ethics and aesthetics can point to a broader axiological vision informed by a Trinitarian conception of reality in which the whole a coherent theory of value is more than the sum of its parts

Revisioning Transpersonal Theory Jorge N. Ferrer, 2001-10-19 In his striking debut Jorge N Ferrer deconstructs and reconstructs the entire transpersonal project articulating a more sophisticated pluralistic and spiritually grounded transpersonal theory He brings recent ideas in epistemology and the philosophy of science to bear upon core issues in the psychology and philosophy of religion The book's first half Deconstruction describes the nature and origins of the prevailing vision that has guided transpersonal scholarship so far and identifies some of its main conceptual and practical limitations subtle Cartesianism spiritual narcissism intrasubjective empiricism and reductionistic universalism In the second half of the book Reconstruction Ferrer suggests a way of reconceiving transpersonal ideas without these limitations a participatory vision of human spirituality one which not only places transpersonal studies in greater alignment with the values of the spiritual quest but also discloses a rich variety of spiritual liberations spiritual worlds and even ultimate realities

Collins, 2011-07-01 A rich articulation of John Wesley's theology that is appreciative of the old and mindful of the new faithful to the past and attentive to the present This work carefully displays John Wesley's eighteenth century theology in its own distinct historical and social location but then transitions to the twenty first century through the introduction of contemporary issues So conceived the book is both historical and constructive demonstrating that the theology of Wesley represents a vibrant tradition Cognizant of Wesley's own preferred vocabulary Collins introduces Wesley's theological method beginning with a discussion of the doctrine of God In this insightful exposition the leitmotif of holy love arises out of Wesley's reflection on the nature of the divine being as well as other major doctrines Douglas Meeks

Bovell, 2012-02-20 The notion that the Bible is inerrant in everything it teaches is something those with conservative upbringings are conditioned to take for granted However after being exposed to scholarship in biblical studies and other disciplines some draw the unexpected conclusion that inerrancy as a doctrine is in dire need of serious revamping Unfortunately inerrantist politics and culture are making the constructive restorative process impossible to initiate In Rehabilitating Inerrancy in a Culture of Fear Carlos Bovell offers a synoptic overview of the issues to be addressed if inerrancy is to survive as a viable bibliological option
