Jim Crow: Voices from a Century of Struggle Part 2 (LOA #387) Tyina L. Steptoe, 2025-06-17 A vivid firsthand record of the struggle for legal equality and dignity in the face of segregation and racial terror from 1919 to 1976 W E B Du Bois famously identified the problem of the color line as the defining issue in American life The powerful writings gathered here reveal the many ways Americans Black and white fought against white supremacist efforts to police the color line envisioning a better America in the face of disenfranchisement segregation and widespread lynching mob violence and police brutality Jim Crow Voices from a Century of Struggle Part Two brings together speeches pamphlets newspaper and magazine articles public testimony and appeals judicial opinions and poems and song lyrics more than ninety essential texts in all from the end of the bloody Red Summer of 1919 to the Boston busing crisis of 1974-76. This volume includes writing by both famous and lesser known individuals including B. C. Franklin on the Tulsa Massacre, Robert Russa Moton's suppressed address on the dedication of the Lincoln Memorial, Alain Locke's tribute to the New Negro, Ned Cobb's recounting of the harsh realities of sharecropping, Thurgood Marshall on police brutality in wartime Detroit, Rosa Parks's appeal for justice, for Recy Taylor, Earl Warren's landmark opinion in Brown v. Board of Education, Paul Robeson's defiant response to congressional inquisitors, Fannie Lou Hamer's eloquent challenge to disenfranchisement in Mississippi, and James Baldwin on the myths and meaning of the American Dream. Also presented are white supremacist writings from the 1920s, Klan and the Dixiecrats of 1948, examples of Southern voter literacy tests, blues lyrics sung by Bessie Smith and Big Bill Broonzy, Robert F. Williams's controversial call for armed Black self-defense, speeches by Marcus Garvey and Stokeley Carmichael, letters in the Black press about Confederate monuments, Ann Moody on her childhood in segregated Mississippi, and Mary McLeod Bethune's advocacy for reproductive rights as an essential element of democratic freedom. As the teaching of our nation's history, especially the history of race in America, becomes increasingly contested, this book will serve as a vital resource, a crucial reminder of where we've been, how far we've come, and how long the road ahead remains.

Remembering Medgar Evers Minrose Gwin, 2013-02-25. As the first NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, Medgar Wiley Evers put his life on the line to investigate racial crimes, including Emmett Till's murder, and to organize boycotts and voter registration drives. On June 12, 1963, he was shot in the back by white supremacist Byron De La Beckwith as the civil rights leader unloaded a stack of Jim Crow "Must Go" T-shirts in his own driveway. His was the first assassination of a high-ranking public figure in the civil rights movement. While Evers's death ushered in a decade of political assassinations and ignited a powder keg of racial unrest nationwide, his life of service and courage has largely been consigned to the periphery of U.S. and civil rights history. In her compelling study of collective memory and artistic production, Remembering Medgar Evers, Minrose Gwin engages the powerful body of work that has emerged in response to Evers's life and death: fiction, poetry, memoir, drama, and songs from James Baldwin, Margaret Walker, Eudora Welty, Lucille Clifton, Bob Dylan, and Willie Morris, among others. Gwin examines local news accounts about Evers, 1960s gospel and protest music, as well as contemporary hip-hop, the haunting poems of Frank X. Walker, and contemporary fiction such as The Help and Gwin's own novel The Queen of Palmyra. In this study, Evers springs to life as a leader of plural singularity who modeled for southern African Americans a new form of cultural identity that both drew from the past and broke from it, to quote Gwendolyn Brooks:

He leaned across tomorrow Fifty years after his untimely death Evers still casts a long shadow In her examination of the body of work he has inspired Gwin probes wide ranging questions about collective memory and art as instruments of social justice Remembered Evers s life s legacy pivots to the future she writes linking us to other human rights struggles both local and global A Sarah Mills Hodge Fund Publication American Black Women in the Arts and Social Sciences; A Bibliographic Survey Ora Williams,1994-01-01 Calls attention to the many contributions African American women have made to American and world culture Includes pictures of artists art works and authors Now Upon a Time Myra Sadker,Myra Pollack Sadker,David Miller Sadker,1977 Themagerichte benadering van de hedendaagse vnl Engelse en Amerikaanse jeugdliteratuur waarin onderwerpen als seksualiteit ouderdom dood milieu discriminatie racisme en oorlog en vrede in kinderboeken uitvoerig worden behandeld en voorzien van een titellijst Women's Rights in the United States Tiffany K. Wayne,2014-12-09 A comprehensive encyclopedia tracing the history of the women s rights movement in the United States from the American Revolution to the present day Few realize that the origin of the discussion on women s rights emerged out of the anti slavery movement of the 19th century and that suffragists were active in the peace and labor movements long after the right to vote was granted Thus began the confluence of activism in our country where the rights of women both followed and led the social and political discourse in America Through 4 volumes and more than 800 entries editor Tiffany K Wayne with advising editor Lois Banner examine the issues people and events of women s activism from the early period of American history to the present time This comprehensive reference not only traces the historical evolution of the movement but also covers current issues affecting women such as reproductive freedom political participation pay equity violence against women and gay civil rights Argonaut ,1903 The European Magazine and London Review, by the Philological Society of London ,1808 And a Time to Die Sharon Kaufman,2005-04-19 A reassuring and illuminating examination on our conflicting wishes about the end of life how the politics and routines of the American hospital have formed our understanding and experience of death and ultimately why what we consider a good death is so hard to attain In a penetrating and revelatory study medical anthropologist Dr Sharon Kaufman uses two years of intensive observations and interviews with scores of patients family members physicians nurses social workers and other staff at several community hospitals in California to explore the heart of a science driven yet fractured and often irrational world of health care delivery where empathetic yet frustrated hard working yet constrained professionals both respond to and create the anxieties and often inchoate expectations of patients and families who must make decisions they are ill prepared to make She sought out the critically ill the dying and their friends and relatives She followed patients from admission to death days weeks or sometimes months later through what is often for them and their families a Kafka esque journey She asked hospital staff what they were doing and why and stood beside doctors and nurses observing their work cynicism compassion and frustration And she paid close attention to the most important player of all the hospital beauracracy and how it impacts the manner and timing of patient death Her investigative research links together the emotional experiences of patients and families the dedicated work of hospital staff and the ramifications of institutional bureaucracy to show the invisible power of the hospital system itself its rules mandates and daily activity in organizing death and individual experience of it The book is the story of real patients and their families an account of what drives the American hospital today and a report on the complex sources and implications of doing something about death
