Notes from Underground, White Nights, the Dream of a White Nights and Selections from the House of the Dead Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1961 The Novels of Fyodor Dostoevsky: White nights and other stories Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1918 Narrative Space and Gender in Russian Fiction Joe Andrew, 2007 The present volume has as its primary aim readings from a feminist perspective of a number of works from Russian literature published over the period in which the woman question rose to the fore and reached its peak All the works considered here were produced in or hark back to a fairly narrowly defined period of not quite 20 years 1846-1864 in which issues of gender of male and female roles were discussed much more keenly than in perhaps any other period in Russian literature The overall project is summed up by the three key words of this book's title narrative space and gender and especially the interconnections between them That is what do the way these stories were told tell us about gender identities in mid nineteenth century Russia Which spaces were central to these fictional worlds Which spaces suggested which gender identities The discussions therefore focus on issues of narrative and space and how they acted as technologies of gender This volume will be of interest to all interested in nineteenth century Russian literature as well as students of gender and of the semiotics of narrative space Light and Obscurity in Symbolism Deborah Cibelli, Rosina Neginsky, 2016-01-14 The idea of light and darkness is one of the central ideas of the Symbolist movement since this is a movement of contrasts It encompasses the major themes of Symbolism such as good and evil beauty and ugliness the visible and the invisible and the divine and the earthly This volume brings together a range of studies in order to understand the notion of light and darkness and a variety of its Symbolist interpretations It also stresses the interdisciplinary nature of the concepts of light and darkness in Symbolism as well as the cohabitation and symbiosis of both which are together or separately at the core of this movement Pícaros, Madmen, Naïfs, and Clowns William Riggan, 1981 Confronting / Defining the Self John A. McCarthy, 2024-07-01 Early 20th century literary critics Joseph Collins Hermann Hesse and Percy Lubbock concluded that the pages of a book present a succession of moments that the reader visualizes and reinterprets They feared that few would actually commit themselves to memory and that most were likely to soon disappear As you turn these pages you will re-discover the value of the literary canon through the Self My objective is to examine how the Self is formed lost and regained through creative strategies that confront and define its shapes and distortions on nearly every page of a canonical work You can consider Confronting Defining the Self Formation and Dissolution of the I from La Fayette to Grass as offering an apology for the study of literature and the humanities in an era when technology and commerce dominate our consciousness drive our daily expectations and shape our career goals

Dostoevsky's Polyphonic Talent Joe E. Barnhart, 2005 This book illuminates the connectedness of Dostoevsky's literary art with his philosophical and psychological brilliance Two Fyodor Dostoevsky conferences originating at the University of North Texas set the stage for this volume Scholars contributed original papers focusing on how Dostoevsky's literary art and philosophical insights enrich one another Fyodor Dostoevsky wrote and thought polyphonically His polyphonic method is both his special literary technique and his distinctive way of probing theological social and philosophical depths As Bakhtin and Terras suggest all Dostoevsky's major literary inventions from the underground man to the vitriolic Grushenka are products of his ability to listen profoundly to his own characters Like the genius author redactor of 1 and 2 Samuel he reports the heights and depths of human emotion and behavior whether exploring the anatomy of dysfunctional families making the heart soar with Zosima's vision of forgiveness or giving Ivan Karamazov full rein to challenge theism Dostoevsky's characters transform themselves into irregular verbs whose fierce independence emerges only because of their desperate and inescapable interdependence His major characters are text subtext and context for each other They play inside each other's head and answer in one way or another White Nights Fyodor Dostoyevsky, 1923
