Notes On The Cinematographer:

Notes on the Cinematograph Robert Bresson, 2016-11-15 The French film director Robert Bresson was one of the great artists of the twentieth century and among the most radical original and radiant stylists of any time He worked with nonprofessional actors models as he called them and deployed a starkly limited but hypnotic array of sounds and images to produce such classic works as A Man Escaped Pickpocket Diary of a Country Priest and Lancelot of the Lake From the beginning to the end of his career Bresson dedicated himself to making movies in which nothing is superfluous and everything is always at stake Notes on the Cinematograph distills the essence of Bresson's theory and practice as a filmmaker and artist He discusses the fundamental differences between theater and film parses the deep grammar of silence music and noise and affirms the mysterious power of the image to unlock the human soul This book indispensable for admirers of this great director and for students of the cinema will also prove an inspiration much like Rilke's Letters to a Young Poet for anyone who responds to the claims of the imagination at its most searching and rigorous

Notes on the Cinematographer Robert Bresson, 1986 Robert Bresson makes some quite radical distinctions between what he terms cinematography and something quite different cinema which is for him nothing but an attempt to photograph theater and use it for the screen Director of The Trial of Joan of Arc Pickpocket A Prisoner Escapes Diary of a Country Priest Money and many other classic films Robert Bresson is quite simply one of the most brilliant cinematographers in the history of film

Star Texts Jeremy G. Butler, 1991 A collection of previously published works on performance and stardom examining the relationship between genre and performance the position of the star within ideology the construction of a semiotics of performance and stardom the function of the actor within experimental or independent cinema and the distinction between performance and everyday behavior Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

The Camera-Eye Metaphor in Cinema Christian Quendler, 2016-11-18 This book explores the cultural intellectual and artistic fascination with camera eye metaphors in film culture of the twentieth century By studying the very metaphor that cinema lives by it provides a rich and insightful map of our understanding of cinema and film styles and shows how cinema shapes our understanding of the arts and media As current new media technologies are attempting to shift the identity of cinema and moving imagery it is hard to overstate the importance of this metaphor for our understanding of the modalities of vision In what guises does the camera eye continue to survive in media that is called new

Notes on the Cinematographer ;with an Introduction by J.M.G. Le Clezio Robert Bresson, 1996

So What, or How to Make Films with Words Alexander García Düttmann, 2023-01-15 A series of philosophical meditations on the nature of aesthetics across a wide array of filmmaking styles Images whether filmic or not cannot be replaced by words Yet words can make images This is the general thesis underlying So What a collection of essays on canonical filmmakers like Luchino Visconti and Orson Welles more experimental directors such as Marguerite

Duras and Albert Serra and visual artists including Hollis Frampton and Agnes Martin Alexander Garcia Dittmann aims to make their films as if they did not precede his text capturing their idea and experience If the relationship between filmic image and text is a heterogeneous one then this heterogeneity must leave a trace This is why the book's chapters are organized not according to historical periods or on the basis of film theories but rather by single concepts that function like dictionary entries The chapters adopt different forms blurring the lines between art and philosophy So What is a practical exercise in making films with words inviting readers to draw out insights from its conceptual play So What compiles previously untranslated and hard to find essays into a single volume one that represents the absorbing and singular thought process of a major contemporary philosopher

Robert Bresson Joseph Cunneen, 2004-04-19 Although Robert Bresson is widely regarded by movie critics and students of the cinema as one of the greatest directors of the twentieth century his films are largely unknown and are rarely shown in the English speaking world Nonetheless Susan Sontag has called Bresson the master of the reflective mode in film Martin Scorsese suggested that a young filmmaker should ask Is it as tough as Bresson Is meaning as ruthlessly pared down as direct as unflinching in its gaze at aspects of life I might feel more comfortable ignoring Questions that every reader of this book and every viewer of Bresson's films will also ask Joseph Cunneen's book now in paperback introduces Bresson's movies to a broader audience assesses thirteen of his most significant films in the context of detailed plot summaries vivid descriptions of characters and settings and perceptive jargon free insights into the director's execution intention and technique Each of these films in its own way illustrates what Joseph Cunneen calls Bresson's spiritual style Though not necessarily focused on the explicitly religious they illustrate two complementary principles on the negative side the rejection of what the director called photographed theater with its artificiality and dependence on celebrity performers On the more positive side as Bresson himself expressed it the conviction that The supernatural is only the real rendered more precise real things seen close up

A Guide to (Short) Documentary Filmmaking Jamie Meltzer, 2025-05-30 Using examples and hard earned experiences from the Author's courses and lectures at the esteemed MFA in Documentary Film Program at Stanford University A Guide to Short Documentary Filmmaking Creating Artful Short Documentary Films explores what is unique about the short form documentary and guides the reader through the process from ideation to completion and distribution This accessible and practical textbook guides readers through the steps of creating powerful and artful documentaries Interviews with filmmakers and case studies of innovative and successful recent documentary shorts are included throughout to provide experienced insights and complement the chapters on Research Pre production Production Editing and Distribution The first and most definitive of its kind this is the only resource to explore the short documentary as a distinct art form It will therefore be essential for all students and professionals involved in producing this medium
