I suddenly knew nothing about myself, nothing seemed right in English, nothing was true.

Their lessons crackle with undeniable electricity, but the secret of her all-consuming vengeance may have rendered her heart impervious even to such a virtuoso as Gavin.

Hunger Martin Caparros, 2020-02-25

Nothing less than astonishing. Booklist starred review. From a renowned international journalist comes a galvanizing international bestseller about mankind's oldest, most persistent, and most brutal problem: world hunger. There are now over 800 million starving people in the world. An average of 25,000 men and women, and in particular children, perish from hunger every day. Yet we produce enough food to feed the entire human population one and a half times over. So why is it that world hunger remains such a deadly problem? In this crucial and inspiring work, award-winning author Martin Caparr's travels the globe in search of an answer. His investigation brings him to Africa and the Indian subcontinent, where he witnesses starvation first hand, to Chicago, where he documents the greed of corporate food distributors, and to Buenos Aires, where he accompanies trash scavengers in search of something to eat. An international bestseller when it first appeared, this first-ever English language edition has been updated by Caparr's to consider whether conditions that have improved or worsened since the book's European publication. With its deep reflections and courageous journalism, Caparr's has created a powerful and empathic work that remains committed to ending humankind's longest ongoing crisis.
