Nothing To Declare Memoirs Of A Woman Travelling Alone:

Nothing to Declare Mary Morris, 1999 Traveling from the highland desert of northern Mexico to the steaming jungles of Honduras to the seashore of the Caribbean Mary Morris confronts the realities of place of poverty of machismo and of self One gutsy woman and one fantastic writer Cosmopolitan Nothing to Declare Mary Morris, 1988 Carnivalizing Difference Peter I. Barta, Paul Allen Miller, Charles Platter, David Shepherd, 2013-06-17 It has seemed at times that there is no neutral territory between those who see Bakhtin as the practitioner of a kind of neo Marxist or at least materialist deconstruction and those who look at the same texts and see a defender of traditional liberal humanist values and classical conceptions of order a conservative in the true sense of the term Arising from a conference under the same title held at Texas Tech University Carnivalizing Difference seeks to explore the actual and possible relationships between Bakhtinian theory and cultural practice The introduction explores the changing configurations of our understanding of Bakhtin's work in the context of recent theory and outlines how that understanding can inform and be informed by culture both ancient and modern Eleven articles spanning a wide range of periods and cultural forms then address these issues in detail revealing the ways in which Bakhtinian thought illuminates sometimes obfuscates but always challenges Romance of the Road Ronald Primeau, 1996 Americans have treated the highway as sacred space says Primeau English Central Michigan U introducing the rich tradition of prose and non fiction road narratives that include On the Road Grapes of Wrath Even Cowgirls Get the Blues and the Journals of Lewis and Clark Primeau critically examines these and other works from the position of travel as pilgrimage resulting in identifiable themes of protest self discovery picaresque parody and myth making Paper edition unseen 17 95 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Forgiving the Boundaries Terry Caesar, 1995 Caesar attempts to historicize the sustaining interplay between romanticism and travel writing but also emphasizes that his understanding of American travel writing has more to do with narrative form epistemology and cultural inheritance than particular historical shapings Selves at Risk Ihab Hassan, 1990 In this era of supersonic jets ubiquitous McDonalds and pervasive Panasonics in our coddled jacuzzi culture our cybernetic society of acronyms and first names does the spirit of quest endure Indeed from rain forests across oceans steppes savannahs and saharas to the peaks of the Andes or Himalayas American writers still test the limits of human existence They test spirit flesh marrow and imagination in a timeless quest for meaning beyond civilization at the razor edge of mortality And they return with sun cracked skin and gazes honed on horizons to tell us the tale Ihab Hassan's new book on quests turns out to be a quest of his own He takes us through an invigorating range of today's American writers as they test themselves against the far corners of our tattered planet Hassan shows us how their quests and incidentally his own entwine risks commitments and desperate exercises in belief how their aspirations are human but uniquely American This is a book everyone interested in American culture can learn from and enjoy Hassan's voice is one of graceful wisdom and passionate elegance a refreshing landfall in today's turgid sea of criticism

Norman N Holland University of Florida The Lifeguard Mary Morris, 2012-03-21 It was with her stories that Mary Morris first won attention and acclaim her first collection Vanishing Animals received the prestigious Rome Prize and her second The Bus of Dreams was widely hailed In this new collection Mary Morris once again shows her great sensitivity to men and women at moments of turbulence uncertainty and crisis in their lives and how they can reach for the unexpected and the spiritual at such times In the title story a lifeguard sees his teenage mystique among the girls on the beach dissolve in a panicked moment when he cannot save a child In The Wall a woman confronts her husband's first marriage in the form of a mural on a kitchen wall that he is strangely unable to contemplate painting over In The Glass Bottom Boat a mother on her first trip abroad learns about trust through a solicitous stranger In The Snowmaker's Wife a housewife left alone while her husband works long hours at a mountaintop ski resort starts to suspect his betrayal as well as her own perceptions In addition to these stories which have appeared in The Boston Globe Magazine Vogue and other magazines are two brand new stories Vital Signs tells of the consequences of a doctor bringing back to life a young woman half dead on the side of the road and Cross Word is a wonderfully funny play on those puzzles and the people who do them Combining Mary Morris's consummate craft as a storyteller with her gift for dramatic travel writing The Lifeguard is a powerful and haunting collection

Communication and Tourism Michael Tsangaris, 2024-06-04 The nexus of human mobility and communication is intricate and this volume uncovers the deep rooted significance of tourism and media From antiquity to modern day Western communication systems have artfully crafted the allure of destinations making places irresistible to the travellers At its core this book proposes that the impetus for travel is a primal human necessity rooted in our inherent need for movement consciousness expansion and cultural development Featuring Greek civilization as a case study the book reveals how the rich cultural capital of modern Greece long admired and assimilated by many global cultures has immensely contributed to Greece's contemporary tourism imaginary. Readers are challenged to look beyond prevailing practices where tourism management and marketing are the driving force for commercial exchange but to encompass its broader essence as a vital human function leading to richer experiences. It will be of interest to academics within areas related to tourism studies, mobility studies, mass media communication and cultural studies.
