A Sacred Feast Kathryn Eastburn, 2020-04-01 Some have called Sacred Harp singing America's earliest music. This powerful nondenominational religious singing part of a deeply held Southern culture has spread throughout the nation over the past two centuries. In A Sacred Feast, Kathryn Eastburn journeys into the community of Sacred Harp singers across the country and introduces readers to the curious glories of a tradition that is practiced today just as it was two hundred years ago. Each of the book's chapters visits a different region and features recipes from the accompanying culinary tradition: dinner on the ground, a hearty noontime feast. From oven-cooked pulled pork barbecue to Dollar Store cornbread dressing to red velvet cake, these recipes tell a story of nourishing the body, the soul, and the voice. The Sacred Harp's deeply moving sound and spirit resonate through these pages, captured at conventions in Alabama, Kentucky, Texas, Colorado, and Washington, conveyed in portraits of singers and celebrated in the sights, sounds, smells, and tastes of all-day singing and dinner on the ground, echoing through generations and centuries.

Lee Smith Mary Ellen Snodgrass, 2019-03-14. This literary companion surveys the works of Lee Smith, a Southern author lauded for her autobiographical familiarity with Appalachian settings and characters. Her dialogue captures the distinct voices of mountain people and their perceptions of local and world events ranging from the Civil War to ecology and modernization. Mental and physical disability and the Southern cultural norm of including the disabled as both family and community members are recurring themes in Smith's writing. An A to Z arrangement of entries incorporates specific titles and themes such as belonging, healing, and death, humor, parenting, and religion.
