Patricia Roberts

Ntombi's Song:

Ntombi's Song Jenny Seed, 1988 When a speeding bus causes her to spill the sugar she is carrying home Ntombi a six year old Zulu girl is determined to overcome her fears and find a way to earn money to buy more sugar Gogo's Song David R. Donald, 2012-09-28 It is often interesting to know why an author chose to write a particular story First in order for me to explain this reason I need to tell you a little about my background I have worked as a teacher then as a child psychologist in schools and finally as a lecturer and professor of Educational Psychology in universities It is only since my retirement some twelve years ago that I had the time to start writing stories for both young children and older adolescents Because of my professional background and particular interest in reading development all my published short stories and novels have an underlying purpose And that purpose is to bring to young people reading material that is not only interesting and that they can relate to their personal lives but also carries with it something that could be useful in their psychological development All of my three novels in this Xlibris Corporation series see the relevant titles of the other two novels below have an underlying developmental theme and purpose And this is to provide stories that I hope may help young people deal with the painful feelings and practical difficulties that always have to be faced when someone has lost a loved one Perhaps even more important each of the stories also tells in its own way how the main character overcomes and rises above his or her grief and difficulties In each case this recovery comes not only from the help and support of one or more friends relatives neighbours and teachers but also significantly from the determination and courage of each of the main characters In order to help you relate these important elements to your own life and perhaps to the lives of other young people whom you may know I have added two short sections at the end of each book The first provides you with a number of Questions to think about and the second with a few carefully chosen Activities for you to undertake Even though it may take a little effort please follow through on both of the above elements as they will most definitely help you get the most out of each story Second I believe that an author of any fictional story needs to be personally familiar with the place as well as the language and culture of the people who live there Without this element the story will simply not feel authentic or real to any reader wherever they happen to live in the world My hope again is that this will be true for you In each of my three novels I have a list at the end of the novel of the English translations and a guide to the pronunciation of those important names words and phrases in the indigenous languages that I have chosen to use in the respective novels I think this may contribute to the authenticity of the stories as you read them I hope so The titles of my other two novels in this Xlibris Corporation series are I am Thabeka and Woza Thabo Let's Hear It for the Girls Erica Bauermeister, Holly Smith, 1997-03-01 Bravo They've given adults and young girls a much needed treasure map of heroines and she does It blazes an important path in the forest of children's literature Jim Trelease Connecting Cultures Rebecca L. Children's Books from Other Countries Carl M. Tomlinson, 1998-01-15 Every child is entranced by the magic of story regardless of national boundaries Many of the most memorable childhood stories have their origins in other countries Exposing children to this multi-national body of literature introduces them to the great diversity of people and cultures that populate the world at a young age enabling them to become more thoughtful and generous individuals Children's Books from Other Countries is a complete and current guide to international children's literature The concept of a bibliography of international children's literature is not new In the past many books have accomplished this task The last two decades however have not yet produced a current reference source devoted to international children's books Children's Books from Other Countries wonderfully rectifies this lack of attention An introductory essay provides an overview of the field including a discussion on the rationale of sharing international books with children a brief history of the children's literature movement related books and awards and basic information about the International Board on Books for Young People IBBY and its American branch the United States Board on Books for Young People USBY An annotated bibliography contains over 700 titles from 29 different countries printed between 1950 and 1996 All titles are available in English many have been translated and others have originated in other English speaking countries The titles are organized by genre and have been selected for their high quality They are primarily targeted for children ages 0-14 although a few outstanding young adult titles are included Winners of the Mildred Batchelder Award and the Hans Christian Andersen Medal are listed in the appendix Indexes include Author Title Index Country of Origin Index and Subject Index Affordable and readable this timely resource is certainly a must for librarians and teachers and other professionals working with children Sponsored by the United States
