Nuclear Deterrence In South Asia:

Nuclear Deterrence in South Asia Rizwana Abbasi,Zafar Khan,2019-06-25 This book explores evolving patterns of nuclear deterrence the impact of new technologies and changing deterrent force postures in the South Asian region to assess future challenges for sustainable peace and stability Under the core principles of the security dilemma this book analyzes the prevailing security environment in South Asia and offers unilateral bilateral and multilateral frameworks to stabilize peace and ensure deterrence stability in the South Asian region Moreover contending patterns of deterrence dynamics in the South Asian region are further elaborated as becoming inextricably interlinked with the broader security dynamics of the Asia Pacific region and the interactions with the United States and China s Belt and Road Initiative As India and Pakistan are increasingly becoming part of the competing strategies exercised by the United States and China the authors analyze how strategic uncertainty and fear faced by these rival states cause the introduction of new technologies which could gradually drift these competing states into more serious crises and military conflicts Presenting innovative solutions to emerging South Asian challenges and offering new security mechanisms for sustainable peace and stability this book will be of interest to academics and policymakers working on Asian Security studies Nuclear Strategy and International Relations

Nuclear Weapons and Deterrence Stability in South Asia Devin T. Hagerty,2019-06-22 This book examines the theory and practice of nuclear deterrence between India and Pakistan two highly antagonistic South Asian neighbors who recently moved into their third decade of overt nuclear weaponization It assesses the stability of Indo Pakistani nuclear deterrence and argues that while deterrence dampens the likelihood of escalation to conventional and possibly nuclear war the chronically embittered relations between New Delhi and Islamabad mean that deterrence failure resulting in major warfare cannot be ruled out Through an empirical examination of the effects of nuclear weapons during five crises between India and Pakistan since 1998 as well as a discussion of the theoretical logic of Indo Pakistani nuclear deterrence the book offers suggestions for enhancing deterrence stability between these two countries

The Evolution of Nuclear Deterrence in South Asia Tughrul Yamin,2014 South Asia's Nuclear Security Bhumitra Chakma,2014-12-17 South Asia is often viewed as a potential nuclear flashpoint and a probable source of nuclear terrorism But how valid are such perceptions This book seeks to address this question and assesses the region s nuclear security from two principal standpoints First it evaluates the robustness of the Indo Pakistani mutual deterrence by analysing the strength and weaknesses of the competing arguments regarding the issue It also analyses the causes and consequences of nuclear arms race between India and Pakistan the nature of deterrence structure in the region and the challenges of confidence building and arms control between the two countries in order to assess the robustness of South Asia s nuclear deterrence Second it assesses the safety and security of the nuclear assets and nuclear infrastructure of India and Pakistan The author holds that the debate on South Asia s nuclear security is largely misplaced because the optimists tend to overemphasise the stabilising effects of nuclear weapons and the pessimists are too alarmists It is argued that while the risks of nuclear weapons are significant it is unlikely that India and Pakistan will give up their nuclear arsenals in the foreseeable future Therefore what needs to happen is that while nuclear elimination should be the long term goal in the interim years the two countries need to pursue minimum deterrence policies to reduce the likelihood of deterrence failure and the possibility of obtaining fissile materials by non state actors

The Politics of Nuclear Weapons in South Asia Bhumitra Chakma,2016-02-24 An important and critical re evaluation of South Asia s post tests nuclear politics in contrast to other books this volume emphasises the political dimension of South Asia s nuclear weapons explains how the bombs are used as politico strategic assets rather than pure battlefield weapons and how India and Pakistan utilise them for politico strategic purposes in an extremely complex and competitive South Asian strategic landscape Written by a group of perceptive observers of South Asia this volume evaluates the current state of Indo Pakistani nuclear deterrents the challenges that the two countries confront in building their nuclear forces the post test nuclear doctrines of the two strategic rivals the implications of Indo Pakistani politics for regional cooperation the role of two systemic actors USA and China in the region s nuclear politics and the critical issues of confidence building and nuclear arms control

Nuclear Deterrence in South Asia - an Assessment of Deterrence and Stability in the India-Pakistan Conflict ,2011

The Theory and Practice of Nuclear Deterrence in South Asia Devin T. Hagerty,1995 Second Strike Rajesh Rajagopalan,2005 In May 1998 India tested a series of nuclear devices in Pokharan Two weeks later Pakistan announced a matching series of its own tests A year later when the two countries had a bitter confrontation in Kargil the worst fears of proliferation pessimists appeared to be coming true The alarm bells have never really stopped ringing since then In Second Strike Rajesh Rajagopalan challenges much of the conventional wisdom on the perceived nuclear danger in the region and suggests that the nuclear situation in South Asia is far less dangerous and much more stable than it is generally given credit for Presenting a threefold case the author focuses on the impact of nuclear doctrines on stability a hitherto neglected aspect of the nuclear debate and argues that Indian and Pakistani doctrines reduce the pressures on the two nuclear forces Next he presents the view that the doctrines of the two countries lessen the likelihood of accidents and other dangers such as terrorists stealing nuclear weapons the crucial role played by political leaders and contends that political leaders tighten control over nuclear weapons in critical situations

Nuclear Deterrence in Southern Asia Arpit Rajain,2005-05 This important and topical book examines the triangular relationship of China India and Pakistan through the prism of nuclear deterrence The author highlights the interplay and role of strategic culture nuclear weaponisation and deployment command and control arms control non state actors and foreign policy issues which affect relations between the three countries With two main purposes a conceptual investigation into the notion of deterrence and a study of the theory and practice of limited war this book addresses the strategic political and military dimensions of the role of nuclear weapons through examples of the only cases of nuclear weapon states having gone into armed conflict the Cuban missile crisis the Ussuri river clashes and the Kargil conflict discusses the various pressures exerted on decision makers in the context of the notions of deterrence the rational deterrence model and a limited war under a nuclear umbrella evaluates all three countries with regard to their strategic culture the role of nuclear weapons in their military strategy the nature of public opinion and political rhetoric responses to the various arms control treaties and foreign policy choices Based on a variety of sources including interviews with key individuals in various sector this is the first book length study of the triangular relationship between China India and Pakistan

South Asia's Nuclear Security Bhumitra Chakma, 2014-12-17 South Asia is often viewed as a potential nuclear flashpoint and a probable source of nuclear terrorism But how valid are such perceptions This book seeks to address this question and assesses the region's nuclear security from two principal standpoints First it evaluates the robustness of the Indo Pakistani mutual deterrence by analysing the strength and weaknesses of the competing arguments regarding the issue It also analyses the causes and consequences of nuclear arms race between India and Pakistan the nature of deterrence structure in the region and the challenges of confidence building and arms control between the two countries in order to assess the robustness of South Asia's nuclear deterrence Second it assesses the safety and security of the nuclear assets and nuclear infrastructure of India and Pakistan The author holds that the debate on South Asia's nuclear security is largely misplaced because the optimists tend to overemphasise the stabilising effects of nuclear weapons and the pessimists are too alarmists It is argued that while the risks of nuclear weapons are significant it is unlikely that India and Pakistan will give up their nuclear arsenals in the foreseeable future Therefore what needs to happen is that while nuclear elimination should be the long term goal in the interim years the two countries need to pursue minimum deterrence policies to reduce the likelihood of deterrence failure and the possibility of obtaining fissile materials by non state actors
