DeRosa, 2020-07-23 In February 2019 Donald Trump announced the United States withdrew from the landmark Cold War era Intermediate Range Nuclear Forces Treaty with Russia sparking worldwide concerns over the specter of a new nuclear arms race The rational actor and game theoretic models dominating international relations literature failed to predict or explain this strategic choice Rationalist normative and materialist models of strategic choice saturate the study of international relations Scholars continue to expose the shortfalls in these approaches in explaining or predicting outcomes of strategic interactions In this timely study John P DeRosa advances a new model of strategic choice through a narrative lens This narrative turn reframes the logic to emphasize the propositions of motives perceptions preferences and the reflexive interaction of strategic choices Case studies of American and Russian nuclear arms control treaties from the negotiations of the Intermediate Range Nuclear Forces INF Treaty in 1987 to the crisis of the US withdrawal from the INF Treaty in 2019 support building a theory of narrativized strategic choice

In Face of Reality Thomas A. James, 2011-04-01 This study of the work of noted liberal theologian Gordon Kaufman tracks his career from his first published book Relativism Knowledge and Faith 1960 through his 2006 book Jesus and Creativity in light of recent conversations about divine action and modern scientific knowledge James interprets Kaufman's mature position as a sophisticated reconstruction of divine activity that makes use of recent scientific theory and its naturalistic assumptions in order to revitalize a theocentric frame of reference rooted in classical theological tradition Though there are costs to be paid in the construction of a theology of radical naturalism particularly with respect to the relation between divine action and the human good Kaufman's program offers a distinctive way forward After developing a critical analysis of the limitations and possibilities of Kaufman's mature position James suggests that a christological reconsideration of the meaning of human flourishing offers the prospect of an even more radically naturalistic and theocentric theology

Franz Conrad von Hötzendorf Lawrence Sondhaus, 2021-10-25 Did you ever wonder how and why Franz Conrad von Hötzendorf 1852-1925 earned his reputation for brilliance while failing so miserably during the First World War In examining Conrad's life and career including his years as a military writer teacher of tactics and a peacetime troop commander before 1906 this first modern biography offers a fascinating and impressive explanation of his thoughts and actions Franz Conrad von Hötzendorf 1852-1925 served as Austro-Hungarian chief of the general staff between 1906 and 1917 and was a leading figure in the origins and conduct of the First World War In no other country did a single general serve as the leading prewar tactician prewar and wartime strategist and wartime army commander Because Conrad filled all of these roles in Austria-Hungary he had no equal among the military men leading the old order of Europe to destruction in 1914-1918
