Oakland The Early Years:

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, THE EARLY YEARS (1903-1913) Alissandra Dramov, 2013 Carmel by the Sea The Early Years 1903 1913 describes the establishment of Carmel by the Sea California along with an overview of the history of the Carmel Mission and the Monterey Peninsula The book s emphasis is on the development of Carmel as a Bohemian artists and writers colony at the start of the 20th century The town s first decade of existence is described the businesses and services offered and the residential architecture There are biographies of the well known Bohemian artists writers poets builders and other notable residents and visitors in the early 1900 s This original group of settlers the majority of whom came from Northern California s Bay Area were distinctive individuals who were drawn to the coastal village by its scenic beauty and the inspiration it provided for their intellectual pursuits They set the tone that made Carmel by the Sea a Bohemian enclave on the West Coast and distinguished it as a unique place These early residents and visitors left a significant and lasting impact on the future of the seaside town which in turn attracted other creative talents to the area through the years and still to this day Carmel by the Sea The Early Years 1903 1913 preserves the literary artistic cultural and architectural heritage of Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula region

My Darlings Grace Mather-Smith, 2018-10-24 My Darlings is a memoir of the rollicking life and times of the grande dame of Oakland Florida from growing up in the frontier town of Denver to studying voice in the big city of Chicago to pioneering in the backwoods of central Florida Grace was born in 1884 in Denver and moved to Chicago around the turn of the century to study voice in hopes of becoming an opera singer Instead she married the delightful Charles Frederic Mather Smith twenty years her senior and the newlyweds made their winter home in rural Oakland Florida when central Florida was still a primeval jungle teeming with wild animals and exotic flora just beginning to be tamed by homesteading farmers ranchers and fishermen As Grace says it was the hand of Destiny that led her new husband and her to Oakland where Grace raised her family shook up the community and lived for more than fifty happy years As recounted in her memoir Grace was a devoted wife and mother a pioneer a community organizer an opera singer a midwife a businesswoman a philanthropist and a great beauty whom men found irresistible Grace was the first woman in Florida to drive a car the owner of the first telephone and phonograph in Oakland and of the first bathtub and flushing toilet in central Florida and the first person to drive a car to the top of Pike s Peak without a mechanic Grace s voice comes across loud and clear in her memoir which is illustrated with more than 20 family photos She was flamboyant theatrical uninhibited adventurous energetic glamorous exuberant unconventional willful irrepressible big hearted and generous to a fault Her memoir quotes family and friends who describe Grace as being like a thoroughbred horse always out there in the limelight born for the concert stage and the opera and prone to gallivantin around She was larger than life a force of nature and has been likened to Auntie Mame As Eve Bacon wrote in her book Oakland The Early Years Grace hit staid little Oakland like a social bombshell

My Life: The Early Years Bill Clinton, 2005-05-31 1 New York Times Bestseller President Bill Clinton s

My Life is the strikingly candid portrait of a global leader who decided early in life to devote his intellectual and political gifts and his extraordinary capacity for hard work to serving the public. My Life: The Early Years Volume I shows us the progress of a remarkable American who through his own enormous energies and efforts fueled by an impassioned interest in the political process made the unlikely journey from his birth in Hope, Arkansas to his election as the 42nd President of the United States. Also available: My Life: The Presidential Years Volume II. Oakland, the Early Years Eve Bacon, 1974 Early Days in California G. W. Sullivan, 1888 Documentation and Inquiry in the Early Childhood Classroom Linda R. Kroll, Daniel R. Meier, 2017-09-27 Documentation and Inquiry in the Early Childhood Classroom explores teacher inquiry, reflection, and research and the documentation of these processes within a variety of school sites and models. Compiling underrepresented inquiry stories from practicing teachers and administrators in early childhood 0-5 classrooms in the San Francisco Bay Area, this book highlights the power of the community in supporting professional development for early childhood educators and the education of young children. Important elements addressed include teacher learning, children's curricula, parent and community communication, and equity and social justice for teachers, children, and families. On the Road to High-Quality Early Learning Marjorie E. Wechsler, David L. Kirp, 2018 This timely book will help policymakers and practitioners convert their visions of high quality early education into on-the-ground reality by providing a much needed richly detailed look at how states can design, fund, and manage exemplary programs. The authors describe and analyze how four states—Michigan, West Virginia, Washington, and North Carolina—have built early education systems that positively affect student outcomes. Sharing a commitment to advancing key elements of a quality preschool education, each of the states developed programs with different enrollment requirements, services, and oversight. All of them, however, rely on common overarching strategies such as establishing standards and supporting improvement; investing in knowledgeable educators; coordinating and aligning early education programs with elementary school; seeking sufficient funding sources and mechanisms; and building broad-based support. This book offers powerful lessons for anyone who is committed to delivering engaging, age-appropriate preschool programs for all. This book is so valuable it's a how-to for the current generation of political leaders—Republicans and Democrats alike—who want to develop early education policies and practices that work. James B. Hunt Jr., former Governor of North Carolina. This book provides critical insights for addressing the key challenge to preschool policy: fulfilling the preschool promise at scale. W. Steven Barnett, National Institute for Early Education Research (NIEER). A great resource for everybody engaged in state-level processes on behalf of young children, providing valuable lessons from leading states to help other states chart their own path. Elliot Regenstein, Foresight Law Policy. A detailed and fascinating account of how distributive leadership, collaboration, and professional learning can greatly and positively influence teachers' effective use of data. perspectives and diverse theories on art's dialectical and evolving relationship with urban regeneration processes. It engages in the accumulated discussions on art's role in gentrification yet changes the focus to the growing phenomenon of artistic protests and resistance in the gentrified neighborhoods. Since the 1980s art and artists' roles in gentrification have been at the forefront of urban geography research in the subjects of housing regeneration, displacement, and new urban planning. In these accounts, the artists have been noted to contribute at all stages of gentrification, from triggering it to eventually being displaced by it themselves. The current presence of art in our neoliberal urban spaces illustrates the constant negotiation between power and resistance. And there is a growing need to recognize art's shifting and conflicting relationship with gentrification. The chapters presented here share a common thesis: that the aesthetic reconfiguration of the neoliberal city does not only allow uneven and exclusionary urban redevelopment strategies but also facilitates the growth of anti-gentrification resistance. The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history, urban cultures, cultural geography, and urban studies, as well as contemporary art practitioners and policymakers.
