Education Studies Urban Studies and Asian studies The Dynamics and Social Outcomes of Education Systems J. Janmaat, M. Duru-Bellat, P. Méhaut, A. Green, 2013-08-27 Some scholars argue that education systems across the western world are becoming increasingly similar due to the influence of transnational discourses and organizations Others believe that education is the panacea for all problems of social cohesion After all aren't the well educated usually more tolerant civically engaged and trusting than the poorly educated This book critically examines both claims It finds that western countries still differ markedly on key aspects of their education systems and that these differences reflect distinct political traditions and different responses to a set of competing normative and political principles The findings further suggest that raising the average education level is unlikely to be an effective strategy for promoting social cohesion Instead more promising are policies targeting the opposite ends of the lifelong learning continuum universalizing pre school education and care and promoting adult education with a pronounced second chance character Citizenship Education around the World John Petrovic, Aaron Kuntz, 2014-04-24 Though certainly not a new idea citizenship education manifests in unique and often unpredictable ways in our contemporary neoliberal era The question of what it means to be a productive and recognized citizen must now be understood simultaneously along both global and local lines This edited volume offers an international perspective on citizenship education enacted in specific socio political contexts Each chapter includes a pointed conceptualization of citizenship education a philosophical framework that is then applied to specific national cases across Europe Asia Canada and more Chapters emphasize how such frameworks are implemented within local contexts encouraging particular pedagogical curricular practices even as they constrain others Chapters conclude with suggestions for productive change and how educators might usefully engage contemporary contexts through citizenship education Shaping the Future of Business Education G. Hardy, D. Everett, 2015-12-04 In a world economy where rapid change is the only constant what is the best way for business schools to prepare the leaders of tomorrow The authors of this volume argue that a broad and rigorous education is needed one that fuses business knowledge with arts and sciences technology and ethical training
