Going Astray Jeremy Tambling, 2018-10-08 Among the numerous books on Dickens's London Going Astray is unique in combining detailed topography and biography with close textual analysis and theoretically informed critiques of most of the novelist's major works In Jeremy Tambling's intriguing and illuminating synthesis the London A-Z meets Nietzsche Benjamin and Derrida Rick Allen author of The Moving Pageant A Literary Sourcebook on London Street Life 1700-1914 Dickens wrote

so insistently about London its streets its people its unknown areas that certain parts of the city are forever haunted by him

Going Astray Dickens and London looks at the novelist's delight in losing the self in the labyrinthine city and maps that interest onto the compulsion to go astray in writing Drawing on all Dickens published writings including the journalism but concentrating on the novels Jeremy Tambling considers the author's kaleidoscopic characterisations of London as prison and as legal centre as the heart of empire and of traumatic memory as the place of the uncanny as an old curiosity shop His study examines the relations between narrative and the city and explores how the metropolis encapsulates the problems of modernity for Dickens as well as suggesting the limits of representation Combining contemporary literary and cultural theory with historical maps photographs and contextual detail Jeremy Tambling's book is an indispensable guide to Dickens nineteenth century literature and the city itself

The Chronicles of Crime Camden Pelham (pseud.),1841 The Household Narrative of Current Events ,1850 Looking into Later Life Rachael Davenhill,2018-10-08 This book belongs to a long tradition at the Tavistock Clinic of work focused on the mental and emotional well being of the elderly It applies psychoanalytic thinking to areas that have generally attracted very little sustained attention over the years

The Chronicles of Crime, Or The New Newgate Calendar Camden Pelham (pseud.),1841 The Chronicles of Crime Camden Pelham,1891 Shakespearean Films/Shakespearean Directors Peter S. Donaldson,2013-07-18 Originally published in 1990 this book brought a new rigor and subtlety to the interpretation of film adaptations of Shakespeare Drawing on traditional literary analysis psychoanalysis and current film theory about gender and subjectivity the author combines close readings of seven films with historical and biographical studies of the directors who made them Offering substantial readings of Jean Luc Godard's controversial deconstructed King Lear and of Liz White's independent African American Othello Donaldson also applies his provocative and contemporary point of view to more familiar films He reads Olivier's Henry V in relation to its treatment of sexual difference Olivier's Hamlet in part as an expression of the director's childhood sexual trauma Kurosawa's Throne of Blood as an allegory of the relationship between Western and Japanese cinema and Zeffirelli's immensely popular Romeo and Juliet in the light of its powerful homoerotic subtext With striking perspectives on Shakespeare on the movies as an expressive medium and on the complex processes of cultural change this is timeless useful reading for teachers and students of film and literature
