Roman Activity:

Roman Activity Book Sue Weatherill, Steve Weatherill, 2006 Step back in time with this brilliant activity book It s packed with fascinating historical ideas for things to do and make Page 4 of cover A Companion to Roman Britain Malcolm Todd, 2008-04-15 This major survey of the history and culture of Roman Britain spans the period from the first century BC to the fifth century AD Major survey of the history and culture of Roman Britain Brings together specialists to provide an overview of recent debates about this period Exceptionally broad coverage embracing political economic cultural and religious life Focuses on changes in Roman Britain from the first century BC to the fifth century AD Includes pioneering studies of the human population and animal resources of the island Intelligence Activities in Ancient Rome Rose

Mary Sheldon, 2004-12-16 Professor Sheldon uses the modern concept of the intelligence cycle to trace intelligence activities in Rome whether they were done by private citizens the government or the military Examining a broad range of activities the book looks at the many types of espionage tradecraft that have left their traces in the ancient sources intelligence and counterintelligence gathering covert action clandestine operations the use of codes and ciphers Dispelling the myth that such activities are a modern invention Professor Sheldon explores how these ancient spy stories have modern echoes as well What is the role of an intelligence service in a free republic When do the security needs of the state outweigh the rights of the citizen If we cannot trust our own security services how safe can we be Although protected by the Praetorian Guard seventy five percent of Roman emperors died by assassination or under attack by pretenders to his throne Who was guarding the guardians For students of Rome and modern social studies too this will provide a fascinating read Late Roman Towns in Britain Adam Rogers, 2011-03-28 In this book Adam Rogers examines the late Roman phases of towns in Britain Critically analysing the archaeological notion of decline he focuses on public buildings which played an important role administrative and symbolic within urban complexes Arguing against the interpretation that many of these monumental civic buildings were in decline or abandoned in the later Roman period he demonstrates that they remained purposeful spaces and important centres of urban life Through a detailed assessment of the archaeology of late Roman towns this book argues that the archaeological framework of decline does not permit an adequate and comprehensive understanding of the towns during this period Moving beyond the idea of decline this book emphasises a longer term perspective for understanding the importance of towns in the later Roman period Romans in Britain , London, City of the Romans Ralph Merrifield, 1983-01-01

Roman rule in Greek and Latin Writing Jesper Majbom Madsen, Roger David Rees, 2014-07-03 Roman Rule in Greek and Latin Writing explores the ways in which Greek and Latin writers from the late 1st to the 3rd century CE experienced and portrayed Roman cultural institutions and power The central theme is the relationship between cultures as reflected in Greek and Latin authors responses to Roman power in practice the collection revisits the orthodoxy of two separate intellectual groups differentiated as much by cultural and political agenda as by language The book features specialists in Greek and

Roman literary and intellectual culture it gathers papers on a variety of authors across several literary genres and through this spectrum makes possible an informed and detailed comparison of Greek and Latin literary views of Roman power in various manifestations including military religion law and politics The Ruin of Roman Britain James

Gerrard,2013-10-10 How did Roman Britain end This new study draws on fresh archaeological discoveries to argue that the end of Roman Britain was not the product of either a violent cataclysm or an economic collapse Instead the structure of late antique society based on the civilian ideology of paideia was forced to change by the disappearance of the Roman state By the fifth century elite power had shifted to the warband and the edges of their swords In this book Dr Gerrard describes and explains that process of transformation and explores the role of the Anglo Saxons in this time of change This profound ideological shift returned Britain to a series of small worlds the existence of which had been hidden by the globalizing structures of Roman imperialism Highly illustrated the book includes two appendices which detail Roman cemetery sites and weapon trauma and pottery assemblages from the period The Roman People: Daily Endeavors and Shared Customs

Tony Clunn,2022-05-20 The story of an ancient ambush that devastated Rome and the modern day hunt that finally revealed its location and its archaeological treasures In 9 A D the seventeenth eighteenth nineteenth Roman legions and their auxiliary troops under the command of Publius Quinctilius Varus vanished in the boggy wilds of Germania They died singly and by the hundreds over several days in a carefully planned ambush led by Arminius a Roman trained German warrior adopted and subsequently knighted by the Romans but determined to stop Rome s advance east beyond the Rhine River By the time it was over some 25 000 men women and children were dead and the course of European history had been

forever altered Quintilius Varus give me back my legions Emperor Augustus agonized aloud when he learned of the devastating loss As decades passed the location of the Varus defeat one of the Western world's most important battlefields was lost to history It remained so for two millennia Fueled by an unshakable curiosity and burning interest in the story a British Major named J A S Tony Clunn delved into the nooks and crannies of times past By sheer persistence and good luck he turned the foundation of German national history on its ear Convinced the running battle took place north of Osnabrück Germany Clunn set out to prove his point His discovery of large numbers of Roman coins in the late 1980s followed by a flood of thousands of other artifacts including weapons and human remains ended the mystery once and for all Archaeologists and historians across the world agreed Today a state of the art museum houses and interprets these priceless historical treasures on the very site Varus's legions were lost The Quest for the Lost Roman Legions is a masterful retelling of Clunn's search to discover the Varus battlefield His well paced and vivid writing style makes for a compelling read as he alternates between his incredible modern quest and the ancient tale of the Roman occupation of Germany based upon actual finds from the battlefield that ultimately ended so tragically in the peat bogs of Kalkriese Bronze Age Monuments and Bronze Age, Iron Age, Roman and Anglo-Saxon Landscapes at Cambridge Road, Bedford Andy Chapman, Pat Chapman, 2017-06-30 Presents the results of open area excavations on 14.45ha of land at Cambridge Road Bedford carried out in 2004-5 in advance of development Teacher's Guide for World History Societies of the Past Linda McDowell, Marilyn MacKay, 2005 World History Teacher's Guide is a comprehensive resource filled with fun captivating and thought provoking hands on activities In each chapter you will find practical hands on activating and acquiring applying activities useful teacher reference notes and organizational techniques vocabulary building exercises assessment ideas and activities review activities fun puzzles engaging word games and easy to prepare games suggested resources for both teachers and students many useful blackline masters such as activities maps and graphic organizers Beyond the Romans Irene Selsvold, Lewis Webb, 2020-04-09 This latest volume in the TRAC Themes in Theoretical Roman Archaeology series takes up posthuman theoretical perspectives to interpret Roman material culture These perspectives provide novel and compelling ways of grappling with theoretical problems in Roman archaeology producing new knowledge and questions about the complex relationships and interactions between humans and non humans in Roman culture and society Posthumanism constitutes a multitude of theoretical positions characterised by common critiques of anthropocentrism and human exceptionalism In part they react to the dominance of the linguistic turn in humanistic sciences These positions do not exclude the human but instead stress the mutual relationship between matter and discourse Moreover they consider the agency of non humans e.g. animals material culture landscapes climate and ideas their entanglement with humans and the situated nature of research Posthumanism has had substantial impacts in several fields including critical studies archaeology feminist studies even politics but have not yet emerged in any fulsome way in Classical Studies and Classical Archaeology This is the first volume on these themes in Roman

Archaeology aimed at providing valuable perspectives into Roman myth art and material culture displacing and complicating notions of human exceptionalism and individualist subjectivity Contributions consider non human agencies particularly animal material environmental and divine agencies critiques of binary oppositions and gender roles and the Anthropocene Ultimately the papers stress that humans and non humans are entangled and imbricated in larger systems we are all post human

The Roman Empire from Severus to Constantine Patricia Southern,2015-05-15 The third century of the Roman Empire is a confused and sparsely documented period punctuated by wars victorious conquests and ignominious losses and a recurring cycle of rebellions that saw several Emperors created and eliminated by the Roman armies In AD 260 the Empire almost collapsed and yet by the end of the third century the Roman world was brought back together and survived for another two hundred years In this new edition of The Roman Empire from Severus to Constantine Patricia Southern examines the anarchic era of the soldier Emperors that preceded the crisis of AD 260 and the reigns of underrated and sometimes maligned Emperors such as Gallienus Probus and Aurelian whose determination and hard work reunited and re established the Empire Their achievements laid the foundations for the absolutist sacrosanct rule of Diocletian honed to ruthless perfection by Constantine whose reign transformed the pagan Empire into a Christian state The successes and failures of the rulers of the Roman world of the third century and the role of the armies and the civilians are re assessed in this revised and expanded edition of The Roman Empire from Severus to Constantine which incorporates the latest thinking of modern scholars and has been extended to cover the reign of Constantine and the foundations he laid on which the Christian empire was built This is a crucial volume for students of this fascinating period in Roman history and provides invaluable background for anyone interested in the fall of Rome the adoption of Christianity and the establishment of the Byzantine Empire

The Romans in Spain John S. Richardson,1998-12-04 This book traces the complex process by which an area seen initially as a war zone was gradually transformed by the actions of the Romans and the reactions of the indigenous inhabitants into an integral part of the Roman world

Ol' Man River Morgan De Dapper,2009 This volume contains the selected proceedings of a multidisciplinary conference Ghent 2006 which stimulated looking at landscape evolution from the times of early human involvement in nature to much more recent historical developments

The Wessex Hillforts Project Andrew Payne,Mark Corney,Barry Cunliffe,2014-06-15 The earthwork forts that crown many hills in Southern England are among the largest and most dramatic of the prehistoric features that still survive in our modern rural landscape The Wessex Hillforts Survey collected wide ranging data on hillfort interiors in a three year partnership between the former Ancient Monuments Laboratory of English Heritage and Oxford University These defended enclosures occupied from the end of the Bronze Age to the last few centuries before the Roman conquest have long attracted archaeological interest and their function remains central to study of the Iron Age The communal effort and high degree of social organisation indicated by hillforts feeds debate about whether they were strongholds of Celtic chiefs communal centres of population or temporary gathering places occupied seasonally or in times of unrest Yet few have been extensively examined archaeologically Using non invasive methods the survey enabled more elaborate distinctions to be made between different classes of hillforts than has hitherto been possible The new data reveals not only the complexity of the archaeological record preserved inside hillforts but also great variation in complexity among sites Survey of the surrounding countryside revealed hillforts to be far from isolated features in the later prehistoric landscape Many have other less visible forms of enclosed settlement in close proximity Others occupy significant meeting points of earlier linear ditch systems and some appear to overlie or be located adjacent to blocks of earlier prehistoric field systems

Transforming Townscapes Neil Christie, 2017-12-02 This monograph details the results of a major archaeological project based on and around the historic town of Wallingford in south Oxfordshire Founded in the late Saxon period as a key defensive and administrative focus next to the Thames the settlement also contained a substantial royal castle established shortly after the Norman Conquest The volume traces the pre town archaeology of Wallingford and then analyses the town's physical and social evolution assessing defences churches housing markets material culture coinage communications and hinterland Core questions running through the volume relate to the roles of the River Thames and of royal power in shaping Wallingford's fortunes and identity and in explaining the town's severe and early decline

Archaeological Excavations at Holme Hall Quarry, South Yorkshire Francis M. Morris, 2025-01-23 This volume documents the results from large scale archaeological investigations at Holme Hall Quarry on the Magnesian Limestone ridge South Yorkshire The main occupation of the site occurred during the Roman period when two rural farmsteads were constructed and a field system with associated droveways and enclosures imposed across the landscape

From Coast to Fen: Archaeology in a Dynamic Landscape Claire Christie, Joshua T. Hogue, 2025-07-18 Excavations across East Lincolnshire reveal prehistoric Iron Age Roman and post medieval settlements saltmaking and industrial activity shaped by changing landscapes The area between Anderby Creek and Bicker Fen Lincolnshire to the west of the Lincolnshire Wolds represents a dynamic landscape both in terms of its natural and human aspects This volume presents the results of an extensive programme of archaeological excavation undertaken by Headland Archaeology UK Ltd and Allen Archaeology Ltd from 2018 to 2019 where a total of 15 sites were excavated The excavations uncovered a panoply of remains spanning the prehistoric through to modern periods providing important insights into changing patterns of occupation and the way this diverse landscape was utilised As evidenced through the archaeological works the area saw limited activity during the early prehistoric period in part reflecting the prevailing environmental conditions in which most of the area was inundated Among the earliest recorded finds was an enigmatic middle Bronze Age timber structure as well as a copper alloy axe During the Roman period there is evidence for an expansion in activity across the Scheme with formerly inundated areas becoming accessible Activity within the northern half of the Scheme was focused upon salt production Two of these sites were dated to the late Roman period contrary to the prevailing notion that the salt industry in this region had declined by the mid 2nd century AD. Within the southern half of the Scheme were several Roman farmsteads, some featuring timber buildings. Notable among these was an unusual post-built moated structure. From these sites a range of artefactual and environmental data was collected, providing important insights into the nature of agricultural regimes. Evidence of medieval and post-medieval activity was also uncovered, providing important insights into the development of rural settlement against a backdrop of landscape and environmental changes. Evidence of late to post-medieval clay extraction and brick manufacture was also identified.
