Castellani and Italian Archaeological Jewelry Susan Weber Soros, Stefanie Walker, Bard Graduate Center for Studies in the Decorative Arts, 2004-01-01 During the nineteenth century in Rome three generations of the Castellani family created what they called Italian archaeological jewelry which was inspired by the precious Etruscan Roman Greek and Byzantine antiquities being excavated at the time The Castellani jewelry consisted of finely wrought gold that was often combined with delicate and colorful mosaics carved gemstones or enamel This magnificent book is the first to display and discuss the jewelry and the family behind it International scholars discuss the life and work of the Castellani revealing the wide ranging aspects of the family's artistic and cultural activities They describe the making and marketing of the jewelry the survey collection of all periods of Italian jewelry on display in the Castellani's palatial store and the Castellani's activities in the trade of antiquities as they sponsored excavations and restored, dealt and exhibited antiques. They also recount the family's involvement in the cultural and political life of their city and country.
