Marie Emmanuel Guillaume Marguerite THÉAULON DE LAMBERT,1813 Agnes Varda T. Jefferson Kline,2013-12-04 Over nearly sixty years Agn s Varda b 1928 has given interviews that are revealing not only of her work but of her remarkably ambiguous status She has been called the Mother of the New Wave but suffered for many years for never having been completely accepted by the cinematic establishment in France Varda s first film La Pointe Courte 1954 displayed many of the characteristics of the two later films that launched the New Wave Truffaut s 400 Blows and Godard s Breathless In a low budget film using as yet unknown actors and working entirely outside the prevailing studio system Varda completely abandoned the tradition of quality that Truffaut was at that very time condemning in the pages of Cahiers du cinema Her work however was not discovered until after Truffaut and Godard had broken onto the scene in 1959 Varda s next film Cleo from 5 to 7 attracted considerably more attention and was selected as France s official entry for the Festival in Cannes Ultimately however this film and her work for the next fifty years continued to be overshadowed by her more famous male friends many of whom she mentored and advised Her films have finally earned recognition as deeply probing and fundamental to the growing awareness in France of women s issues and the role of women in the cinema I m not philosophical she says not metaphysical Feelings are the ground on which people can be led to think about things I try to show everything that happens in such a way and ask questions so as to leave the viewers free to make their own judgments The panoply of interviews here emphasizes her core belief that we never stop learning and reveal the wealth of ways to answer her questions
