Molecular Recognition in Host-Parasite Interactions Timo K. Korhonen,Tapani Hovi,P. Helena Mäkelä,2012-12-06 A very early step in microbial colonization and pathogenesis is that involving recognition of the host by the microbe In the final analysis such recognition is due to interaction between specific molecules on the two sides without which host and microbe would ignore each other It is therefore exciting to learn the rules that govern host microbe interaction at to a large extent determines whether or not we are infected by the molecular level which influenza virus leishmaniasis staphylococci and other pathogens This book is a compendium of the addresses delivered at a symposium on molecular interaction at Porvoo Finland in August 1991 Realizing that there are no a priori differences in receptor recognition in viruses eukaryotic parasites and bacteria we freely intermingled these microbes at the symposium and in this book We found the interdisciplinary discussions and comparisons both educative and stimulating Thus the book is divided into parts that focus on host cell receptors on microbial recognition molecules and molecules that mediate microbial interaction with a host cell receptor and briefly on the molecular events that follow Although many microbes and many cellular receptors are missing from the book owing to the limited duration and size of the symposium the articles presented here constitute an impressive body of examples of how initial host microbe interaction can come about We believe that as such the book is a useful and interesting overview of the mechanisms and principles involved in these interactions Molecular and Cellular Biology of Host Parasite Interactions Keystone Center,1992 Host-Parasite Cellular and Molecular Interactions in Protozoal Infections K.-P.

Chang,David Snary,2013-06-29 Tropical diseases such as leishmaniasis malaria trypanosomiasis toxoplasmosis and amebiasis continue to plague the world resulting in considerable morbidity and mortality especially in the third world countries These diseases are caused by a group of protozoa which have over the years undergone evolutionary adaptation to live often intracellularly in a parasitic way of life So well adapted have they become that they recognize the right hosts or cells to parasitize yet at the same time they escape recognition and destruction by the host immune system The mechanisms of such recognition and the escape of recognition are governed largely by host parasite surface membrane interactions at the cellular and molecular level Unique molecules produced by unusual pathways of these parasites have also been discovered and found to play important roles in their survival in the host Understanding these mechanisms and pathways is essential not only to formulate a rational strategy for chemo and immuno prophylaxis and therapy but also to unravel the mystery of biological evolution in symbiosis and parasitism In the advent of our knowledge on the molecular biology and biochemistry of parasite membrane and other molecules it is opportune to examine and discuss their possible roles in host parasite recognition and interaction in a comparative approach To highlight the recent advances of this area in various host parasite systems a NATO advanced Research Workshop was held from September 27 to October 1 1986 at Hotel Villa del Mare Acquafrredda di Maratea Italy

Immune Recognition and Evasion: Molecular Aspects of Host-Parasite Interaction L.H.T. Van Der Ploeg, 2012-12-02 Immune Recognition and Evasion Molecular Aspects of Host Parasite Interaction reviews recent advances in understanding the genetic basis of host parasite interactions with emphasis on antigenic epitopes the genetics of parasites the molecular mechanisms of immune recognition and evasion and the way that cytokines and hormones act on host parasite interactions Organized into four parts encompassing 25 chapters this volume begins with an overview of the genomic organization of the T cell receptor genes and the contribution of non B DNA structures to switch recombination in immunoglobulin genes It then discusses signal transduction by class II molecules encoded by the major histocompatibility complex Ia and the biological consequences of this process allelic polymorphism of HLA class II antigens and its connection to the molecular basis of autoimmunity mimicry between HLAB27 and bacteria and genetic control of susceptibility to helminth infection The reader is also introduced to recognition of protein antigens by antibodies recognition of influenza antigens by class I restricted cytotoxic T lymphocytes the biochemical basis of cachexia of infection mechanisms of antigenic variation in Plasmodium and rational design of trypanocidal drugs Geneticists and molecular biologists will gain valuable information from this book
