Metalevel Architectures and Separation of Crosscutting Concerns Akinori Yonezawa, Satoshi Matsuoka, 2003-06-30 This volume constitutes the proceedings of REFLECTION 2001 the Third International Conference on Metalevel Architectures and Separation of Crosscutting Concerns which was held in Kyoto September 25 28 2001 Metalevel architectures and reflection have drawn the attention of researchers and practitioners throughout computer science Reflective and metalevel techniques are being used to address real world problems in such areas as programming languages operating systems databases distributed computing expert systems and web computing Separation of concerns has been a guiding principle of software engineering for nearly 30 years but its known benefits are seldom fully achieved in practice This is primarily because traditional mechanisms are not powerful enough to handle many kinds of concerns that occur in practice Over the last 10 years to overcome the limitations of traditional frameworks many researchers including several from the reflection community have proposed new approaches For the first time papers on advanced approaches to separation of concerns were explicitly solicited Following the success of previous conferences such as IMSA 92 in Tokyo Reflection 96 in San Francisco and Reflection 99 in Saint Malo we hope that the conference provided an excellent forum for researchers with a broad range of interests in metalevel architectures reflective techniques and separation of concerns in general

The Mirror of Laughter Alexander Kozintsev, 2017-07-12 The Mirror of Laughter presents a theory of humor and laughter by examining their relationship to human behaviors Kozintsev is especially interested in the relationship between biological and cultural factors that influence behaviors He divides his work into four chapters the first of which establishes a theme of the book focusing on the study of meaning from the perspective of philosophy and psychology while examining linguistic theories of humor The second chapter examines biological data regarding laughter and the evolutionary origins of laughter and humor It demonstrates the author's interest in studying humor objectively by detailing physiological reactions and underlying psychological issues The third section on play including linguistic play distinguishes between orderly and disorderly play While orderly play has no biological roots and is synonymous with culture disorderly play is rooted in the pre human past The final chapter discusses the conflict between culture and nature and how culture has transformed the original semantics of laughter Kozintsev seeks to understand the relationship between the biological cultural and social origins of humor and from here he seeks to create new understanding that only the alliance of several disciplines could provide All of this is done while the author challenges many popular ideas of humor such as that humor is inherently related to hostility Originally written in Russian this work makes great strides towards its goal and it does so in an interesting and enlightening way
