Sinton, 1941 The Radiant Way. New Ed Sally Michel, 1969 Resisting Bodies Helga Druxes, 1996 Helga Druxes study of the female protagonists in novels by German writer Monika Maron British writers Margaret Drabble and Jean Rhys and French writer Marguerite Duras brings together the work of four prominent contemporary women authors In discussing the position of women in urban spaces from the point of view of feminist and cultural theory Druxes combines anthropology and recent literary theory within the framework of cultural studies She addresses such concerns as the objectification commodification of women in late capitalist society the possibilities for resistant or subversive female agency under these conditions and the role of specifically urban arrangements of space in both effecting this objectification and creating the sites where it might be resisted or disrupted by women Resisting Bodies is an important contribution to literary criticism and feminist theory Feminism's Progress Carol Colatrella, 2023-08-01 Feminism's Progress builds on more than fifty years of feminist criticism to analyze narrative representations of feminist ideas about women's social roles gender inequities and needed reforms Carol Colatrella argues that popular novels short stories and television shows produced in the United States and Britain from Little Dorrit and Iola Leroy to Call the Midwife and The Closer foster acceptance of feminism by optimistically illustrating its prospects and promises Scholars students and general readers will appreciate the book's sweeping introduction to a host of concerns in feminist theory while applying a gender lens to a wide range of literature and media from the past two centuries In exploring how individuals and communities might reduce bias and discrimination and ensure gender equity these fictions serve as both a measure and a means of feminism's progress The Radiant Way Margaret Drabble, 1987 The Radiant Way.
