RAF Bomber Units, September 1939 to June 1942 Bryan Philpott, 1977 This book traces the combat History of RAF bomber units during the early years of World War 2 Major aircraft types are all covered and their day and night time missions are detailed Aircraft markings and aircrew uniforms are shown in full colour illustrations A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945. Volume 2 Christopher Shores, Giovanni Massimello, Russell Guest, Frank Olynyk, Winfried Bock, 2014-07-19 This second volume in the seminal series on aerial combat pilots and tactics in Libya and Egypt in the middle of World War II In volume two of this series historian Christopher Shores begins by exploring the 8th Army s movements after Operation Crusader when they were forced back to the Gazala area in northeastern Libya as well as their defeat in June 1942 the loss of Tobruk and the efforts of Allied air forces to protect their retreating troops Shores continues with the heavy fighting that followed in the El Alamein region This features the Western Desert Air Force and the arrival of the first Spitfires The buildup of both army and air forces and the addition of new commanders on the ground aided the defeat of Rommel s Deutsche Afrika Korps at Alam el Halfa after which came the Second Battle of El Alamein With the arrival of the United States Army Air Force the Allied air forces gained dominance over the Axis Shores recounts the lengthy pursuit of the Italo German forces right across Libya including the capture of Tripoli and the breakthrough into Southern Tunisia This allowed a linkup with other Allied forces in Tunisia whose story appears in Volume 3 Included with the action are stories of some of the great fighter aces of the Desert campaign such as Jochen Marseille and Otto Schulz of the Luftwaffe Franco Bordoni Bisleri of the Regia Aeronautica and Neville Duke Billy Drake and Eddie Edwards of the Commonwealth air forces Finally Shores touches on the Allied and Axis night bombing offensives and the activities of the squadrons cooperating with the naval forces in the Mediterranean Spanish Civil War Air Forces Christopher Shores, 1977-07-15 This book traces the combat history of the air forces that fought in the Spanish Civil War Major aircraft types are all covered and their missions including major operations at Brunete Belchite and the Ebro are all detailed Aircraft markings and aircrew uniforms are shown in full colour illustrations A History of the Mediterranean Air War, 1940-1945 Christopher Shores, Giovanni Massimello, Russell Guest, 2012-06-19 This first volume in the seminal series on World War II aerial combat pilots and tactics that reads like an encyclopedia on the subject Portland Book Review In the early days of World War II both Allied and Axis powers extended the theater of war to North Africa where hard fought battles were conducted in the harsh desert But before anyone could claim victory on the ground they had to hold dominion in the air Here historian Christopher Shores has combined his books Fighters over the Desert and Fighters over Tunisia into one volume as well as adding updated information about the deadly fighter aircraft reconnaissance aircraft and maritime units active in the Mediterranean Full of in depth research and featuring essential maps this is an intimate introspection by these men of their experiences and the respect that they shared not only for each other but also their adversaries The Military Reviewer

Vickers Wellington Units of Bomber Command Michael Napier,2020-07-23 The Vickers Wellington was one of very few aircraft types to have been in production and frontline service throughout World War II and more than 10 000 Wellingtons were built in the period They took part in the first RAF bombing mission of the conflict when on 4 September 1939 14 examples from Nos 9 and 149 Sqns undertook a daring daylight attack on the Kiel Canal However after suffering high losses on follow up raids Wellingtons were withdrawn from daytime missions and began to operate at night from May 1940 They subsequently took part in raids against the Italian port city of Genoa in July 1940 and against Berlin the following month followed by key missions in the Battle of the Barges in September and October as the RAF targeted the Germany s invasion fleet being assembled in French Channel ports When RAF s strike force expanded the next year following the introduction of the improved Wellington II the 21 squadrons equipped with the Vickers aircraft which included Polish Canadian and Australian manned units formed the backbone of the Bomber Command night bombing force Over the next two years Wellingtons participated in all the major operations by Bomber Command including the daylight raid against German battleships in Brest harbour in July 1942 and the first three Thousand Bomber raids in the summer of 1942 This illustrated study explores the design development and deployment of the Vickers Wellington type charting its role in World War II from its earliest missions to its use in training after its withdrawal from frontline bomber missions in 1943 The text is supported by stunning full colour artwork Bomber Squadrons of the R.A.F. and Their Aircraft Philip J. R. Moyes,1964 Illustrated record of British Royal Air Force squadrons formed since the First World War including those formed from Allied and Dominions personnel Encyclopedia of World War II Alan Axelrod,2007 A reference to the ideological military political biographical and social topics surrounding World War II which is often considered the pivotal event of the twentieth century Stuka Spearhead Peter C. Smith,1998-09-30 This addition to the Luftwaffe at War Series is a fully illustrated guide to the formative years of the Ju 87 dive bomber which dominated the opening campaigns of W orld War II Air Power and the Evacuation of Dunkirk Harry Raffal,2021-07-15 The evacuation of Dunkirk has been immortalised in books prints and films narrated as a story of an outnumbered inexperienced RAF defeating the battle hardened Luftwaffe and protecting the evacuation This book revives the historiography by analysing the air operations during the evacuation Raffal draws from German and English sources many for the first time in the context of Operation DYNAMO to argue that both sides suffered a defeat over Dunkirk This work examines the resources and tactics of both sides during DYNAMO and challenges the traditional view that the Luftwaffe held the advantage The success that the Luftwaffe achieved during DYNAMO including halting daylight evacuations on 1 June is evaluated and the supporting role of RAF Bomber and Coastal Command is explored in detail for the first time Concluding that the RAF was not responsible for the Luftwaffe s failure to prevent the evacuation Raffal demonstrates that the reasons lay elsewhere Operation Oyster World War II's Forgotten Raid Kees Rijken,Paul Schepers,Arthur G. Thorning,2014-08-15 Operation Oyster was carried out on the 6th December 1942 by 2 Group RAF

Considered to be a notable success for the allies it cost the Germans an estimated six months of lost production time at a critical point in the conflict. It is arguable according to the authors that the operation was in fact rather more significant than Operation Chastise the Dambuster raid while accepting that was a remarkable feat of arms. Operation Oyster struck at the very heart of what Churchill termed the wizard war against German radio navigational technology by attacking a central hub of activity the Philips Radio Works in Eindhoven The Netherlands. The development of electronics in WWII was the most significant technical aspect of weaponry over the course of the conflict. On both sides there were great advances in radar and communications which at that time depended on the wide scale use of high frequency radio valves few companies had the technology to produce these but the leading one in Europe was Philips in Eindhoven. Thus it was determined that Philips was the most important target. Ninety three allied aircraft took part and a total of fourteen were lost. But the result in terms of damages to the enemy was considerable hindering the German war effort significantly and consequently aiding the allies. Despite these facts however the story of the raid has been underreported and the efforts of the aircrew who took part have been little recognized. By comparison the Dambuster raid which came six months later has entered into folklore. Here for the first time the overlooked Oyster raid is afforded the attention it deserves.

Victory at Sea Paul Kennedy, 2022-04-26 A sweeping lavishly illustrated one volume history of the rise of American naval power during World War II. A brilliant and gripping book by a master historian working at the top of his powers. Fredrik Logevall Harvard University. Paul Kennedy has written a classic in this sweeping narrative account of the desperate struggle to command the seas and America's rise as a superpower during the Second World War. John H Maurer U S Naval War College. In this engaging narrative brought to life by marine artist Ian Marshall's beautiful full color paintings historian Paul Kennedy grapples with the rise and fall of the Great Powers during World War II. Tracking the movements of the six major navies of the Second World War the allied navies of Britain France and the United States and the Axis navies of Germany Italy and Japan Kennedy tells a story of naval battles maritime campaigns convoys amphibious landings and strikes from the sea. From the elimination of the Italian German and Japanese fleets and almost all of the French fleet to the end of the era of the big gunned surface vessel the advent of the atomic bomb and the rise of an American economic and military power larger than anything the world had ever seen Kennedy shows how the strategic landscape for naval affairs was completely altered between 1936 and 1946.

Fiat CR.42 Aces of World War 2 Håkan Gustavsson, Ludovico Slongo, 2013-02-20 A study of the exploits of the Fiat CR 42 Aces in World War II. The Fiat CR 42 a logical development of the Fiat CR 32 was the last single seat fighter biplane to be produced. It entered service with the Italian Regia Aeronautica in May 1939 before being exported to Belgium Hungary and Sweden. Its combat debut came when the Belgian air force threw its fleet into action during the German invasion of the Low Countries on 10th May 1940. Despite being quickly overwhelmed the Belgian pilots managed to make a number of aerial claims The CR 42 became heavily involved in the fighting in North Africa and although it was gradually replaced by more modern fighters it continued in a point defence and ground support role until the end of the war Drawing on research from a range of sources this book examines the extensive employment of the Italian fighter plane during the course of World War II Case Studies in Strategic Bombardment R. Anti-Submarine Warfare David Owen, 2007-11-15 The submarine was undoubtedly the most potent purely naval weapon of the twentieth century In two world wars enemy underwater campaigns were very nearly successful in thwarting Allied hopes of victory indeed annihilation of Japanese shipping by US Navy submarines is an indicator of what might have been That the submarine was usually defeated is a hugely important story in naval history yet this is the first book to treat the subject as a whole in a readable and accessible manner It concerns individual heroism and devotion to duty but also ingenuity technical advances and originality of tactical thought What developed was an endless battle between forces above and below the surface where a successful innovation by one side eventually produces a counter measure by the other in a lethal struggle for supremacy Development was not a straight line wrong ideas and assumptions led to defeat and disaster
