Rom An Aboriginal Ritual Of Diplomacy:

ROM Stephen Aubrey Wild, 1986 ROM is a ritual of diplomacy performed to establish or re establish friendly relations with neighbouring communities by presenting them with elaborately decorated totemic poles The entire process of making binding and decorating the poles can extend over weeks and involves successive sessions of song and dance with culminate in a presentation ceremony

A Distinctive Voice in the Antipodes Kirsty Gillespie, Sally Treloyn, Don Niles, 2017-07-17 This volume of essays honours the life and work of Stephen A Wild one of Australia's leading ethnomusicologists Born in Western Australia Wild studied at Indiana University in the USA before returning to Australia to pursue a lifelong career with Indigenous Australian music As researcher teacher and administrator Wild's work has impacted generations of scholars around the world leading him to be described as a great facilitator and a scholar who serves humanity through music by Andre e Grau Professor of the Anthropology of Dance at University of Roehampton London Focusing on the music of Aboriginal Australia and the Pacific Islands and the concerns of archiving and academia the essays within are authored by peers colleagues and former students of Wild Most of the authors are members of the Study Group on Music and Dance of Oceania of the International Council for Traditional Music an organisation that has also played an important role in Wild's life and development as a scholar of international standing Ranging in scope from the musicological to the anthropological from technical musical analyses to observations of the sociocultural context of music these essays reflect not only on the varied and cross disciplinary nature of Wild's work but on the many facets of ethnomusicology today

Roger Sandall's Films and Contemporary Anthropology Lorraine Mortimer, 2019-09-12 A look at a prize winning documentarian whose work with aboriginal Australians and others united the fields of film and anthropology in the 1960s and 70s In Roger Sandall's Films and Contemporary Anthropology Lorraine Mortimer argues that while social anthropology and documentary film share historic roots and goals particularly on the continent of Australia their trajectories have tended to remain separate This book reunites film and anthropology through the works of Roger Sandall a New Zealand born filmmaker and Columbia University graduate who was part of the vibrant avant garde and social documentary film culture in New York in the 1960s Mentored by Margaret Mead in anthropology and Cecile Starr in fine arts Sandall was eventually hired as the one man film unit at the newly formed Australian Institute of Aboriginal Studies in 1965 In the 1970s he became a lecturer in anthropology at the University of Sydney Sandall won First Prize for Documentary at the Venice Film Festival in 1968 yet his films are scarcely known even in Australia now Mortimer demonstrates how Sandall's films continue to be relevant to contemporary discussions in the fields of anthropology and documentary studies She ties exploration of the making and restriction of Sandall's aboriginal films and his nonrestricted films made in Mexico Australia and India to the radical history of anthropology and the resurgence today of an expanded existential phenomenological anthropology that encompasses the vital connections between humans animals things and our environment

The Gift of Song Reuben Brown, 2024-10-17 The Gift of Song Performing Exchange in Western Arnhem Land tells the story of the return of physical and digital cultural materials through song and dance Drawing on extensive first person ethnographic fieldwork in western Arnhem Land Australia Brown examines how Bininj Arrarrkpi Aboriginal people of this region enact change and innovate their performance practices through ceremonial exchange As Indigenous communities worldwide confront new social and environmental challenges this book addresses the questions How do Indigenous communities come to terms with legacies of taking and collecting How are cultural materials in digital formats received and ritualised How do traditional forms of exchange continue to mediate relationships Combining ethnomusicological analysis and linguistically and historically informed ethnography this book reveals how multilingualism and musical diversity are maintained through kun borrk manyardi a major genre of Indigenous Australian song and dance It retheorises the core anthropological concept of exchange and enriches understanding of repatriation as a process of re embedding tangible objects through intangible practices of ceremony and language Aboriginal History ,1989 Landscapes of Indigenous Performance Fiona Magowan,Karl Neuenfeldt,2005 This collection shows how traditional music and dance have responded to colonial control in the past and more recently to other external forces beyond local control It looks at musical pasts and presents as a continuum of creativity at contemporary cultural performance as a contested domain and at cross cultural issues of recording and teaching music and dance as experienced by Indigenous leaders and educators and non Indigenous researchers and scholars

Customary marine tenure in Australia Nicolas Peterson ,Bruce Rigsby ,2014-02-19 Most Australians are familiar with the concept of land ownership and understand the meaning of native title which recognises Indigenous peoples rights to land to which they are spiritually or culturally connected The ownership of areas of sea and its resources is often overlooked however despite Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander connections with the sea being just as important as those with the land The papers in this volume demonstrate how the concept of customary marine tenure has developed in various communities and look at some of its implications Originating in a session of papers at a conference in 1996 the papers in this volume were originally published as Oceania Monograph 48 in 1998 The Ancestress Hypothesis Kathryn Coe,2003 In our society it has long been believed that art serves very little social purpose Evolutionary anthropologists however are examining a potential role for art in human evolution Kathryn Coe looks to the visual arts of traditional societies for clues Because they are passed down from previous generations traditional art forms such as body decoration funeral ornaments and ancestral paintings offer ways to promote social relationships among kin and codescendants of a common ancestor Mothers used art forms to anchor themselves and their kin to the father and his kin and to promote the survival and reproductive success of kin and descendants Individuals who abided by this strategy accompanied by its strict codes of cooperation left more descendants than did individuals who did not Over time given this reproductive success large numbers of individuals would be identified as codescendants of a common ancestor and would cooperate as if they were close kin These cooperative codescendants were more likely to survive and leave descendants With each new generation these clans propagated not only their genes but also their behavioral strategy the replication or presence of art The book concludes by examining the changing characteristics of visual art including a higher value on creativity competition and cost when traditional constraints on social behavior disappear

The Editorial Gaze Paul Eggert, Margaret Sankey, 2014-04-04 This collection of original essays brings international and multidisciplinary perspectives to the problem of how to understand and practice editorial mediation How does editing alter what it seeks to represent How does it condition the relationship between texts and readers The different concerns shared by editors of a variety of genres literary and otherwise emerge here as constructive new approaches to the theory and practice of editing are explored The essays make a concerted attempt to assess the implications of postmodern thought on one of the oldest and most fundamental cultural activities editing The section on theory covers such important subjects as editorial responsibility the death of the author and the nature of the authorial voice The practice section covers actual editing situations in various literary areas and in musicology recorded music and the preservation of oral literature The multidisciplinary volume will find its readers among students of textual criticism literature music and folklore as well as any readers of postmodern criticism

Trauma Trails, Recreating Song Lines Judy Atkinson, 2002 Providing a ground breaking answer to the questions of how to solve the problems of cross generational trauma Trauma Trails moves beyhond the rhetoric of victimhood and provides inspiration for anyone concerned about Indigenous and non Indigenous communities today

The Future Eaters Tim Flannery, 2002 In this illustrated ecological history acclaimed scientist and historian Flannery follows the environment of the islands through the age of dinosaurs to the age of mammals and the arrival of humans to the European colonizers and industrial society Penetrating gripping and provocative this book combines natural history anthropology and ecology on an epic scale Illustrations
