The Tragic Myth Edward F. Stanton, 2021-10-21 With literature music constituted the most important activity of poet and playwright Federico García Lorca's life The two arts were closely related to each other throughout his career As a child Lorca imbibed traditional Andalusian songs from the lips of the family maids whom he would remember with affection years later At a very early age he began to study piano and during his adolescence music and poetry competed for primacy among his interests His first book was dedicated to his music teacher who instilled in him a love for the world of art and creation In part I of this study Edward F. Stanton examines Lorca's theoretical and practical approach to cante jondo the traditional music of Andalusia as seen in his lectures on the subject and in the 1922 concurso In part II he searches for direct and far more important indirect echoes of this music in his work Part III explores the mythic quality of Lorca's art in relation to cante jondo Throughout Stanton illuminates a new dimension of the poet's work

menos que de cabecera Y en esta ocasi3n lo presentamos con numerosas notas a pie de p3gina tanto en los apartados de estudio de la obra como en el propio cuerpo del volumen para su mejor comprensi3n pero sin obstaculizar su lectura o interpretaci3n Edici3n de Antonio A Gmez Yebra Lorca's Romancero Gitano Federico Garc3a Lorca, Carl W. period with five of the poets being twentieth century poets It is argued that the roots of modern poetry are to be found in Romanticism's anguished search for meaning The seven Spanish poets include Becquer Rosalia de Castro Antonio Machado Jorge Guillen Pedro Salinas Garcia Lorca and Rafael Alberti Primer romancero gitano Federico García Lorca,1928
