Roman Rhetoric Revolution And The Greek Influence:

Roman Rhetoric Richard Leo Enos, 2008-10-17 Greek and Roman traditions dominate classical rhetoric. Conventional historical accounts characterize Roman rhetoric as an appropriation and modification of Greek rhetoric, particularly the rhetoric that flourished in fifth and fourth centuries BCE Athens. However, the origins, nature, and endurance of this Greco-Roman relationship have not been thoroughly explained. Roman Rhetoric Revolution and the Greek Influence reveals that while Romans did benefit from Athenian rhetoric, their own rhetoric was also influenced by later Greek and non-Hellenic cultures, particularly the Etruscan civilization that held hegemony over all of Italy for hundreds of years before Rome came to power.

An Introduction to Classical Rhetoric James D. Williams, 2009-05-04 An anthology of primary texts in translation. An Introduction to Classical Rhetoric offers an overview of the social, cultural, and intellectual factors that influenced the development and growth of rhetoric during the classical period. Uses primary source material to analyze rhetoric from the Sophists through St. Augustine. Provides an in-depth introduction to the period as well as introductions to each author and each selection. Includes study guides to help students develop multiple perspectives on the material, stimulate critical thinking, and provide starting points for dialogue. Highlights include Gorgias's Palamedes, Antiphon's Truth, Isocrates' Helen, and Plato's Protagoras. Each selection is followed by suggested writing topics and a short list of suggested additional readings.

Rhetoric before and beyond the Greeks Carol S. Lipson, Roberta A. Binkley, 2012-02-01 Focusing on ancient rhetoric outside of the dominant Western tradition, this collection examines rhetorical practices in Egypt, Mesopotamia, Israel, and China. The book uncovers alternate ways of understanding human behavior and explores how these rhetorical practices both reflected and influenced their cultures. The essays address issues of historiography and raise questions about the application of Western rhetorical concepts to these very different ancient cultures. A chapter on suggestions for teaching each of these ancient rhetorics is included.

Rhetorical Adaptation in the Greek Historians, Josephus, and Acts vol. I John M. Duncan, 2022-10-24 Greco-Roman rhetorical theorists insist that speakers must adapt their speeches to their audiences in order to maximize persuasiveness and minimize alienation. Ancient historians adorn their narratives with accounts of attempts at such rhetorical adaptation, the outcomes of which decisively impact the subsequent course of events. These depictions of speaker-audience interactions moreover convey crucial didactic/persuasive insights to the historians' own audiences. This monograph presents a detailed comparative analysis of the intra- and extra-textual functions of speeches and audience responses in Greek historiography, Josephus, and Acts, with special emphasis on Luke's distinctive depiction of the apostles as adaptable yet frequently alienating orators. This is volume I of a set of two volumes.

Greek Rhetoric Before Aristotle Richard Leo Enos, 2011-11-29 Recent archaeological discoveries, coupled with long lost but now available epigraphical evidence, and a more expansive view of literary sources provide new and dramatic evidence of the emergence of rhetoric in ancient Greece. Many of these artifacts, gathered through onsite fieldwork in Greece, are analyzed in this revised and expanded edition of Greek Rhetoric Before Aristotle This new evidence along with recent developments in research methods and analysis reveal clearly that long before Aristotle's Rhetoric long before rhetoric was even stabilized into formal systems of study in Classical Athens nascent pre disciplinary rhetorics were emerging throughout Greece

A Synoptic History of Classical Rhetoric James J. Murphy, Richard A. Katula, Michael Hoppmann, 2013-07-24 Continuing its tradition of providing students with a thorough review of ancient Greek and Roman rhetorical theory and practices A Synoptic History of Classical Rhetoric is the premier text for undergraduate courses and graduate seminars in the history of rhetoric Offering vivid examples of each classical rhetor rhetorical period and source text students are led to understand rhetoric's role in the exchange of knowledge and ideas Completely updated throughout Part I of this new edition integrates new research and expanded footnotes and bibliographies for students to develop their own scholarship Part II offers eight classical texts for reading study and criticism and includes discussion questions and keys to the text in Part I

Feminist Circulations Jessica Enoch, Karen Nelson, 2021-06-04 The scholars in FEMINIST CIRCULATIONS RHETORICAL EXPLORATIONS ACROSS SPACE AND TIME work at the nexus of gender power and movement to explore the rhetorical nature of circulation especially considering how women from varying backgrounds and their rhetorics have moved and have been constrained across both space and time Among the central characters studied in this collection are early modern laborers letter writers petitioners and embroiderers African American elocutionists freedom singers and bloggers Muslim religious leaders Quaker suffragists South African filmmakers nineteenth century conduct book writers and twenty first century pop stars To generate their claims contributors draw from and make use of a breadth of archival and primary documents music videos tweets petitions letters embroidery work speeches memoirs diaries and made for television movies Authors read these texts with scrutiny and imagination adding distinction to their chapters arguments about circulation by zeroing in on specific rhetorical concepts that span from rhetorical agency cultivation of ethos and development of rhetorical education to capacities for social networking collective and collaborative authorship and kairotic interventions Contributors include Jane Donawerth Jessica Enoch Danielle Griffin Nabila Hijazi Shirley Logan Elizabeth Ellis Miller Karen Nelson Michele Osherow Ruth Osorio Erin Sadlack Adele Seeff and Lisa Zimmerelli

Adaptive Rhetoric Alex C. Parrish, 2013-11-07 Rhetorical scholarship has for decades relied solely on culture to explain persuasive behavior While this focus allows for deep explorations of historical circumstance it neglects the powerful effects of biology on rhetorical behavior how our bodies and brains help shape and constrain rhetorical acts Not only is the cultural model incomplete but it tacitly endorses the fallacy of human exceptionalism By introducing evolutionary biology into the study of rhetoric this book serves as a model of a biocultural paradigm Being mindful of biological and cultural influences allows for a deeper view of rhetoric one that is aware of the ubiquity of persuasive behavior in nature Human and nonhuman animals and even some plants persuade to survive to live love and cooperate That this broad spectrum of rhetorical behavior exists in the animal world demonstrates how much we can learn from evolutionary biology By incorporating scholarship on animal signaling into the study of rhetoric the author explores how communication has evolved and how numerous different species of animals employ similar persuasive tactics in order to overcome similar problems This cross species study of rhetoric allows us to trace the origins of our own persuasive behaviors providing us with a deeper history of rhetoric that transcends the written and the televised and reveals the artifacts of our communicative past

Contest(ed) Writing Mary Lamb, 2013-01-14 This collection is about writing contests a vibrant rhetorical practice traceable to rhetorical performances in ancient Greece In their discussion of contests cultural work the scholars who have contributed to this collection uncover important questions about our practices For example educational contests as epideictic rhetoric do indeed celebrate writing but does this celebration merely relieve educators of the responsibility of finding ways for all writers to succeed Contests designed to reward single winners and singly authored works admirably celebrate hard work but do they over emphasize exceptional individual achievement over shared goals and communal reward for success Taking a cultural rhetorical approach to contests each chapter demonstrates the cultural work the contests accomplish The essays in Part I examine contests and riddles in classical Greek and Roman periods educational contests in eighteenth century Scotland and the Lyceum movement in the Antebellum American South The next set of essays discusses how contests leverage competition and reward in educational settings medieval universities American turn of the century women s colleges twenty first century scholarship essay contests and writing contests for speakers of other languages at the University of Portsmouth The last set of essays examines popular contests including poetry contests in Youth Spoken Word popular American contests designed by marketers and twenty first century podcasting competitions This collection then takes up contests as a cultural marker of our values assumptions and relationships to writing contests and competition

The History of Linguistics in Europe Vivien Law, 2003-01-30 This authoritative and wide ranging book first published in 2003 examines the history of western linguistics over a 2000 year timespan from its origins in ancient Greece up to the crucial moment of change in the Renaissance that laid the foundations of modern linguistics Some of today s burning questions about language date back a long way in 1400 BC Plato was asking how words relate to reality Other questions go back just a few generations such as our interest in the mechanisms of language change or in the social factors that shape the way we speak Vivien Law explores how ideas about language over the centuries have changed to reflect changing modes of thinking A survey chapter brings the coverage of the book up to the present day Classified bibliographies and chapters on research resources and the qualities the historian of linguistics needs to develop provide the reader with the tools to go further

Handbook of Research on Writing Charles Bazerman, 2009-03-04 The Handbook of Research on Writing ventures to sum up inquiry over the last few decades on what we know about writing and the many ways we know it How do people write How do they learn to write and develop as writers Under what conditions and for what purposes do people write What resources and technologies do we use to write How did our current forms and practices of writing emerge within social history What impacts has writing had on society and the individual What does it mean to be and to learn to be an active participant in contemporary systems of meaning This cornerstone volume advances the field by aggregating the broad ranging interdisciplinary multidimensional strands of writing research and bringing them together into a common intellectual space Endeavoring to synthesize what has been learned about writing in all nations in recent decades it reflects a wide scope of international research activity with attention to writing at all levels of schooling and in all life situations Chapter authors all eminent researchers come from disciplines as diverse as anthropology archeology typography communication studies linguistics journalism sociology rhetoric composition law medicine education history and literacy studies The Handbook s 37 chapters are organized in five sections The History of Writing Writing in Society Writing in Schooling Writing and the Individual Writing as Text This volume in summing up what is known about writing deepens our experience and appreciation of writing in ways that will make teachers better at teaching writing and all of its readers better as individual writers It will be interesting and useful to scholars and researchers of writing to anyone who teaches writing in any context at any level and to all those who are just curious about writing     Facing the Sky Roy F. Fox, 2015-12-10 Through extensive interviews correspondence and close analysis of their public and personal writing Roy F Fox details why and how writing helped people make sense out of their physical and emotional upheavals trauma caused by the loss of loved ones and terminal illness exploring such issues as their motivation fluency awareness of audience rhetorical decision making focused collaborations and uses of secondary source material     Expel the Pretender Eve Wiederhold, 2015-04-01 Political fights are not waged over who is speaking the truth but over whether any given claim seems to be authentic Expel the Pretender Rhetoric Renounced and the Politics of Style examines how rhetorical style influences judgments about how to communicate integrity and good will Eve Wiederhold argues that attitudes about style s significance to judgment are both undertheorized and over determined especially when style is regarded as an embellishment rather than as a constitutive aspect of language use Examining news reports covering controversial speakers including President Bill Clinton Linda Tripp and the Rev Jeremiah Wright she demonstrates how rhetorical style is both belittled and yet remains a focal point for assessing public figures who have been publicly rebuked and discredited Expel the Pretender claims style as a conflicted site of materiality critiquing contemporary rhetorical theories that configure style as a dependable resource for democratic inquiry Wiederhold argues that conceptions of style s significance to judgment must be reframed to understand how we make decisions about who and what to believe     First-Year Composition Deborah Coxwell-Teague, Ronald F. Lunsford, 2014-05-01 First Year Composition From Theory to Practice s combination of theory and practice provides readers an opportunity to hear twelve of the leading theorists in composition studies answer in their own voices the key question of what it is they hope to accomplish in a first year composition course In addition these chapters and the accompanying syllabi provide rich insights into the classroom practices of these theorists     Professional Communication and Network Interaction Heidi A.

McKee, James E. Porter, 2017-06-14 Digital technologies and social media have changed the processes products and interactions of professional communication reshaping how when with whom and where business professionals communicate This book examines these changes by asking How does rhetorical theory need to adapt and develop to address the changing practices of professional communication Drawing from classical and contemporary rhetorical theory and from in depth interviews with business professionals the authors present a case based approach for exploring the changing landscape of professional communication The book develops a rhetorical theory based on networked interaction and rhetorical ethics seeing professional communication as involving new kinds of networked interactions that require an integrated view of rhetoric and ethics The book applies this frame to a variety of communication cases involving for example employee missteps on social media corporate consumer interactions and the developing use of artificial intelligence agents AI bots to handle online communication

Time and Ancient Medicine Cassandra J. Miller, 2023-08-08 Time and Ancient Medicine is the first monograph to explore on the one hand how the introduction of new timekeeping technologies namely sundials and water clocks affected the practice rhetoric and philosophy of ancient medicine and on the other hand how medical timekeeping practices affected engagement with time elsewhere in society The study seeks first to offer a chronological narrative of how timekeeping technologies and medical practices evolved and influenced one another in ancient Greece and Rome with consideration of relevant Pharaonic Egyptian and Assyro Babylonian precedents Cassandra J Miller turns to a series of case studies drawn from the Roman Imperial period to investigate thematic questions asking how debates over medical timekeeping interacted with debates over proper scientific methodology the status of medicine as a formal art and the relationships between medicine and other disciplines like mathematics astronomy and astrology Throughout this study places epigraphic artistic and other material evidence for hourly timekeeping in dialogue with selections from medical literature some of which has not previously been published in modern language translation Ultimately this study reveals that time and timekeeping played fundamental roles in ancient medical debates and practices and challenges the traditional narrative that the social history of clock time only begins with the invention of the mechanical clock in the Medieval period It offers new insights into the specific ways that physicians of the ancient Mediterranean engaged with their evolving temporal landscapes and raises questions about the relationships between time and medicine in the modern day

All Things Ancient Rome Anne Leen, 2023-06-15 Through roughly 160 alphabetically arranged reference entries this book surveys the material culture and social institutions of Ancient Rome Ancient Rome was one of the great civilizations of antiquity Honoring the contributions of their cultural forebearers who included Etruscans Asians and Egyptians as well as Greeks Roman artists writers and thinkers freely borrowed where tradition dictated and innovated where personal talent and imagination directed forging a unique creative experience that formed the basis of Western European artistic literary and philosophical production for 2 000 years While other reference works typically examine battles and politicians this book focuses on Roman social history and daily life painting a detailed picture of the material culture and social institutions of Ancient Rome A timeline highlights key events while an overview essay surveys the achievements of the Romans Reference entries provide objective information about art architecture literature commerce transportation government religion and other topics related to Roman life Each entry provides cross references and suggestions for further reading and some provide sidebars of interesting facts along with excerpts from primary source documents The book closes with a selected general bibliography of resources suitable for student research

Mimetic Criticism and the Gospel of Mark Joel L. Watts, 2013-02-01 What if the story of Jesus was meant not just to be told but retold molded and shaped into something new something present by the Evangelist to face each new crisis The Evangelists were not recording a historical report but writing to effect a change in their community Mark was faced with the imminent destruction of his tiny community a community leaderless without Paul and Peter and who witnessed the destruction of the Temple now another messianic figure was claiming the worship rightly due to Jesus The author of the Gospel of Mark takes his stylus in hand and begins to rewrite the story of Jesus to unwrite the present rewrite the past to change the future Joel L Watts moves the Gospel of Mark to just after the destruction of the Temple sets it within Roman educational models and begins to read the ancient work afresh Watts builds upon the historical criticisms of the past but brings out a new way of reading the ancient stories of Jesus and attempts to establish the literary sources of the Evangelist

Techne, from Neoclassicism to Postmodernism Kelly Pender, 2011-05-21 Techne from Neoclassicism to Postmodernism offers a deconstructive reading of the debates that have surrounded the term techne in rhetoric and composition explaining how we can affirm its value as a theory and pedagogy of writing without denying the legitimacy of the postmodern critiques that have been leveled against it

Writing a Progressive Past Lisa Mastrangelo, 2012-01-23 Writing a Progressive Past Women Teaching and Writing in the Progressive Era traces the lineage of writing instruction during the Progressive Era from the influences of John Dewey to the graduate program designed and run by Fred Newton Scott Finally it explores two sites of writing instruction run by Scott s graduates one at Wellesley College and one at Mount Holyoke College
