Rootless In The City:

CityEvents Ward Rennan, 2007 Large international events like the Olympic Games put cities on the world map CityEvents place selling in a Media Age addresses the question how cities have been raising their profile internationally by hosting large international events throughout the twentieth century It explores this question by introducing the CityEvent model This model allows for the study of large international events from a threefold perspective analytically integrating the roles of the media host cities and event owners with each other By means of this model developments and transformations in the hosting of events are reconstructed in relation to historical developments in the media This thesis provides a history of event based place selling and simultaneously offers insights into the hosting of current and future events The cities of Amsterdam Berlin and Helsinki both as hosts of the Olympic Games and as European Capitals of Culture feature as case studies Jubilee Manor Bethany Hagen, 2015 Madeline struggles to unite her own gentry class and the impoverished Rootless but when the Rootless are suspected of murdering gentry heirs Madeline finds herself at odds with the boy she loves and the very people she is trying to lead Rootless in the city. [By] Noel Timms National Institute for Social Work Training (Great Britain), Noel Timms, 1968 Transit States Abdulhadi Khalaf, Omar AlShehabi, Adam Hanieh, 2014-11-20 There are vast swathes of people in economic migration across the Gulf states today In total Saudi Arabia Kuwait Bahrain United Arab Emirates Oman and Qatar form the largest destination for labour migration in the global South This book studies the impact of this mass migration and its effect on citizenship and workers rights Transit States considers how the transitory labour power these workers provide creates an extraordinary development boom that impacts neighbouring countries The majority of the working population is therefore composed of migrant workers with no citizenship rights The Gulf takes a central place in growing debates around migration and labour in the global economy Transit States confronts the precarious working conditions of migrants in an accessible yet in depth manner Temporary Cities Yasser Elsheshtawy, 2019-03-28 Are Arab Gulf cities the likes of Dubai Abu Dhabi or Doha on their way to extinction Is their fate obsolescence Or are they the model for our urban future Can a city whose very existence is predicated on an imported labour force who build and operate these gleaming urban centres remain a viable urban entity Could the transient nature of this urban model its temporariness and precariousness also be its doom In this wide ranging book Yasser Elsheshtawy takes on these tough but necessary questions aiming to examine the very nature of the Arab Gulf city and whether it can sustain its existence throughout the twenty first century Having lived in the region for more than two decades he researched its marginalized and forgotten urban settings trying to understand how a temporary people can live in a place that inherently refuses to give them the possibility of becoming citizens By being embedded in these spaces and reconciling their presence with his own personal encounters with transience he discovered a resilience and defiance against the forces of the hegemonic city Using subtle acts of resistance these temporary inhabitants have found a way to sustain and create a home to set down roots in the midst of a fast changing and transient urbanity Their stories recounted in this book through case studies and in depth analysis give hope to cities everywhere Transience is not a fait accompli rather the actions of citizens residents and migrants even in the highly restrictive spaces of the Gulf show us that the future metropolis may very well not turn out to be a utopia of the few and a dystopia of the many This could be an illusion but it is a necessary illusion because the alternative is irrelevance The Vekaiyun D.L. Nighly,2019-09-04 It exists At least it has to exist right Somewhere between the wild expanse of the unknown and teetering on the scale of unrestrained innovation and morality must exist a specimen capable of complete and utter submission to the Vekaiyun Ideal Maybe there exists more than one specimen Perhaps these specimens if they exist merely need to be conditioned controlled and taught from an early age to bend to the wills and wants of the state Azsur Venavle and his array of like minded generals longed for such devoted subjects therefore it was made so One such individual Ikrisia Levinile known as Number Eight is among such rootless specimens and is a peculiar study Though a child she is quick to grasp advanced concepts and like her groupmates she is a capable tactician She was made that way after all Any vestige of compassion or emotional weaknesses appears to have been corrected leaving a clean slate ready to accept the dogma of the all important Vekaiyun state under Venavle s rule thereby ensuring his regime and those like his will remain intact for years to come Or so it appears Specimens can have souls They are more than a simple line of data tested against an algorithm of conditioned responses Perhaps there s something more to this Ikrisia Levinile that the analysts missed Perhaps there s another side that the cold hands of Azsur Venavle s subordinates haven t grasped Perhaps a change is slowly forming against the horizon Somewhere between the lines and existing only as harmless anomalies an independent soul an entity apart from the supplements and indoctrinations exists It exists At least it has to exist right Bengal, Past & Present ,1907 The Urban Design Reader Michael Larice,Elizabeth Macdonald,2013-05-07 The second edition of The Urban Design Reader draws together the very best of classic and contemporary writings to illuminate and expand the theory and practice of urban design Nearly 50 generous selections include seminal contributions from Howard Le Corbusier Lynch and Jacobs to more recent writings by Waldheim Koolhaas and Sorkin Following the widespread success of the first edition of The Urban Design Reader this updated edition continues to provide the most important historical material of the urban design field but also introduces new topics and selections that address the myriad challenges facing designers today The six part structure of the second edition guides the reader through the history theory and practice of urban design The reader is initially introduced to those classic writings that provide the historical precedents for city making into the twentieth century Part Two introduces the voices and ideas that were instrumental in establishing the foundations of the urban design field from the late 1950s up to the mid 1990s These authors present a critical reading of the design professions and offer an alternative urban design agenda focused on vital and lively places The authors in Part Three provide a range of urban design rationales and strategies for reinforcing local physical identity and the creation of memorable places These selections are largely describing the outcomes of mid century urban design and voicing concerns over the placeless quality of contemporary urbanism The fourth part of the Reader explores key issues in urban design and development Ideas about sprawl density community health public space and everyday life are the primary focus here Several new selections in this part of the book also highlight important international development trends in the Middle East and China Part Five presents environmental challenges faced by the built environment professions today including recent material on landscape urbanism sustainability and urban resiliency The final part examines professional practice and current debates in the field where urban designers work what they do their roles their fields of knowledge and their educational development The section concludes with several position pieces and debates on the future of urban design practice This book provides an essential resource for students and practitioners of urban design drawing together important but widely dispersed writings Part and section introductions are provided to assist readers in understanding the context of the material summary messages impacts of the writing and how they fit into the larger picture of the urban design field

Cosmopolitan Culture Bonnie Menes Kahn, 2002-06-07 From Simon Schuster
Cosmopolitan Culture is Bonnie Menes Kahn's exploration of the gilt edged dream of a tolerant city The author attempts to identify common features of great cities past and present Consequently the reader is shuttled breathlessly from Babylon to Constantinople to Vienna to New York with brief side junkets Kahn concludes that common characteristics of the great city meaning and purpose tolerance etc created an environment where outsiders felt welcome to join the cosmopolitan culture and in the process strengthen it Library Journal

Karl Marx David McLellan, 1973-12-01
Hermit in Paris Italo Calvino, 2014 A posthumously published collection of Italo Calvino's autobiographical writings recounting his experiences in Italy's antifascist resistance paying homage to his influences tracing the evolution of his literary style and commenting wryly on his travels in the United States

The "Underclass" Debate Michael B. Katz, 2018-06-05 Do ominous reports of an emerging underclass reveal an unprecedented crisis in American society Or are social commentators simply rediscovering the tragedy of recurring urban poverty as they seem to do every few decades Although social scientists and members of the public make frequent assumptions about these questions they have little information about the crucial differences between past and present By providing a badly needed historical context these essays reframe today's underclass debate Realizing that labels of social pathology echo fruitless distinctions between the deserving and undeserving poor the contributors focus not on individual and family behavior but on a complex set of processes that have been at work over a long period degrading the inner cities and inevitably the nation as a whole How do individuals among the urban poor manage to survive How have they created a dissident infrapolitics How have social relations within the urban ghettos changed What has been the effect of industrial restructuring on poverty Besides exploring these questions the contributors discuss the influence of African traditions on the family patterns of African Americans the origins of institutions that serve the urban poor the reasons for the crisis in urban education the achievements and limits of the War on Poverty and the role of income transfers earnings and the contributions of family members in overcoming poverty The message of the essays is clear Americans will flourish or fail together

Sweet Home Charles Scruggs, 1993 In this groundbreaking book Charles Scruggs identifies the black urban experience as a driving force behind the twentieth century Afro American novel resulting in a rich fictional tradition that runs from Paul Laurence Dunbar's The Sport of the Gods through Toni Morrison's Beloved Scruggs begins by discussing the treatment of the Great Migration to the city in Afro American writing from W E B DuBois and Dunbar through the Harlem writers establishing both the continuities and breaks between that tradition and that of the writers coming after the Depression He then considers how four post Harlem Renaissance novelists Richard Wright James Baldwin Ralph Ellison and Toni Morrison conceive of the modern city Scruggs shows how these four writers see the Afro American's relationship to elite popular and mass forms of culture in city life He also explores the ways in which their writing presents alternative spaces that exist alongside of and often counter to the visible configurations of the dominant culture

Liquid Metal Sean Redmond, 2005-01-19 Liquid Metal brings together seminal essays that have opened up the study of science fiction to serious critical interrogation Eight distinct sections cover such topics as the cyborg in science fiction the science fiction city time travel and the primal scene science fiction fandom and the 1950s invasion narratives Important writings by Susan Sontag Vivian Sobchack Steve Neale J P Telotte Peter Biskind and Constance Penley are included

The New Biographical Dictionary of Film David Thomson, 2010 Thomson independent scholar writing of The Biographical Dictionary of Film aka A Biographical Dictionary of the Cinema 1975 edition described it as a personal opinionated and obsessive biographical dictionary of the cinema Thirty five years and several editions later that description still holds true of this expanded work The new dictionary summarizes salient facts about its subjects lives and discusses their film credits in terms of the quality of the filmmakers work In ambition it has competitors including Leslie Halliwell's various editions of Halliwell's Filmgoers Companion 12th ed 1997 and Halliwell's Who's Who in the Movies edited by John Walker 4th ed rev and updated 2006 which cover films and technical terms categories not included in Thomson's but whose entries are neutral and exceedingly brief Additionally Francophile Richard Roud's edited Cinema A Critical Dictionary The Major Filmmakers 2 v 1980 is as passionate a work as Thomson's but narrower in scope with entries written by various experts rather than only by Roud Finally the multivolume magnum opus The International Dictionary of Films and Filmmakers 4th ed 2000 ed by T Pendergast and S Pendergast 2nd ed ed by N Thomas v 1 CH May 91 1st ed ed by C Lyon v 1 2 CH Jan 85 v 3 CH Apr 87 v 4 5 CH Jun 88 covers everything films directors actors writers and production artists with generous measured scholarly entries and lavish illustrations However it looms large and heavy unlike the handy one volume work by Thomson Arguably Thomson's work for its scope is the most fun the most convenient and the most engaging title All libraries supporting people interested in film should buy it It will get lots of use and provide very good value for the money
