Excerpt from The Life of Louis Claude De Saint Martin the Unknown Philosopher and the Substance of His Transcendental Doctrine: Amidst the fever of the French Revolution, we find certain men, whether actively or not participating in the turmoil of the time, whose intellectual eyes were fixed far off amidst the luminous peace of another and truer order. Here it is the Marquis de Condorcet while the chaotic forces of the Reign of Terror are surging madly round his quiet study. Again it is the author of Obermann in forlorn philosophic exile amidst the scented pines of Switzerland. And once more it is Louis Claude de Saint Martin as isolated amongst the peaks of his spiritual aspirations as ever was Etienne Pivert de Sancy amidst the Alpine snows. Of these three, all after their manner illustrious, Saint Martin only had a message of permanent importance to the human race. Condorcet was a materialist and in the restricted sense an infidel who looked to the State for salvation; his considerable gifts were useful perhaps in their day and he has passed with it not untenderly remembered but still to be classed among those whose prophecies have been made void and those whose tongues have failed. The ice of intellectual despair had enervated the soul of Senancour before he went to dwell under the shadow of Jaman, and he who rightly called himself un solitaire inconnu had no anodyne for himself or his age.
