Love's Shadow Paul A. Bové, 2021-01-12 A case for literary critics and other humanists to stop wallowing in their aestheticized helplessness and instead turn to poetry comedy and love Literary criticism is an agent of despair and its poster child is Walter Benjamin Critics have spent decades stewing in his melancholy What if instead we dared to love poetry to choose comedy over Hamlet's tragedy or to pursue romance over Benjamin's suicide on the edge of France of Europe and of civilization itself Paul A Bov challenges young lit critters to throw away their shades and let the sun shine in Love's Shadow is his three step manifesto for a new literary criticism that risks sentimentality and melodrama and eschews self consciousness The first step is to choose poetry There has been since the time of Plato a battle between philosophy and poetry Philosophy has championed misogyny while poetry has championed women like Shakespeare's Rosalind Philosophy is ever so stringent try instead the sober cheerfulness of Wallace Stevens Bov's second step is to choose the essay He praises Benjamin's great friend and sometime antagonist Theodor Adorno who gloried in writing essays not dissertations and treatises The third step is to choose love If you want a Baroque hero make that hero Rembrandt who brought lovers to life in his paintings Putting aside passivity and cynicism would amount to a revolution in literary studies Bov seeks nothing less and he has a program for achieving it

Epic and Elegy In each of them techniques of interpretation prevail isolated from contemporary ideas about poetry and dominated by barriers between textual exegetical and aesthetic criticism Kenneth Quinn discerns in Roman poetry of this period the adolescence maturity and decay of a single coherent tradition whose internal unity surpasses differences of form His argument attempts to reverse the dissociation of purely academic research from appreciative criticism whilst also incorporating the work of textual scholars Each chapter is supported by a detailed analysis of the texts nearly 700 lines of poetry are discussed and translated Latin Explorations will be of significant value not only to students of the Classics but also to the Latinless general reader who is interested in Roman literature      The Pattern in the Web Roma Alvah King,1990

Charles Williams has achieved considerable reputation for his novels He has been recognized as a brilliant theologian and a sensitive literary critic But Williams himself wished most to be remembered as a poet and trusted his future literary reputation to the two volume series of poems on the Arthurian theme Taliessin Through Logres and The Region of the Summer Stars Of the first volume Williams wrote The matter and the style require and reward attention The poems do not so much tell a story or describe a process as express states or principles of experience The names and incidents of the Arthurian myth are taken as starting points for investigation and statement on common and profound experience In this first full length study of these poems they receive in both matter and style the close attention that Williams requested The emphasis in this study is on the quality of these poems as poetry and only secondarily upon their religious content Although essentially Christian they are placed within the context of the multifaceted many changing forms of recurring myths Thus they represent one of the few attempts in the twentieth century to encapsulate and age old and ever recurring pattern in the web in a brilliant structure that is thoroughly modern      Greek Epigram from the Hellenistic to the Early Byzantine Era Maria Kanellou,Ivana Petrovic,Christopher Carey (Classicist),2019 The briefest of all ancient Greek genres epigram is also the most resilient This volume provides a selection of in depth treatments of key aspects of Greek literary epigram from the Hellenistic to the early Byzantine period rather than focusing on individual authors or anthologies in order to explore the evolution of the genre over time      The Cumulative Book Index ,1907 A world list of books in the English language
