Love Donor:

Love's Promises Martha M. Ertman, 2016-05-24 Blends memoir and legal cases to show how contracts can create family relationships Most people think of love and contracts as strange bedfellows or even opposites In Love's Promises however law professor Martha Ertman shows that far from cold and calculating contracts shape and sustain families Blending memoir and law Ertman delves into the legal cases anecdotes and history of family law to show that love comes in different packages each shaped by different contracts and mini contracts she calls deals Family law should and often does recognize that variety because legal rules like relationships aren't one size fits all The most common form of family which Ertman calls Plan A come into being through different kinds of agreements than the more uncommon families that she dubs Plan B Recognizing the contractual core of all families shows that Plan B is neither unnatural nor unworthy of legal recognition just different After telling her own moving and often irreverent story about becoming part of a Plan B family of two moms and a dad raising a child Ertman shows that all kinds of people straight and gay married and single related by adoption or by genetics use contracts to shape their relationships As couples navigate marriage reproductive technologies adoption and cohabitation they encounter contracts Sometimes hidden and other times openly acknowledged these contracts ensure that the people they think of as family are legally recognized as family in the eyes of the law Family exchanges can be substantial like vows of fidelity or small like I cook and you clean But regardless of scope the agreements shape the emotional social and financial terrain of family relationships Seeing the instrumental role contracts will help readers better understand how contracts and deals work in their own families as well as those around them Both insightful and paradigm shifting Love's Promises lets readers in on the power of contracts and deals to support love in its many forms and to honor the different ways that our nearest and dearest contribute to our daily lives Bailey & Love's Short Practice of Surgery - 28th Edition P. Psychonephrology 1 Norman B. Levy,2013-06-29 Major nephrological and psychological organizations have at best set aside only small portions of their programs for papers or panels devoted to the psychological aspect of patients with end stage renal disease Thus the increased need for information concerning the psychological aspects of end stage renal disease has been met by occasional journal articles professional peer discussions small portions of national conferences and informal conversations and consultations with people with clinical and research experience in these areas The First International Conference on Psychological Factors in Hemodialysis and Transplantation arose out of a need to have a forum in which the major people involved in treatment and research in this area could share their latest work among themselves and with the registrants The initial encouragement for organizing such a conference came from the rank and file of nephrology social workers nephrology nurses and liaison psychiatrists and psychologists In early 1977 I had decided that I would make an effort to organize such a meeting and asked the two other individuals most closely identified with major research in this area Atara Kaplan De Nour and Harry S Abram to join me in planning this conference With their support and suggestions concerning the program I embarked upon an attempt to raise financial backing for it I was somewhat surprised to find that the many equipment and drug companies supporting nephrological conferences were not greatly interested in this one

Ruskin Bond A Study of Human Emotions Dr. Sangeeta Paul Budhiraja, Literature challenges one not only to think about ethical conundrums but also makes one sensitive and compassionate When it blends with euphoria and nostalgia the integral parts of human mind it toughens and becomes sturdy Man loves to live in his past memories to be happy The experiences form a part of human personality and shape their behaviour pattern Nostalgia stores for us our memories which we relish lifelong Even the lamentable days of past become pleasant Though we might have ignored some not too pleasant incidents in our bygone days yet somewhat bitter experiences appear to be impressive and attractive It is aptly said that the panorama of mountains appear beautiful and splendid from a distance The bitterness of nearness is intolerable The more we grow in years the more our past recedes Distance from the life lived long ago makes it sweet and desirable Strain and stress of the present becomes frivolous when we slip and relapse into euphoric nostalgia The instincts of euphoria and nostalgia have been vividly handled by the legendary writers of all times They have given various dimensions and definitions to the readers to redeem these human aspects yet many more stones are still unturned These two instincts in the oeuvre of the legendary writer Ruskin Bond are the anchor points that suggest the scope of study I have chosen to put forward the very idea about how a man s body mind and soul blend with traces of his past memories and support the holistic growth Evolving Order George A. Richter, 1996 This book examines the outlook for the survival of humanity in the burgeoning threats to our species by our species The subject is addressed from many perspectives including the basic nature of the human psyche evolutionary theory quantum physics neuroscience the evolution of order as this process relates to the life forces of individual organisms their species Richter develops the brief that an optimistic prognosis for human survival is justified only if human beings can do more than pay lip service to the concept of free will Presented here is a strong scientific argument in support of the existence of free will as a valid human attribute The book is written to be understood not only by scientists but by interested non scientists as well Richter is a physical chemist who a few years ago began to wonder whether the human species can escape self extinction by its own clever devices Yin Yang Books 1479 Grasshopper Road Huntingdon Valley PA 19006 Phone 215 947 3240 Trees in Literatures and the Arts Carmen Concilio, Daniela Fargione, 2021-04-21 Embracing the intersectional methodological outlook of the environmental humanities the contributors to this edited collection explore the entanglements of cultures ecologies and socio ethical issues in the roles of trees and their relationships with humans through narratives in literature and art      The Lips Of Roses Multiple,2021-10-24 The Lips of Roses is a collection of poems based on love It is not only written on the love of spouses but also the love of parents self love nature etc The title of the book stands for its uniqueness in tasting literature especially in the genre of romance Various illustrious poets and poetesses have penned their hearty feelings by using soulful words in poems that take place in this book This anthology is always special for hearts that hold immense love to share with the world      A Treatise of Humanism Charles Thomas Taylor,2021-06-30 Today the human species is collectively confronting a complex existential crisis comprised of a number of diverse elements political economic religious technological and environmental The globalization of information and commerce has revealed to us the universality and interrelatedness of all of these factors A Treatise of Humanism is an attempt to address the human crisis through an examination of ourselves our past our possibilities for a future our common rational capacity which should give us hope and our common human nature As a philosophy of humanism this book shares many ideas with existentialism and it may in fact be viewed as a work of American existentialism focused on our common human condition and on what we may need to do to continue to survive and to thrive together not only as a species of life unified through reason but as an interrelated collectivity of unique human individuals
