

The background of the book cover is a photograph of an Art Deco building facade. It features light blue-grey panels with vertical lines and decorative gold-colored elements, including a large, ornate gold-colored structure in the upper right corner and smaller gold-colored details on the lower panels. The overall style is characteristic of the 1920s and 1930s architectural design.

Shulman, Bass Museum of Art, 2000 Yet what makes Miami Beach remarkable is not only the way in which Dixon and his colleagues used Art Deco to meet the local need for lower cost resort architecture but the way in which they adapted the style to incorporate local motifs and historical styles The result is the unique architecture of South Beach as it is now known the largely restored international vacation hotspot and the country's first twentieth century architectural district to be placed on the National Register of Historic Places Landscape of Transformations Michael W. Fazio, 2010 Landscape of Transformations presents a history of Birmingham's built environment and chronicles the development of the city as it became the dominant industrial powerhouse of the South during the nineteenth century and well into the twentieth This is a work of broad cultural interpretation integrating industrial and commercial architecture planned subdivision development and the housing of the urban poor while emphasizing the city's many transformations In an unusual approach Michael W Fazio interprets the human constructions and natural landscapes of Birmingham as his text a medium in which society has not only located and contained itself but also encoded its values for subsequent generations Fazio allows this landscape to speak openly sometimes eloquently and even tragically about historical events For example on the civil rights struggle rather than delving exclusively into political machinations and social structure the author considers some of the city's most important civil rights developments through their physical contexts the buildings streets and landscapes where they took place and looks for meaning in them In addition Fazio traces the history of Birmingham through the events circumstances and personalities that have shaped the city The book begins with an exploration of the preindustrial landscape continues with a look at the development of the iron and steel industries and culminates with an analysis of the planning developments that produced the University of Alabama in Birmingham and its medical center which replaced declining heavy industry as foundations of the local economy Richly illustrated with black and white and color photographs maps and drawings Landscape of Transformations is one of the few studies to focus on industrial cities of the heartland Architectural historians urban planners and historic preservationists will be fascinated by this profound story of coal iron architecture and the people behind the emerging personality of a leading southern city Michael W Fazio is professor emeritus in the School of Architecture at Mississippi State University He is coauthor of Buildings Across Time An Introduction to World Architecture and The Domestic Architecture of Benjamin Henry Latrobe The Cumulative Book Index ,1997 A world list of books in the English language Encyclopedia of World's Fairs and Expositions John E. Findling, Kimberly D. Pelle, 2008 This encyclopedia contains individual histories of each of the nearly 100 World's Fairs and expositions held in more than 20 countries since 1851 This revised and updated second edition of the book originally published as A Historical Dictionary of World's Fairs and Expositions in 1990 includes new entries including essays on the World's Fairs that will be held in Zaragoza Spain in 2008 and in Shanghai China in 2010 Many of the original essays have been revised and expanded The topics covered include goods tourism architecture art and culture and exhibition fatigue Each fair history includes its own annotated bibliography which provides when possible the location of relevant primary sources and comments on the quality of secondary sources Several appendices provide information on the Bureau of International Expositions as well as fair statistics fair officials fairs that did not qualify for inclusion and fairs that were planned but never held The book includes a foreword by Vicente G Loscertales the secretary general of the Bureau of International Expositions
